* Observations for five days.

tion.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the same day of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky fall, the normal means are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisions (4.4), the total rainfall at the sub-divisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy ALCUTTA, the 21st November 1884.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 21ST NOVEMBER 1884.

The weather in Bengal during the past week was of the usual cold-weather character. The barometric changes were small in amount, the temperature low and below the average, the air dry, and skies clear. The steadiness of the conditions in Bengal and at the head of the Bay appears to be largely due to the continuance of strong north-east monsoon winds on the Coromandel coast, which accompanies a very marked tendency to deficient pressure in the south-west of the Bay. This has been a permanent feature of the meteorology of the past six weeks. The logs of several vessels received in the Bengal Meteorological Office show that unusually heavy rain fell during the early part of the past week (i.e. from the 11th to the 16th) in the south-east and centre of the Bay. It is described in one log as "deluges of rain," and in another as "torrents of rain." This excessive rainfall at sea apparently accompanied or gave rise to a small cyclonic disturbance, the existence of which was first shown by the Madras coast observations of the 18th and 19th. It increased slightly in intensity on the 20th, and passed across the Coromandel coast on the morning of the 21st. The indraught to this from the north slightly intensified the northerly winds at the head of the Bay, and gave the weather in Bengal the steady character it had during the week. The chief feature of the week was unusually low temperature. The mean temperature of the week was 5° below the normal temperature in Orissa, 3° in South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and Behar, and 1° in East Bengal. This was chiefly due to the abnormally low night temperatures which at several stations in the interior were frequently from 5° to 8° below the normal night temperature.

Pressure—Was very steady during the greater part of the week. The disturbance in the south of the Bay reduced pressure in Bengal slightly below the average until the 20th. The passage inland of the storm on the 21st was accompanied with a moderate rise of the barometer, and pressure was on the 21st for the only time during the week above the average. The mean pressure of the week was $\cdot 04$ " in defect in Orissa and South-West Bengal, $\cdot 05$ " in East Bengal, and from $\cdot 01$ " to $\cdot 03$ " in Behar and Chutia Nagpur.

Temperature—Was, as it has been for some weeks past, considerably below the average. The maximum day temperature was, for the whole province, 2° in defect, and the minimum night temperature 4° below the average. The mean daily temperature of the Province was thus 3° below the normal temperature of the week. The following table gives data for comparison of the mean maximum and minimum temperature of the week with the normal in the case of several stations.

				MAXIMUM DAY TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.	MINIMUM NIGHT TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.

Wind and cloud.—Light westerly winds prevailed in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, and light to moderate north-westerly to north-easterly winds in Bengal and Orissa. The skies were cloudless during the greater part of the week, and no rain fell in any part of the Province.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 21st November 1884 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph. The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDA.

THE returns received from the first class Municipalities in Bengal, during the week ending 8th November 1884, disclose the following results:—

1. That during the week in question births and deaths were recorded in the proportions, respectively, of 28·4 and 38·5 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to 21·9 and 31·3 per 1,000, respectively, during the preceding week ending 1st November, indicating a considerable rise in the registration of both events.

2. That these events were returned at the highest rates by the undermentioned Municipalities:—

Births.			Deaths.
		Ratio per mille.			Ratio per mille.
Serampore	52·9	Poori	156·3
Bhagulpore	52·4	Dacca	68·3
Ranaghat	42·0	Chittagong	65·7
Mozufferpore	40·2	Suburbs of Calcutta	48·4
Durbhanga	39·4	Mozufferpore	43·7
Howrah	39·0	Bhagulpore	43·4
Dacca	35·6	Durbhanga	41·7
Hughli	33·6	Purneah	41·6
Gya	32·1	Burdwan	39·7
			Darjeeling	39·1
			Kishnaghur	37·8
			Naraingunge	37·2
			Midnapore	35·6
			Gya	32·8
			Howrah	30·6
			Jessore	30·6
			Ranaghat	30·0

3 That the principal diseases, specified in the table appended to this memoranda, furnished the death-rates indicated below:—

			Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
			8th November 1884.	1st November 1884.
Cholera	4·8	2·0
Small-pox	·2	·1
Fever	17·9	15·1
Bowel-complaints	5·7	4·5
Injury	·5	·2
Other causes	9·4	9·4

The above figures denote that, in comparison with the preceding week, there occurred during the week under review a noticeable increase of mortality from cholera, fever and bowel-complaints, particularly from the two first-named diseases.

4. That while small-pox and bowel-complaints were nowhere conspicuously fatal, the rest of the death-causes exhibited their greatest activity in the undermentioned Municipalities:—

Cholera.		Fever.		Injury.		Other Causes.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
Poori ...	102·7	Purneah ...	38·1	Beauleah ...	13·1	Poori ...	27·8

Mozufferpore ...	4·8	Burdwan ...	22·9			Hughli ...	10·7
Suburbs of Calcutta ...	4·5	Midnapore ...	21·7			Gya ...	10·2

It will be noticed that cholera prevailed with abnormal virulence in Poori and with marked severity in Chittagong. Fever is also seen to have prevailed with great fatality in Purneah, Jessore, Chittagong and Ranaghat.

5. That the death-rates under the heads of Sex, Class and Age, stand as noted below:—

According to Sex.		According to Class.		According to Age.

DECREASE.

Edible grains	Tons.
This decrease is due to partial failure of paddy crops for want of early rain.	138
Sundries	48
This decrease is due to less import for want of purchasers.	46
Coal	46
This decrease is due to previous stock not exhausted.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th November 1884.—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, No. XIX of 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules for the working of the Act:—

1. Loans under these rules will be made from such sums as the local Government may from time to time allot to the Board of Revenue.
2. Commissioners will submit, by the 15th October of each year, an estimate of the requirements for loans under the Act for each of the districts of their divisions for the ensuing financial year; and when orders thereon are received from Government and an allotment is made, the Board will distribute as funds are available. It will be in the power of Commissioners to divide the sum so allotted among the districts of their divisions at their discretion, and to transfer assignments from one district to another, but expenditure in the division must be kept within the amount assigned.
3. In these rules Collector has the meaning defined for it by the Act.
4. Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Collector may sanction loans not exceeding Rs. 1,000 for purposes specified in the Act, provided the district allotment must not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the division. Loans exceeding Rs. 1,000 require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board. In such cases the Commissioner or the Board may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion on the project, as may seem necessary.
5. Applications for loans may be presented to any revenue officer, of or above the rank of a Canoongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for transmission to the Collector.
6. The application shall be made in writing as nearly as possible in the annexed Form A.

7. The Collector shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by a revenue officer not below the rank of a Canoongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of form A.

8. (a) When the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, no collateral security need be required. (b) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally as provided in section 9 of the Act, their personal surety shall be sufficient. (c) In all cases not covered by clause (a) or clause (b) of this rule, immoveable property shall be hypothecated by the applicant as collateral security.

9. Repayment shall be by half-yearly instalments. The date of the first instalment shall not exceed two years from the date of the loan, and shall, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, be fixed with reference to the time when the improvement will begin to yield a return.

10. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily exceed ten years from the date of the loan, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement. With the sanction of the Board of Revenue, the time for repayment may in special cases be extended to 20 years.

11. If the proposed improvements fall within the provisions of section 11, clause (2) of the Act, and the security offered is good and sufficient, the Collector may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered to do so. Otherwise he shall forward the application with his report to his superior officer for disposal.

12. If the loan be sanctioned, the applicant shall be required to sign a certificate in the annexed Form B, and, when his interest in the land to be improved is not sufficient to cover the loan, to execute, together with his sureties, if any, a bond in the annexed Form C or Form D as the case may be.

13. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and payment of the loan shall be made at the district or sub-divisional treasury on its presentation.

14. (a) The rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

(b) But the local Government may for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(c) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, charge interest on it at any rate not exceeding $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

15. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in annexed Form E, which shows the amount of equal half-yearly payments necessary to re-pay a loan advanced with interest at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

16. The dates for payment of instalments shall usually be the dates fixed for payment of the land revenue.

17. Instalments may be suspended by order and at the discretion of the Collector on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report the suspension through the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

18. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection from time to time of works undertaken under the Act. In all cases the work shall be inspected within one month after the expiration of the time within which completion was directed in the certificate.

19. If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

20. When any portion of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, a special report shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

21. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 800 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Aganv opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary.

FORT WILLIAM, the 24th November 1884.

No. 1253B.

NOTICE is hereby given that the First Sale of Opium, the provision of 1882-83 and 1883-84, will be held at the Government Opium Sale-room, No. 2, Bankshall-street, on Monday the 5th January 1885, at 11 A.M., and will comprise 4,166 chests, viz:—

Read again :—

Resolution No. 1932I.A., dated the 22nd October 1883, on the administration report of the Calcutta and Eastern canals and Nuddea rivers for the year 1882-83.

RESOLUTION.—The resolution of the 22nd October 1883 was the first issued since the year 1872. It was on the report for the year 1882-83, but in it the results of the working for the ten preceding years were only briefly noticed.

2. It is observed that commencing with the month of April 1883, statements showing the amount of traffic and tolls on these canals and rivers are published monthly by the Public Works Department in the Calcutta Gazette for general information. The following abstracts which have been prepared from these statements show the traffic each month during the year 1883-84, as compared with that of the corresponding month of the previous year.

Calcutta and Eastern Canals.

4. At the commencement of the year under review, a brief history of the Calcutta and Eastern canals and the new Chitpore lock prepared by

Mr. R. B. Buckley, who was, at the time, Executive Engineer of the Circular and Eastern Canals Division, was submitted by the Superintending Engineer of the South-Western Circle, when orders were given to remove these canals with effect from the 1st April 1883, to the category of Provincial Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept.

5. The following statement shewing the Capital and Revenue Accounts for and up to the end of the year 1883-84 has been compiled by the Examiner of Public Works Accounts after consulting the Board. The accounts have not yet been finally accepted, but they are considered to be the best that can be prepared under the circumstances of the case. In the statement, as now published interest on capital expenditure at the rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. to the end of 1880-81 and at 4 per cent. subsequently has been charged. It will be noticed that the total cost (Capital Account) of the canals up to the 1st of April last was Rs. 52,51,534 and that the total receipts had amounted to Rs. 1,75,62,487, against which must be charged working expenses Rs. 65,04,960 and interest on capital expended Rs. 65,61,871, leaving a balance in favour of the canals of Rs. 44,95,656. It is now proposed to carry out considerable improvements and extensions in the canal system, including the locking of Tolly's Nullah, which is a necessary adjunct of the proposed docks at Kidderpore, at a cost, as approximately estimated, of Rs. 65,00,000. This expenditure, however, depends on the possibility of arrangements being made to carry out the works from loan funds, as notwithstanding their undoubted remunerativeness, the canals have resulted in a net charge to the province during the last six years of Rs. 7,75,777, all expenditure capital and otherwise having been provided from provincial revenues. If it had only been necessary to meet the charge of interest on the capital outlay, in addition to working expenses, there would have been a net profit during the same period of Rs. 2,38,701.

6. Turning to the operations of the year, the revenue has remained nearly stationary, the total receipts having been Rs. 5,64,101 against Rs. 5,64,194 received in the year previous. There has, however, been a very considerable reduction in the working expenses, as the expenditure on renewals debitable to revenue account has been Rs. 7,771 only against Rs. 1,11,985, expended on similar works in the previous year. The final result thus shows a net revenue of Rs. 3,32,070 against Rs. 2,37,297 for 1882-83. In the detailed statements given at paragraph 2, it will be noticed that the tollage received from boats using Tolly's Nullah is markedly less than that collected in the previous year, whilst there is a corresponding increase in the receipts from tolls on boats using the Circular Canals. This is explained by the fact that the Chitpore Lock, leading into the river Hooghly, was open throughout the year, whilst in the year preceding Tolly's Nullah formed the only outlet into the river up to the middle of February when the Chitpore Lock was opened.

7. The number of boats on which tollage was paid during the year was 1,81,301 against 2,10,018 in that preceding, being a decrease of 28,717: this falling off is attributed to the short crop of jute and rice in the districts served by the canals. It is noticeable that of the decrease no less than 20,240 was in boats of under 25 maunds burden. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division rightly remarks that some increase in the traffic might fairly have been looked for, considering the increased facilities for through communication with the Hooghly afforded by the new Chitpore Lock; and there has in fact been an improvement in almost all items except those affected by the bad crops of last year. Some particulars regarding these are given below.

8. During the year a Committee was appointed to report on the working and management of the canals and was engaged from November to beyond the close of the year in enquiring into matters connected therewith. The Committee's report has, it is understood, been submitted to the Board of Revenue, and will be considered by Government later on. In the meantime the Commissioner states that the transfer of the toll station from Balliaghatta to Dhappa sanctioned on the recommendation of the Committee has been found to work well. A new form of ticket has also been experimentally introduced. It appears that the number of uncollected tickets has fallen off during the year from 5,459 to 3,086. The large number of missing tickets is not satisfactory, and the subject should receive the Board's attention in forwarding the Committee's report for the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Nuddea Rivers.

9. The net revenue derived from these rivers for 1883-84 has amounted to Rs. 77,559 against Rs. 66,293 received in 1882-83. The total expenditure including Public Works charges was Rs. 1,25,275, being an increase of Rs. 8,661 over that incurred in the previous year. The increase in the collections which was general as regards the toll stations on the Bhagiruthee and Mathabangha rivers is said to be due to (1) the good state of the river Mathabangha in the earlier part of the year, (2) changes in the locations of the toll stations, and (3) careful supervision of the measurements of the boats; whilst the decline in the receipts from the Jellinghee river was owing to the early and unusual fall in the river. The Mathabangha was kept open throughout the year for empty boats by extra expenditure and constant attention on the part of the Public Works staff. A line of steamers under native agency ran from Calcutta to Kutwa during the rainy season of the year; and the number of steamers and flats passing up the Mathabangha river increased, owing to the Assam Trading Company's vessels using this route for the first time. It does not appear whether the obstruction to traffic at Hanskali noticed in the Commissioner's report was brought to the notice of the Executive or Superintending Engineer.

10. The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for their valuable reports. Their remarks on the conduct, during the year, of the officers serving under them have been noted.

cattle-disease by inoculation, I forward for your consideration, and for communication to the Government of the Punjab, copies of the correspondence and documents noted in the margin.

2. I shall be glad to learn the result of your consideration of this important subject, and also what success attended the trial of the vaccine provided by M. Pasteur on the occasions alluded to in the enclosure of his letter.

Dated Foreign Office, the 24th March 1884.

From—EDMOND FITZMAURICE, Esq.,

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I AM directed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to transmit to you, to be laid before the Earl of Kimberley, with reference to your letter No. R. S. and C. 347 of the 29th ultimo, a despatch from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, enclosing a copy of a letter from M. Pasteur with two sub-enclosures, giving information as to inoculation against cattle-disease.

List.

45 Rue d'Ulm, Paris, the 19th March 1884.

From—L. PASTEUR, Esq., of the French Institute,

To—LORD LYONS.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 15th March instant, in which you ask me, at the instance of the East India Government, the means to be adopted for the prevention of cattle-diseases in the Punjab, specially the splenic fever due to the presence of the bacillus anthracis.

2. This problem has been well tested and finally solved by the French in a most efficacious manner by means of a double inoculation made after an interval of from 12 to 15 days of liquids called "vaccins charbonneux," which are prepared by the help of the bacillus anthracis, and which attenuates by two degrees its fatal virulence.

3. The book enclosed, entitled Le charbon et la vaccination charbonneuse is composed by Mr. Chamberland from data obtained from my laboratory, and the information therein given will make you acquainted with the method of mitigating or attenuating the deadly virus, and the first results obtained in France in the years 1881 and 1882.

4. Though these last results are very satisfactory, those of the year 1883, by a progressive improvement of the means adopted, are even much more so. The rate of mortality due to vaccination alone cannot be more than one per thousand on five hundred thousand vaccinated cattle (viz. bullocks, sheep, cows, and horses).

5. Can we transmit to India the practice of vaccination and expect the same good results as in France? Certainly, but on one condition, and that is, that in India the same method must be followed as in France, and by that I understand that they shall make use chiefly of good and freshly prepared "vaccins."

In other words, if such an establishment for the preparation of good "vaccins" could be created in India, the results obtained would be the same as those realized in France, but as the "vaccins" under consideration undergo a change in time, and lose their efficacy if they are kept by for a long time, it is always easy to renew them and restore them to their former condition, even in India, after an interval of the time required for transmission from Paris to that far-off country.

6. We could then despatch from France to India the necessary seeds to supply the small establishment which I have referred to, and an intelligent young man somewhat conversant with chemical studies, could come and familiarise himself with the cultivation of the "vaccins" by remaining, in the first instance, two or three weeks, or a month at most, in my Paris Laboratory before proceeding to India.

7. There is another way open, and that will consist of reproducing in India, ab ovo, all the manipulations and indispensable ingredients for the production and preservation of the two "vaccins," by following the instructions laid down in my publications inserted in 1881 in the Compte rendues of the Academy of Sciences.

I fancy, however, that this mode of procedure would be a task of great difficulty.

Nothing is easier than to obtain the bacillus anthracis attenuated and vaccinal; but that which is of the utmost importance is the test of its efficacy on the flocks, and as such indispensable, in order to establish the exact state of the vaccinal virulence of the two "vaccins."

8. All this has been done previously with the greatest care in my laboratory, and need not be repeated as far as France is concerned. We always make use of the same "vaccins" renewed by cultivation for the requirements of the French cultivators.

9. I advise you to adopt the same method for India, that is to say, the same French "vaccins."

In conclusion, I would advise you to send to Paris a young man who would learn in my laboratory the cultivation of "vaccins." He could then proceed to India and erect a small establishment according to the instructions which I shall give him. He could even bring away from France all the necessary material for this establishment, which are not at all complicated, and would only cost at the outside not more than 5 or 6,000 francs.

In my Paris laboratory the seeds of the "vaccins" and even the liquids for cultivation are all ready for sowing, and these could be despatched according to your Indian requirements.

Should you wish for greater details, I shall ask Mr. Chamberland, to whom I have entrusted the use of "vaccins charbonneux" to put himself in communication with any person you may be pleased to appoint.

Herewith enclosed—

1. The work above indicated.

2. List of "vaccins," already sent to India, with the date of despatch.

I have not yet received any information on the results arrived at.

asking for information embodying the results of investigations regarding the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation, I have the honour to enclose a copy of a letter which I have received from

M. Pasteur, the eminent Physiologist. M. Pasteur, whose kindness and quickness in answering enquiries which I addressed to him, I need hardly point out, states that the means for preventing cattle-diseases, and especially splenic fever due to the presence of the bacillus anthracis, have been discovered and successfully applied in France. He forwards Mr. Charles Chamberland's book entitled "Le Charbon et la Vaccination Charbonneuse," which I beg to enclose, and says the results of the years 1881 and 1882, which it embodies, are surpassed by those of 1883. M. Pasteur thinks that the practice of vaccination can easily be extended to India, provided good "vaccins" freshly prepared are used in every case. That object can be attained by creating an establishment for the preparation of "vaccins" in India. For that purpose he suggests that an intelligent chemist should be sent to his laboratory for a month, who would be able within that time to acquire the necessary experience before starting to found the establishment in India. He considers this course preferable to the alternative course of making successive experiments for the attenuation of virus as done by himself in this country.

The person to whom the Indian establishment might be entrusted would be able to obtain from M. Pasteur all the elements required for the purpose at an expenditure not exceeding 5 or 6,000 francs (£200 to £240). He could always have the vaccins and liquids for cultivation of the bacillus anthracis from the Pasteur Laboratory.

Dated India Office, the 30th April 1884.

From—J. A. GODLEY, Esq., C.B., Under-Secretary of State for India,
To—The Chief Clerk, Veterinary Department, 44 Parliament St., S. W.

I AM directed by the Secretary of State for India to forward, for your information, copy of the correspondence marginally noted, and to request that you will be so good as to favour His Lordship with the opinion of the Veterinary Department whether it will be desirable to recommend to the Government of India to give effect to the proposals conveyed in M. Pasteur's letter of the 19th March.

Lord Kimberley would be glad to learn to what extent, and with what success, inoculation has been tried in this country as a remedy against cattle-disease.

I am to add that it would appear that M. Pasteur's system is prophylactic, chiefly against anthrax or splenic fever, a disease which is not the most destructive among cattle-diseases in India.

Dated Privy Council Office, Westminster, S. W., the 15th May 1884.

From—C. L. PEEL, Esq.,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I HAVE submitted to the Lords of the Council your letter of the 30th ultimo, transmitting copies of correspondence from the Government of India seeking information concerning the practice and utility of inoculation for cattle-diseases, and I am directed in reply to transmit to you a copy of a memorandum (with enclosures) on the subject by the professional officer of this department.

Memorandum referring to the communication from the India Office, dated April 30th, 1884.

In this country inoculation for cattle-disease has been chiefly confined to contagious pleuro-pneumonia. There is a great deal of difference of opinion as to the extent and duration of the protective effect of the operation. The results of my own enquiries and experiments are contained in the extracts which I enclose.

I also forward a pamphlet by Dr. Willems, who first employed the operation in Belgium.

When sheep-pox appeared in this country in 1846, inoculation was practised to some extent, and it was found that the mortality from the disease was much reduced. In subsequent outbreaks, however, the disease was extinguished by slaughter of the diseased sheep and frequently of those which were in contact with them.

Inoculation for cattle-plague has not been adopted in this country, and inoculation for anthrax has only been carried on here experimentally, as the disease has never prevailed extensively among our stock.

which may be procurable, embodying the results of investigations made in France and elsewhere regarding the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation.

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I AM directed by Earl Granville to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 29th ultimo (No. 347 R. S. & C.), with its enclosure, containing an application on the part of the Indian Government for any information which may be procurable, embodying the results of investigations made in France and elsewhere regarding the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation.

I am in reply to state, for the information of the Earl of Kimberley in Council, that Lord Granville has requested Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris to take steps with a view of procuring the particulars on this subject desired by the Government of India, so far as France is concerned.

I am to add that upon receipt of further copies of the Indian Government letter, with an intimation as to the particular countries (besides France) to which enquiries on the matter in question should be addressed, Lord Granville will be happy to issue further instructions to Her Majesty's Representatives thereon.

WITH reference to Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice's letter of the 6th instant, I am directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to forward two additional copies of the despatch from the Government of India, No. 1 (Revenue and Agricultural Department), dated 22nd January last, regarding the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation.

I am to add that the Earl of Kimberley is unable to state with certainty what are the particular countries besides France in which enquiries on the matter might advantageously be made. It is evident, however, from the last enclosure in the above mentioned despatch that considerable attention has been directed to the subject in Germany, and the researches made in that country would doubtless prove of service to the Government of India.

Lord Ampthill, No. 76 (Commercial), dated 21st June.

No. 76 (Commercial), dated Berlin, the 21st June 1884.

From—LORD AMPHILL, G.C.B., Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador at Berlin,
To—The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

IN reply to your Lordship's No. 30 of this series of the 29th March last, I have the honour to enclose herewith, in copy and translation, a note which I have received from the German Minister for Foreign Affairs, embodying the information which I was instructed to obtain for the Indian Government in regard to the results of any experiments made in Germany for the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation.

The four printed enclosures in Dr. Busch's note, herewith enclosed in original, contain all the available information respecting the experiments made in Prussia and in Brunswick by inoculation on the "Pasteur" system.

The system seems not to have been tried in any other German State.

Translation of a note by Dr. Busch, German Minister for Foreign Affairs,—(dated Berlin the 17th June 1884.)

THE undersigned has the honour to forward the following information to Lord Ampthill, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, in reply to his note of the 1st April last, respecting the scientific enquiries and practical experiments instituted in Germany with a view to the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation.

An investigation directed by the Prussian Minister for Agriculture, Domains and Forests, into the effects of inoculation of pulmonary disease, is described at length in the article of the Archives of Scientific and Practical Veterinary Research, of which a separate printed copy is hereto annexed (enclosure A.)

The use of the ordinary inoculation of pulmonary disease remains at the present time as much an open question as 30 years ago.

Various experiments have been made in Prussia on the effects of inoculation of splenic fever according to the treatment of Pasteur.

(1) On the Packesch domain in the province of Liebenweida. The experiment is described in enclosure B. At the conclusion of July 1st, 1882, there were on the establishment—

(a) Inoculated—

83 head of cattle.
145 sheep and 121 lambs.

(b) Not inoculated—

122 sheep and 93 lambs.

Of these, up to May 14th, 1883, there died of splenic fever—

2 head of inoculated cattle.
4 inoculated sheep.
10 uninoculated sheep.

The experiment was repeated in the year 1883.

In May 1883—

82 head of cattle,
176 sheep and 147 lambs

were inoculated, while

2 head of cattle,
50 sheep and 56 lambs

remained uninoculated.

In consequence of the inoculation 4 sheep died. Up to the end of March 1884, there died of splenic fever—

1 beast which had been inoculated.
1 beast which had not been inoculated.

Among the sheep no splenic fever occurred.

In pursuance of instructions from the Minister of Agriculture, Domains and Forests, a second repetition of the experiment is taking place at the present time.

(2) On the Dhonie property, in the province of Kroben, there were inoculated in the months of June and July 1882—

247 head of cattle.
4 horses.

Of these there died in consequence of the inoculation 26 sheep and 1 calf.

Further, of the animals inoculated, there died up to June 1st, 1883, of splenic fever—

4 head of cattle.
9 sheep.

In December 1882 there were inoculated —

321 sheep and
24 head of cattle,

which had been bought since the month of July, and added to the stock.

Of these, 2 sheep died in consequence of the inoculation.

In March 1883 were inoculated—

243 sheep,
10 calves,

and in December 1883—

106 sheep,
18 calves.

Of the whole number of inoculated beasts between July 1883 and the end of February 1884, there died of splenic fever—

2 head of cattle.
7 sheep.

(3) On a property in Gossleben, in the province of Eckartsberg, there were 81 head of cattle inoculated on the 31st July and the 14th August 1882. Of these there died in January 1883, 2 beasts; in March 1883, 1 beast.

(4) Of thirty-three head of cattle inoculated on an estate in Canuowurf, in the province of Eckartsberg, in September 1882, two died of splenic fever in May 1883.

The result of an experiment in inoculation at Salzdahlum, in the Duchy of Brunswick, has not been completely ascertained.

More exact information as to the inoculatory experiments at Dhonie and at Canuowurf, as well as a short communication on the inoculation at Salzdahlum, will be found in enclosures C and D.

In the non-Prussian Federal States, in which inoculation has been tried at all, with the exception of the experiments described in the enclosure, which was made at Salzdahlum in the Duchy of Brunswick, the process followed has been the usual form of treatment which has obtained in other countries, and also in England, but more modern investigations and experiments have not been set on foot there.

The undersigned, in transmitting the enclosures referred to, avails himself, &c., &c.

To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I AM directed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to transmit to you, to be laid before the Earl of Kimberley, with reference and in reply to your letter of March 25th, a despatch as noted in the margin, respecting cattle-disease in Austria.

WITH reference to your Lordship's despatch No. 9 of this series of the 28th of March last, forwarding a copy of a letter from the Indian Government, applying for information embodying the results of investigation regarding the prevention of cattle-disease by inoculation, so far as Austria is concerned, I have the honour to forward to your Lordship a translation of Count Kalovsky's answer to the note which I addressed to His Excellency on the subject on the 2nd April last, with its enclosures.

Translation.

ON receipt of the honoured note of the 2nd April last, the Imperial and Royal Ministry for Foreign Affairs requested the respective Ministries of both sections of the monarchy to give information respecting the results obtained by the trials made in Austria-Hungary to prevent animal diseases by inoculating.

The Imperial and Royal House Ministry (Austria) accordingly gave the following information :—

On the proposition of the Austrian Veterinarians, inoculation was admitted in the Law of the 29th of February 1880, R. G. B. 35, respecting the prevention and suppression of contagious animal diseases, only as far as regards pulmonary contagious diseases amongst horned cattle, and on impending contagious diseases, namely, pox amongst sheep. Respecting pulmonary contagious disease amongst horned cattle, paragraph 28 of the above law; and the Ministerial Ordinance of the 19th of March 1883, R. G. B. 35, respectively enact that the inoculation of pulmonary disease must only take place in stables already infected by this disease (inoculation in extremis) and in farms of infected villages threatened with the disease (precautionary inoculation) on the demand of the proprietor of the cattle at his risk and under the supervision of the Official Veterinarian, and provided that the decreed measures for isolation do not thereby suffer.

Respecting the contagious sheep-pox, paragraph 30 of the above law enacts as follows :—

"In case the appearance of this disease has been declared, and when the isolation of the sick animals from the sound cannot take place, or in case sickness amongst a flock acquires larger proportions, the inoculation (in extremis) of the animals still free from infection is to be carried through.

"On impending danger of the infection being carried to neighbouring flocks, the district authorities are authorized to order that such flocks may be inoculated.

"The proprietor of a flock requires, for the precautionary inoculation of his flock, the authorization of the district authorities with respect to veterinary police measures, the inoculated sheep are to be treated exactly like those infected by the pox.

"The slaughtering of sheep infected by the pox for the purpose of meat consumption is prohibited."

The inoculation in extremis of the contagious pulmonary disease was indeed tried in several provinces, as for instance, in Lower Austria, Moravia, and Galicia. The results, however, obtained by such inoculation have not been represented as having been of a favourable nature.

No precautionary inoculation of this disease has taken place, nor any scientific nor experimental investigations according to Pasteur's system respecting the inoculation of the contagious pulmonary disease and the mortification of the spleen. It is, therefore, impossible to give any information derived from experience respecting the same.

The pox was noticed in 1880 and 1881 only in the Provinces of Lower Austria and of Dalmatia. Well tended, the animals easily got over the sickness, and neither inoculations in extremis nor as a precautionary measure took place, the isolation having been found sufficient for preventing the spread of the sickness.

The Royal Hungarian Ministry of Commerce reported that in Hungary the inoculation of the animals according to Pasteur's system has been tried by several veterinarians and landed estate proprietors, whereby only very moderate results were effected. The said Ministry also transmitted two publications, of which, the one in German, by Dr. Azary, treats of the precautionary inoculation against the mortification of the spleen, and the second by Mr. Jacob, written in the Hungarian language, treats of precautionary inoculation against contagious pulmonary disease.

The undersigned, having the honour to report this to His Excellency Sir Augustus Paget, and enclosing the two above-named publications, embraces this opportunity, &c., &c.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Bockley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* Observations for six days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the year. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 100. The normal means of rainfall are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisions of the district (4.e.), the total rainfall at the sub-divisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A 1 period for the past ten years. The variations are negatives when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positives when greater. by 10. The number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "district observations" for the period in question during the past 12 years. The means for the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall returns received May is one on which at least an hundredth of an inch fell.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS
TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 28TH NOVEMBER 1884.

The weather of the past week in Bengal was seasonable in character, and calls for few remarks. Pressure increased slowly and steadily during the week, and was considerably above the average at the end of the week. Temperature was below the normal. The mean daily temperature was about $2\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ below the average temperature of the season throughout the Province. The deficiency was chiefly due to the unusually low night temperature. The minimum night temperature was 4° in defect, whilst the maximum was only 1° below the average. The persistent low temperature of the past month is mainly due to the unusual steadiness of the northerly and westerly winds, and the increased dryness of the air in Bengal, which usually accompanies a strong north-east monsoon on the Madras coast; skies were generally clear, and no rain fell during the week in the Province.

Pressure increased very steadily during the week, and was generally above the average. The mean pressure of the week was from '04" to '05" in excess in Orissa, Bengal, and Behar, and was slightly greater in East Bengal than elsewhere.

Temperature was below the average. The deficiency was most marked in the night temperature, which was frequently from 4° to 7° below the normal. The following table gives the normal and actual mean maximum and minimum temperatures at eight typical stations and illustrates the temperature variations of the past week:—

			MAXIMUM DAY TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.	MINIMUM NIGHT TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.
			Normal average for week.	Actual average of week.		Normal average for week.	Actual average of week.

The mean temperature of the week was nearly 4° below the normal mean of the week in Orissa, 1° in Chutia Nagpur, and 2° to 3° in Behar and Bengal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 28th November 1884:—

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 1st December 1884.

H. F. BLANFORD.
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

MEMORANDA.

DURING the week ending 15th November 1884, the birth and death-rates of the first class Municipalities in Bengal stood at 26·7 and 37·2 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 28·4 and 38·5 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 8th November, showing a decrease in the registration of both events.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.				Deaths.
			Ratio per mille.				Ratio per mille.
Mozufferpore	53·5	Poori	70·6
Serampore	49·1	Dacca	64·3
Durbhanga	40·9	Chittagong	63·4
Santipore	38·6	Suburbs of Calcutta	52·1
Gya	35·6	Purneah	51·9
Bhagulpore	34·4	Jessore	49·0
Ranaghat	30·0	Burdwan	45·8
Burdwan	29·0	Kishnaghur	45·5
Howrah	29·0	Naraingunge	45·5
				Santipore	43·8
				Beauleah	39·4
				Bhagulpore	37·1
				Gya	36·2
				Mozufferpore	31·6
				Serampore	31·4
				Hooghly	30·9
				Patna	29·5

3. The mortality from the several death-causes exhibited in the table appended to this memoranda was as follows, in comparison with that in the preceding week :—

				Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
				15th November 1884.	8th November 1884.
Cholera	4·0	4·8
Small-pox	2	·2
Fever	18·9	17·9
Bowel-complaints	4·8	5·7
Injury	·4	·5
Other causes	8·9	9·4

The noticeable features indicated by the above figures are a sensible increase of mortality from fever; and a decline of casualties from the rest of the death-causes except small-pox.

4. While the casualties from small-pox and injury were nowhere conspicuously large, the undermentioned Municipalities returned the highest death-rates from cholera, fever, bowel-complaints, and the diseases grouped under the head of "Other-causes" :—

Cholera.		Fever.		Bowel-complaints.		Other Causes.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

The month's working record shows an increase under almost every head of traffic, and a total increase of 4,760'95 tons as compared with last October. That is to say, the traffic of the month under review is better by 29'34 per cent. Jute, gunny-bags, railway material and tea have principally contributed to this result. The only noteworthy decrease is in salt.

The market for loose jute is not as active as it might be. Prices advanced in the beginning of the month, but declined latterly. Buyers are complaining of the quality of the jute, and unless it improves prices will decline. In this event an increased vitality may be expected in the hand-made gunny traffic.

INCREASES.

Ale ... Tons 21'67
Both public and Commissariat consignments have contributed to this increase.
Ginger ... Tons 32'08
The present despatches are made up of dried ginger of this season's curing, for which there is always a demand more or less.
Gunny-bags ... Tons 351'70
Though the Calcutta market is dull and prices are weak, consignments are being sent down to be on the spot for a rise.
Jute ... Tons 2,240'25
In the early part of the month prices were firm and imports into Calcutta were heavy. Latterly, however, the market declined, and there has been a disinclination among our constituents to do an extensive business.
Miscellaneous ... Tons 88'19
Hides and timber have given this increase.
Railway material ... Tons 2,390'48
This increase includes 1,080 tons of coal for the Assam-Bihar Railway.
Sugar ... Tons 79'91
The price of this article has declined, and hence there is more local enquiry.
Seeds ... Tons 94'02
This increase is principally due to increased prices and demand for linseed.
Tea ... Tons 441'62
There was a very brisk demand at good prices for all descriptions of tea during the month, and breaks must have been kept back in anticipation of this turn.
Tobacco ... Tons 59'52
This increase is due to a demand from the Jessore district. The Rangoon market continues dull.

DECREASES.

Food-grain ... Tons 68'58
There is no business doing in the Calcutta market. In the districts contiguous to the Railway all the rice available is required for local consumption.
Piece-goods ... Tons 35'56
The Doorga Puja and other native holidays have somewhat interfered with this traffic.
Salt ... Tons 934'35
At the end of October 19,476 tons of salt had passed over the line as against 18,209 tons for the same period last year. This decrease is temporary. The setting in of the cold season is usually accompanied with an increase in this staple.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of October 1884 aggregated maunds 3,16,493, as compared with maunds 2,58,401 carried during the corresponding period of 1883, and maunds 3,04,794 carried during the previous month, show increases of maunds 58,092 and 11,699 respectively.

Of the several increases and decreases the following are the most prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation:—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Coal and coke	1,319
Due to couple of Coal Depôts having opened lately.
Piece-goods	6,245
Due to demand for ensuing cold weather.
Food-grains	57,278
Due to part failure of crops this year.
Lime and kunker	1,679
This was to some extent steadily required by the Local Municipality.
Iron	2,269
Traffic in this staple seems prosperous, the people having appreciated its use.
Mowah	1,823
Due to the rapid consumption of liquors amongst lower class of men, and the outstill system.
Ghee	1,590
For this traffic there was a favourable market in Calcutta during the month, owing to the several Hindoo festivals.
Railway materials	31,596
These were imported for the Kosi extension under construction.
Spices	1,741
Due to local demands.
Sugar and jaggree	1,786
Opening out to Bettiah has developed this traffic.
Timber	21,992
The major portion of this staple consists of the timbers and sleepers despatched by Messrs. H. Dear & Co.

DECREASES.

	Mds.
Saltpetre	8,447
The market was dull during the month.
Seeds	35,625
There being no demand for this traffic in foreign markets.
Tobacco	6,438
The abandonment of the Bazidpore Line and the opening out of Mokameh Ghat section has enhanced the freight for this staple, and therefore it has taken to boats.
Firewood	24,325
Due to increased importation of coal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, GENERAL (MARINE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE TO MARINERS —(No. 65.)

NORTH INDIAN OCEAN—ARABIAN SEA.

MINIKOI—ISLAND.

Intended exhibition of Revolving Light.

THE Trinity House, London, has given notice, that early in the month of January 1885, it is intended to exhibit a light from a Lighthouse, now nearly completed, on the South-West part of Minikoi Island, between the Lakadivh and Maldivh groups.

The light will be a white light, revolving every half-minute, elevated 150 feet above high-water, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 19 miles.

On a S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. bearing the light will be obscured by cocoanut trees within a distance of about 8 miles; this obscuration will extend through an arc of 74° to the bearing of W. N. W., where the distance the light is obscured will decrease to about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

The top of the Lighthouse, which is built of black brick, and the lantern, will be visible by day above the trees.

Position approximate, latitude $8^\circ 16'N.$, longitude $73^\circ 01'E.$

Further notice will be given on the exhibition of this light.

The bearings are magnetic.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary.

FORT WILLIAM, the 24th November 1884.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Read—

Letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 2518 of 22nd March 1884, forwarding a letter from Mr. S. A. Kittredge regarding the stamp duties and registration fees payable on debentures issued by Joint Stock Companies, and making certain recommendations thereon.

OBSERVATIONS.—It appears that Joint Stock Companies are now, in some cases, deterred by the expense involved under the provisions of the Stamp and Registration Acts from raising money by the issue of debentures under a deed of mortgage giving to the holders of the debentures a lien on the property of the Company. For the purpose of raising money in this way the Company would ordinarily—

- (1) execute a mortgage deed making over their property to trustees for the benefit of the debenture-holders.
- (2) issue debentures under the terms of the trust deed.

Under the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the mortgage or trust deed and each of the debentures would be liable separately to stamp duty. The mortgage or trust deed would be an instrument of which registration would be compulsory, and on which a registration fee would be payable. The debentures, containing a reference to real property as security, might also be held to require registration, and they would, as a precautionary measure, ordinarily be registered. Considerable expense is therefore involved in the issue of debentures of the kind described.

RESOLUTION.—With a view to reduce this expense, and to encourage investment by way of loan on the security of the property of Joint Stock Companies, the Governor-General in Council has determined to exempt debentures of the kind above described and interest coupons attached thereto from stamp duty, the mortgage or trust deed remaining liable to stamp duty, and has issued a separate notification for this purpose.

In regard to registration, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is of opinion that it is expedient that the mortgage or trust deed should continue subject to compulsory registration and to the usual registration fee. Regarding the registration of the debentures separate orders will be issued hereafter.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of Bombay with reference to the letter read in the preamble, and to all other Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

ORDERED also that this Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

No. 1916.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the stamp duty payable under that Act on debenture bonds issued by a Joint Stock Company under the terms of a mortgage deed, making over in whole or in part the property of the company to trustees for the benefit of the debenture-holders, and on interest coupons attached to the said debentures.

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

Without postage. With postage.

STATEMENT OF BUSINESS BEFORE THE COUNCIL.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT SAID—Gentlemen, there is no particular business before the Council to-day, but only a formal notice to add one or two Members to the Select Committee on one of the Bills now before the Council on account of changes which have taken place in the constitution of the Council since we last met. But, as is usual in the case of a first meeting of this Council, I take the opportunity of bringing before you those measures which in all probability we shall have to consider during this session. The first of these is with reference to a Bill already before the Council. The first of these is Government. As the Council are aware, there are two Bills, referring to Local Self-Government. One of which has already become law, namely, measures connected with the system of municipal administration in our towns, and I may take this opportunity of saying that, so far as reports have already reached us regarding the operation of the elective system in more than a hundred Municipalities in the country, we have the satisfaction of being able to say that they have been conducted with very general success. Not only has there been an absence of anything like disorder or disturbance, but we find that in almost every place great and animated eagerness has been shown for the privilege of securing a seat on the Municipal Board; that the number of cases in which contested elections have been numerous; that the elections have been carried out with general satisfaction to the people; and that, where dissatisfaction has been expressed, it has been rather in a feeling of disappointment of those who have not been able to find a place on the Municipal Committees. Altogether, I think speaks satisfactorily for the inauguration of the new system of Municipal Administration in these Provinces.

The Bill which has still to be passed, if it does pass into law, is that with reference to the extension of Local Self-Government in our districts, a system for the establishment of Local Boards and Local Unions. That Bill has been already referred to a Select Committee, and, as many Members of the Council know, we have received a preliminary report upon it from the Select Committee at the close of our last session. The report then submitted, together with the revised Bill, has during the recess been circulated to all Commissioners and other local authorities for an expression of their opinion. Those reports I understand have now all been received, and they will be submitted to the Council and to the Select Committee (to be enlarged now under the next motion to be submitted) for consideration in connection with the Local Self-Government Bill, and I may express the hope that by the end of January next the Select Committee will be able to submit a final report, and that, before the session comes to an end, we shall be able to put on the Statute Book an Act for establishing the system of Local Self-Government throughout Bengal.

Then there is a small measure in connection with which a Bill will be introduced to consolidate the existing enactments in regard to Ferries. This Bill is necessitated by changes in the practice which now obtains in the administration of ferries, and particularly with reference to the Local Self-Government schemes, in which the intention is to transfer the management of ferries generally to the control and supervision of Municipalities and Local Boards and other such institutions. This Bill, like the Local Self-Government Bill, will be in the charge of my hon. friend Mr. Macaulay.

Next the necessity for legislation comes before us in connection with the circumstances involved in the construction of large new docks at Kidderpore, which necessitate an amendment of the Calcutta Port Improvement Act. This question has also been under the consideration of Government during the last few months, and on a reference to my learned friend the Advocate-General, I mean Mr. Paul, who is now absent, it was submitted by him, as his opinion, that the provisions of the existing law do not include the construction of such works as the proposed docks at Kidderpore; and again, that the provisions governing the borrowing powers of the Port Commissioners, and the security afforded to the present debenture-holders, also require alteration, as at present there are two Acts relating to the Commissioners for the Improvement of the Port of Calcutta, namely, Bengal Acts V of 1870 and IV of 1880, which at present need amendment. It will probably be found convenient to consolidate these Acts into one comprehensive measure, and to take powers to enable the Port Commissioners to carry out these large works of very great importance to the Port of Calcutta, to which I have already referred, I have asked my hon. friend Mr. Reynolds, who is Chairman of the Port Commissioners, to take charge of this Bill, and we can have the assurance that from his accurate knowledge of all the details of the subject, we shall have most valuable assistance in carrying the Bill to a successful issue.

There are two important measures to be presented to the Council which are connected with the Revenue Department of the Government—one is a Bill for the registration of tenures in land; and the second is a Bill for the reorganization of the ancient system of village accountants, who are known to us under the name of the putwaries and canoongoes of the old Regulations. Hon. Members are probably aware that we have in the law of 1876, passed by this Council, an Act which regulates and governs the registration of proprietary estates and proprietary interests in land, but we have nothing which deals with anything below that. On all sides there is a general consensus of opinion that the time has now come when we may proceed to legislate further for the registration of tenures, and the regulation of all subsidiary titles below that of the zemindar and above that of the ryot. I may mention in saying that there is a general unanimity of opinion on the subject; that my learned friend Sir Richard Garth, the Chief Justice of Bengal, with whom I am sorry to find that I differ on many points in connection with the Tenancy Bill now before the Legislative Council of the Government of India, has on this point expressed a very decided and confirmed opinion as to the necessity of such legislation; and with your permission, I will just read a few words which are taken from a note of his, which has already been published, bearing upon this point. He expresses his cordial concurrence with the recommendations which I had the honour to make to the Government of India upon this subject, and his pleasure in finding that it is intended that a registration law should be passed in aid of, or in connection with, the Tenancy Bill. Though I need not read all he has written on the subject, I would ask attention to the following prominent paragraph of his note:—

“Let the proprietors and tenure-holders of every estate be duly registered either in the zemindar's sherishita or in any Government office; let no one but the registered landlords (and I suppose he would also say tenuro-holders) be entitled to recover rent from the tenants or ryots; let the tenants or ryots on the other hand be bound to pay their rents to the registered landlords, and to no one else; and let the receipts of those landlords be a good discharge for the rent. A law of this kind, well devised and enforced, would, I am satisfied, be the greatest possible blessing to the agricultural community; it would relieve landlords from most of the difficulties under which they now labour in collecting their rents, and it would relieve tenants, and especially ryots, from the hardship which they continually undergo of having to pay their rents twice over.”

It has been computed that there are about a million tenure-holders throughout Bengal. We desire therefore such a law not only in the interests of the general administration, but in the interests of those who have rights in the land. One point which I shall briefly allude to is that, if we can secure such a Bill as will provide for the correct registration of tenures throughout the country, it will also help us very much in that direction in which zemindars everywhere are very keenly interested, namely, the easier recovery of their rents and dues. Until tenures are registered, we cannot give them that assistance; but once we have a proper record of tenures throughout Bengal, there will be no difficulty, but the greatest facility in providing means which will promote the prompt realization of rents. I commend therefore this Bill to you in the assurance that it will receive your careful consideration, and that, if the Tenancy Bill which is now under the consideration of the Government of India, is passed on the lines on which it is thought it may be passed, this Bill will be a very useful complement to the legislation which will be passed in the other Council.

The other measure to which I have alluded in connection with our revenue administration is required, as I have said, for the reorganization of the system of putwaries and canoongoes. All I need say now in reference to that measure is that it is a necessary supplement and a corollary to the Tenancy Bill. We contemplate here to take the first steps towards a proper cadastral survey of all estates and holdings in Behar, and a proper record of rights wherever such survey is made. Everyone is aware, and will admit, that with the completion of a work of such magnitude as a cadastral survey of any part of Bengal, and the completion of a record of rights, we also want an agency competent and trustworthy for the adequate maintenance of that record. If you carry out such a survey, and if you establish a record of rights and have no such agency, in the course of two or three years the whole advantage of a measure which will involve large expenditure and a great deal of trouble will be lost to the country, and our desire is to secure by legislative enactment the establishment of a proper agency, which shall provide chiefly for the maintenance of that record which it is the intention of the Tenancy Bill to carry out; and although it may be a work which may last for many years, I am satisfied that, until we secure the result of that work, we shall have no settlement of the disputes and litigation which are now so common. In support of the view I advocate, I may be allowed to quote an expression of opinion from one who rightly enjoys the position of a very high authority in such matters—I mean Sir Louis Mallet—who, in writing on the subject of revenue administration in India, makes these forcible remarks. He says—"If there is anything that is wanted in India in any investigation of Indian problems, it is an approach to trustworthy and generally accepted facts. There is hardly a subject upon which the authorities do not absolutely disagree as to the fundamental facts." And he goes on at greater length to argue against the repugnance constantly felt in India to the adoption of any adequate measures for the collection of a comprehensive and well digested set of facts as to the recognition of general principles. That at which we now want for Bengal I may say prevails throughout every other Province in India. Even Burma, our latest acquisition, has partly got, and is still extending, a correct survey and record of rights, and a well organised establishment to maintain that record. In Bengal it is a reproach to the Government, rather than to any one else, that though it is more than ninety years since the Permanent Settlement, we have done absolutely nothing to secure anything like an authoritative, statistical record of detailed revenue administration; and in my opinion, even at this late hour, it is urgently necessary to begin the work. I may in conclusion, with reference to this particular object, say that in the course of the next few weeks we shall have established a department of Agriculture in Bengal. It will be one of the duties of that department, and of the able gentleman whom we are going to place at the head of it, to organize executively the arrangements which we may be able to carry out by the kind of legislation I have referred to; and though it will be a matter of slow growth, still I have no doubt in my own mind that its good results will soon be apparent, and that we shall all—zemindars, tenure-holders and ryots included—recognize the great importance of a law which shall place this difficult subject on a sure and satisfactory footing.

There are one or two minor Bills to which I need not make any special reference. It is possible that before the end of the session I may call attention to the necessity for legislation in connection with the improvement of the chowkidaree system in Bengal. That also is a subject which has been under the investigation of a very competent Committee, and their recommendations are still under the inquiries of our local officers. If their replies should come before us before the end of the session, I may have to submit proposals for the improvement of our village constabulary and rural police, to be formulated in a new law amending the present Act of 1870.

In thus placing before you the brief outlines of the Bills which will engage our attention during the next few months, I am sure I shall receive from Hon. Members the assistance which the Government has always received in this Council of a careful and independent consideration of its recommendations, and I hope when the session closes, I shall be able to congratulate you in having placed on the Statute Book several useful and beneficent measures.

I may mention that the Bill for the registration of tenures will be in charge of my hon. friend Mr. Reynolds, and the Bill for the organization of the putwari system will be in charge of my hon. friend Mr. MacDonnell.

The HON. MR. MACAULAY moved that the Hon. the Acting Advocate-General, the Hon. Mr. Garrett, and the Hon. Moulvie Abdul Jubbar, be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to extend the system of Local Self-Government in Bengal.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday the 13th instant.

REQUESTS BY THE LATE RAI RAJIB LOCHAN ROY BAHADUR

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 5th December 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

I, and do from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 200T, dated the 14th October 18 return and its enclosures, regarding the two bequests of Rs. 15,000 each made to Berhampore College and the Calcutta Sanskrit College by the late Rai Ra Lochan Roy Bahadur.

Baboo Baikanthanath Sen and Gokul Nath Guha, executors of the will of the late Rai Rajib Lochan Roy Bahadur, propose the following terms which the bequests of the deceased to the Berhampore College and the Calcutta Sanskrit College should be applied so as to carry out the wishes of the testator:—

BERHAMPORE COLLEGE.

- (a)—That the sum of Rs. 15,000 be applied to the creation of scholarships, and that the same sum be held in trust by the Government for that purpose.
- (b)—That five scholarships of Rs. 5 each be created out of the interest of the above mentioned sum of Rs. 15,000.
- (c)—That the scholarships be made tenable for two years by the first five successful candidates passing the Calcutta University Entrance examination from the Berhampore centre, on the condition that they continue their studies in the Berhampore College.
- (d)—That should any of the said five students not desire to prosecute their study in the Berhampore College, then the scholarships shall be awarded to so many of them as choose to do so, and to as many students standing next in order of merit at the said Entrance examination as will make up the number five.
- (e)—That the scholarships be awarded to the students in question, whether they obtain Government scholarships or not.
- (f)—That the scholarships be designated "Rajib Lochan Scholarships."

CALCUTTA SANSKRIT COLLEGE.

- 2. (a)—That the sum of Rs. 15,000 left as a legacy to the college by the aforesaid testator be applied to the creation of scholarships, and that the said sum be held in trust by the Government.
- (b)—That twelve scholarships be created out of the interest of the endowment, two of the value of Rs. 5 a month, and 10 of the value of Rs. 4 a month.
- (c)—That the said scholarships be made tenable for one year only.
- (d)—That the scholarships be awarded by the Director of Public Instruction, on the recommendation of the Principal of the College, to those students of the institution who show proficiency in sanskrit literature and grammar; and
- (e)—That the scholarships be called the "Moheswari Dassi Scholarships."

3. The executors propose that, in the event of the abolition of the Berhampore College, or the Sanskrit College, or both, the bequests be submitted to a court of competent jurisdiction to determine in what other manner they should be applied in order to carry out most nearly the intentions of the testator, and that the costs of the proceedings be borne by the Government.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in accepting the munificent legacy of the late Rai Rajib Lochan Roy Bahadur, and approves all the proposals made by the executors for its administration. He desires that his cordial thanks may be conveyed to Babu Baikanthanath Sen and Gokul Nath Guha for their exertions in the matter. The sum of Rs. 30,000 should be invested in Government securities which, under Rule I, Chapter 11 of the Civil Account Code, Volume I, should be entrusted to the Comptroller-General. The Accountant-General will be instructed to open two Trust Fund accounts, called respectively the "Rajib Lochanver Scholarships" and Moheshwari Dasi Scholarships, the Principals of the Berhampore and Sanskrit College being the administrators of the funds.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor, Accepted

A. P. MACDONNELL, absol

Secretary to the Government of Bengal, ad

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospect

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 6th December 1884.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
1	Burdwan, Dec. 6 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The outturn of amun paddy will nowhere, except in the Raneeunge and part of the Sudder sub-division, exceed a 6-anna crop, while in most places it will be much less. Rubbee crops promise well. Health good.
2	Banghooora, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—clear and getting colder daily. Gathering of late paddy is briskly going on all over the district. Prospects of winter crops continue favourable. Isolated cases of fever are reported from the Bishenpore sub-division.
3	Meerbhoom, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cold and fine. Amun paddy being harvested. General outturn below the average and especially poor in parts of thanas Labpore, Dooobrajapore, and Bulpore. Sugarcane and other rubbee crops doing well. Food-grains cheaper. Cases of cholera are reported, otherwise general health satisfactory.
4	Midnapore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of winter crops fair. Paddy yielding a good outturn. Cholera prevails in thanas Bhagwanpur, Raghunathpur and Pataspur in the Contai sub-division.
5	Hooghly, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops good. Prices falling. Fever prevails generally, and outbreaks of cholera are reported from several parts of the district.
	Howrah, " 8 "	Nil	Weather—fair. Prospects of crops good.
Central Districts.
6	24-Pergha, Nov. 8 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of amun paddy going on favourably; cold-weather crops are doing well. Public health generally good.
7	Nudda, Dec. 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops good.
8	Khoolua, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cool. Harvesting of paddy is going on satisfactorily. Cholera has abated. Public health fair.
9	Jessore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cold. Harvesting of amun paddy continues, and on the whole a fair outturn is expected. Rubbee crops are doing well. Fever and cholera have abated a little.
10	Moorshedabad, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Cutting of amun paddy continues. Rubbee crops are promising, but in some places they are being damaged by insects. New rice coming into the market; prices easier. There is a little cholera about, but on the whole public health good.
11	Dinapore, Dec. 5 '84	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. Harvesting of amun paddy and sugarcane continues and a fair outturn is expected. State of rubbee crops generally good. Price of rice ranges from 11 to 16 seers per rupee.
12	Rajshahye, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cool and seasonable. Amun paddy being reaped. Prospects of both amun and rubbee crops generally good. A few cases of cholera are reported from Nattore. Prices gradually falling.
13	Rungpore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Amun paddy being cut. Prospects of other winter crops continue good. Malarious fever still prevailing. Cholera reported from Gaibanda.
14	Bogra, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—heavy dews at night and mornings cold. Harvesting of amun paddy going on with a very poor outturn over a large part of the district. Cold-weather crops continue to be promising. There are still some cases of cholera and fever.
15	Pubna, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—mornings and evenings cold. Prospects of cold-weather crops favourable. Fever is on the decline and cholera is not much heard of.
16	Darjaeling, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—clear and frosty during latter portion of the week. Harvesting of paddy progressing favourably. Public health good.
17	Julpigoree, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cold and seasonable. Late paddy is being cut and in places a very fair crop is expected. In Alipore a good crop is also expected, but the crop is very bad in Falacotta. Other crops good. Public health fair.
Eastern Districts.
18	Dacca, Dec. 6 '84	Nil	Weather—cold. Amun and roachia paddy being harvested. Cutting of sugarcane continues. Pulses and boro paddy being sown. Prospects of crops good. Several cases of cholera reported from parts of the district.
19	Furreedpore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cold and clear. State of standing crops good. Fever prevails in some parts and cholera is still severe.
20	Backergunge, " 4 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of amun paddy fair, but those of rubbee crops not good. Fever and cholera are still prevalent in some parts of the district.
21	Mymensingh, " 5 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops very fair. Cholera still prevails in all the sub-divisions.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—corold
Eastern Districts.
CHITTAGONG DIV.	22 Chittagong, Dec. 8 '84	Nil	Weather—bright and cool. Prospects of crops fair. Reaping of amun paddy continues. Prices of food-grains stationary. Public health good though cholera still continues.
	23 Noakholly, " 5 "	Nil	Weather—fair and cold.— Amun paddy being harvested in some places. The real sail is expected to be 16 annas. Rubbee crops still being sown. Price of paddy has fallen. Sporadic cases of cholera are reported from the interior.
	24 Tipperah, " 4 "	Nil	Weather—cool and fine. Amun crop excellent. Winter crops promising. Prices of food-grains falling. Rice is selling at Rs. 2-8 per maund.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, " 2 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable; cold and foggy in the mornings. Gathering of cotton is nearly over. Mustard is being sown. Plough-paddy doing well.
	Hill Tipperah, " 3 "	Nil	Weather—seasonably cool. Amun paddy still being reaped, a good outturn is expected. Sowing of mustard completed. Prospects of sugarcane fair. Public health good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIV.	26 Patna, Dec. 6 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rubbee crops are growing well. Paddy is ripening; castor plants and cotton look well. Poppy crop is in a healthy and promising state. Public health good.
	27 Gya, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cool and dry. Rubbee crops and poppy promise well, but rain would be welcome. A 10-anna outturn of the paddy crop is looked for in the Aurangabad sub-division.
	28 Shahabad, " 8 "	Nil	Weather—cool. Prospects of crops on the ground including poppy, fair. Harvesting of paddy in progress.
	29 Durbhunga, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Paddy being harvested. Prospects of rubbee crops continue good. Poppy doing well. Prices of food-grains stationary. Public health good.
	30 Mozufferpore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—fine with heavy dews. Harvesting of paddy in progress and root crops are being gathered in. Prospects of rubbee crops very good. Weather is favourable for poppy, which is thriving, but in the north and centre of the district some injury has been done by grass-hoppers.
	31 Sarun, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—fair; gradually getting colder. Harvesting of paddy going on. Prospects of rubbee crops excellent. In the Allypunge sub-agency about four per cent of the poppy land has had to be resown. In the Chupra sub-agency some damage has been done by grass-hoppers, otherwise weather favourable and prospects excellent. Prices of food-grains falling. Public health good.
BHAGULPORE DIV.	32 Chumparan, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops continue favourable. Aghani paddy being reaped. Young poppy plants are looking strong and healthy. Public health good.
	33 Monghyr, Dec. 6 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of rubbee crops continue good. Aghani paddy is being reaped. Sowings of poppy crop completed, and prospects continue favourable. Prices falling. Public health good.
	34 Bhagulpore, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable, cold and bright. Harvesting of aghani paddy has begun and prospects are fair. Prospects of rubbee crops good. Prices show a tendency to fall. New rice selling at 16 seers in the south, and 20 seers in the north. Public health good; some cases of cholera in Banka.
	35 Purneah, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—fine. Prospects of crops good in the Kishengunge sub-division, and generally good in the Arrareah sub-division, except thana Ranigunge. In the Sudder sub-division rubbee crops promise well, but the aghani harvest is generally poor.
	36 Maldah, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—cold and fair. Harvesting of winter paddy has commenced. Rubbee crops are doing well. Prices of food-grains stationary. General health good.
	37 Sonthal Pergah, " 6 "	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. Cutting of paddy progressing. Prospects of rubbee crops still continue very good. Public health good.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIV.	38 Cuttack, Dec. 5 '84	Nil	Weather—cool and clear. Reaping of early sarad in progress, late sarad ripening with good prospects. Rubbee crops flowering. Dalua and wheat being sown. Common rice selling at from 16 to 20 seers per rupee in town and 24 seers on an average in the interior. Public health generally good, with the exception of sporadic cases of cholera in the interior.
	39 Pooree, " 4 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Laghu sarad has nearly been harvested. Late sarad ripening. Dalua being sown. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Common rice is selling at an average of 21 seers 9 chittack per rupee in the Sudder sub-division, and 26 seers 8 chittacks in the Khoorda sub-division. Cholera still reported.
	40 Balasore, " 5 "	Nil	Weather—cold and clear. Harvesting of paddy continues. Prospects of rubbee crops fair. Public health generally good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
	41 Hazaribagh, Dec. 5 '84	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. Harvesting of paddy continues. Prospects of rubbee crops generally good. * Observations for six days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 100. The normal means of rainfall are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisions of the district (i.e.), the total rainfall at the sub-divisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rain or the past ten years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when the number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall returns for the period in question during the past 12 years. The means for the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall returns on which at least an hundredth of an inch fell.

TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 5TH DECEMBER 1884.

The past week has been characterized by unusually high pressure, and low temperature over the whole Province. The general atmospheric conditions which have obtained since the termination of the rains were present in a slightly stronger form during the past week than hitherto. Pressure was high at the commencement of the week and above the average. It increased slowly and steadily until the 2nd or 3rd, when it was abnormally high, and nearly two-tenths of an inch above the normal pressure of the week. The cold-weather winds have hence been unusually steady for some time, and the air considerably drier than the normal. Hence the temperature is also considerably below the average. The reduction of temperature is shown to the greatest extent in the night temperature, which has at several stations been from 5° to 8° during the week below the normal minimum temperature of the season. The mean temperature of the week was 3° below the normal in South-West Bengal, 3½° in Chutia Nagpur and North Behar, 4° in South Behar and East Bengal, and 4½° in Orissa. Skies have been clear throughout the week in the Province.

Pressure was above the average at the beginning of the week and increased steadily until the 2nd or 3rd, when it was from '15" (at the stations on the sea-board), to '23" (in North Behar) above the normal pressure of the period. This accumulation of pressure is due to the continued unusually low temperature.

Temperature was marked by the same features as during the previous week, the only difference being that the deficiency is somewhat greater than it was for the preceding week. The following table gives the normal and actual mean maximum and minimum temperatures at eight stations, and illustrates clearly the temperature variations of the past week:—

			MAXIMUM DAY TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency	MINIMUM NIGHT TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Alipore Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 merely at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 inches higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 0·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·6 lower; finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

NOTE.—As a new anemograph was being put up, the records of 242 hours are deficient.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 8th December 1884.

MEMORANDA.

THE first class Municipalities in Bengal returned, during the week ending 22nd November 1884, the birth and death-rates of 29·4 and 39·6 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 26·7 and 37·2 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 15th November, indicating a fair advance in the registration of both events.

2. The Municipalities which exhibit the highest results in birth and death registration are—

Births.				Deaths.
			Ratio per mille.				Ratio per mille.
Howrah	54·7	Poori	68·5
Mozufferpore	43·7	Dacca	68·1
Bhagulpore	41·6	Santipore	61·3
Serampore	37·3	Suburbs of Calcutta	54·4
Burdwan	35·1	Chittagong	54·0
Beaulah	34·1	Ranaghat	53·9
Durbhanga	33·1	Naraingunge	49·7
Gya	32·1	Serampore	47·1

				Mozufferpore	34·1
				Patna	33·4
				Gya	32·8
				Midnapore	32·5
				Hughli	30·9
				Jessore	30·6

3. The mean mortality from the different death-causes, mentioned in the appended table, in comparison with the mortality from the same causes in the preceding week, stood as follows :—

				Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
				22nd November 1884.	15th November 1884.
Cholera	3·8	4·0
Small-pox	·2	·2
Fever	18·6	18·9
Bowel-complaints	6·1	4·8
Injury	·6	·4
Other causes	10·3	8·9

The only noticeable point deducible from the above figures is that there was a sensible increase in fatal results from bowel-complaints and the diseases classed under the head of "Other causes."

4. Excluding small-pox and injury, the mortality from which was nowhere high, the rest of the diseases proved most fatal to life in the Municipalities named below :—

Fever.				Bowel-complaints.				Other Causes.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community taken in February 1881 was not reliable, owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except in 1881, the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans taken in that year cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the result of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, GENERAL (MARINE) DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE TO MARINERS —(No. 65.)

NORTH INDIAN OCEAN—ARABIAN SEA.

MINIKOI—ISLAND.

Intended exhibition of Revolving Light.

THE Trinity House, London, has given notice, that early in the month of January 1885, it is intended to exhibit a light from a Lighthouse, now nearly completed, on the South-West part of Minikoi Island, between the Lakadivh and Maldivh groups.

The light will be a white light, revolving every half-minute, elevated 150 feet above high-water, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 19 miles.

On a S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. bearing the light will be obscured by cocoanut trees within a distance of about 8 miles; this obscuration will extend through an arc of 74° to the bearing of W. N. W., where the distance the light is obscured will decrease to about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

The top of the Lighthouse, which is built of black brick, and the lantern, will be visible by day above the trees.

Position approximate, latitude $8^{\circ} 16' N.$, longitude $73^{\circ} 01' E.$

Further notice will be given on the exhibition of this light.

The bearings are magnetic.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeeport factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeeport factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazeeport factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary.

FORT WILLIAM, the 24th November 1884.

No. 1253B.

NOTICE is hereby given that the First Sale of Opium, the provision of 1882-83 and 1883-84, will be held at the Government Opium Sale-room, No. 2, Bankshall-street, on Monday the 5th January 1885, at 11 A.M., and will comprise 4,166 chests, viz:—

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

Without postage. With postage.

For the Calcutta Series ...	Rs. 10 0	Rs. 12 8
" each of the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series ...	" 6 0	" 7 0

REGISTRATION OF PERMANENT TENURES.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the registration of permanent tenures. He said:—You explained, Sir, on the last occasion of the meeting of this Council, the objects which this Bill is intended to attain, and its intimate connection not only with the legislation now before the Council of the Governor-General on the subject of landlord and tenant, but also with the question of the performance of a long neglected duty—the establishment and maintenance of a record of rights throughout these Provinces. On this occasion it is only necessary that I should put before the Council the outlines of the scheme by which the Government proposes to effect the objects which it has in view. It is the desire and the intention of the Government to redeem to the utmost the promise which has been made to the zemindars that facilities shall be given them for the realization of their acknowledged rents. Of these rents a large proportion consists of the rents of tenures, and the experience of the working of the putnee sale regulation has shown that nothing so effectually secures the punctual payment of rent as a power of summary sale, without the formalities and delays of a suit, whenever the rent is allowed to fall into arrear. It would be impossible, however, for the Government to extend the putnee sale procedure to permanent tenures in general, unless such tenures were first registered: and the registration must be not merely in the serishtah of the zemindar, but a registration in a public office, with proper securities for the interests of all parties concerned. Such a system of registration it is the object of this Bill to introduce.

For the scheme of the Bill, I have been much indebted to the report on the Tenancy Bill by Mr. R. C. Dutt, Collector of Backergunge, and to an excellent little pamphlet by Baboo Mohini Mohun Roy, in which he has sketched a plan for the registration and summary sale of tenures, and has also offered some valuable suggestions for simplifying the procedure of the courts in the trial of rent suits. The general proposals of the Bill will be as follows:—Applications for the registration of tenures are to be made to the Subordinate Judge, and may be made by either the zemindar or the tenure-holder. Notice of application will be given to the other party concerned, and also a general notice to all persons interested in the disposal of the case. If it is found that there is no dispute upon any material point regarding the conditions on which the tenure is held, the tenure will be at once admitted to registration: if there are disputes which cannot be summarily settled, issues will be framed and decided as in a regular suit. Whether the register should be kept up by the Court or by the Collector is a point upon which the scheme of the Bill differs from Baboo Mohini Mohun Roy's proposals. The Baboo thinks that the Subordinate Judge should not only decide the disputes, but should keep up the register in his own office. But it appears to the Government that the Collector's office is the proper place for a register of tenures, in the same way as the Collector is the officer who keeps the register of estates. The Bill accordingly provides that, when a tenure has been admitted to registration, the Subordinate Judge shall send the necessary particulars to the Collector, who will thereupon enter the tenure in his register.

The provisions for the maintenance of the register by the mutation of names in cases of transfer and succession will be embodied in the Bengal Tenancy Bill now under consideration by the Select Committee. Till the report of the Committee is published, I am not at liberty to say what those provisions are likely to be; but I have little doubt that any plan which the Committee may adopt can be made to fit in perfectly well with the scheme of this Bill. If the Select Committee were to recommend that transfers should be made only by a registered instrument or a public sale, it would be easy to provide that the registering officer, or the officer conducting the sale, shall notify the transfer to the Collector, and that the Collector, if no objections are offered by the parties concerned, shall make the necessary mutation of names.

The next point to be considered is whether this registration of tenures shall be made compulsory, or shall be left optional. There is no doubt much to be said in favour of compulsory registration. For statistical purposes a compulsory system is necessary, as, whatever advantages registration may offer, we cannot hope to get a complete list of tenures unless we not merely permit, but require, all tenures to be registered. On the other hand, we are acting at present on imperfect information: we have only an approximate knowledge of the number of tenures in Bengal: we cannot judge of the proportion of cases in which entries are likely to be disputed, and we risk the danger of the scheme breaking down, if we attempt at once to fix a period within which all tenures must be brought under compulsory registration. On the whole, the Government considers it the safer course to adopt the recommendation of Baboo Mohini Mohun Roy, and (in the first instance at least) to make it optional with the parties to register their tenures or not. The Baboo thinks that this option will be largely used. "People," he remarks, "will readily come forward to register their own tenures and tenures held under them. Registration offers manifest advantages to both landlord and tenant, which will be quickly perceived and eagerly availed of." I agree with him in thinking that, under an optional system, a large number of applications will be made, but I should expect a much greater proportion to come from the landlords than from the tenants.

The Government, however, does not abandon the hope that a system of compulsory registration may eventually be found possible: and the Bill will therefore give the Government power to declare that all permanent tenures, within a local area to be specified in the notification, must be registered within a certain limit of time, in the same manner as proprietors were required to be registered by the Bengal Land Registration Act of 1876. Where this Chapter of the Bill is in force, the general procedure of the Land Registration Act would be followed, and one local area after another would be brought under the operation of the Chapter, till in the end the compulsory system had been introduced throughout the whole of the Lower Provinces. In such local areas, registration would be enforced by a section disqualifying unregistered tenure-holders from suing for rent.

Such is the general scheme of the measure I ask leave to introduce—a system of optional registration in the Collector's office under orders passed by the Subordinate Judge, with power to the Government to declare that in any local area registration shall henceforth be compulsory. The Government is fully aware that the duty which it thus proposes to undertake is one of great magnitude and considerable difficulty. Judging from the returns, incomplete as they probably are, furnished by the Road Cess papers, the number of tenures in Bengal considerably exceeds one million; and even under a system of optional registration, the work of dealing with the applications which will be made will impose a heavy burden on judicial and executive officers. But it is important to the well-being of these Provinces that the difficulties should be surmounted, and that the labour should be undergone. The registration of tenures is an essential element in the compilation of those agricultural statistics without which the Tenancy Bill will be an incomplete and unfruitful measure; it is to the registration of tenures that we must look for a large mass of useful information for the settlement of disputes, for the quieting of titles, and for the punctual realization of rents. And it will perhaps be found that the difficulties, serious as they may be, are not greater than can be overcome by diligence and method. When the Cess Act of 1871 was under discussion in this Council, it was confidently predicted that the scheme would be found to be unworkable. When the Land Registration Act of 1876 was introduced, it was said that the definition of the interests of all proprietors of land would prove an impossible task. We know now that these apprehensions were unfounded, and our experience of what has been done may well give us courage in attempting what remains to do.

I now move for leave to introduce the Bill, and, if leave is given, I hope that the Bill, the first draft of which is already in print, will be in the hands of Hon. Members before the next meeting of the Council.

The motion was put and agreed to.

SUBURBAN WATER-SUPPLY.

The Hon. MR. REYNOLDS moved that the Hon. Messrs. Garrett and Irving be added to the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the supply of filtered water within the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday the 20th instant.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE PORT OFFICER, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1883-84.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MARINE.

Calcutta the 15th December 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Port Officer, Calcutta, for the year 1883-84.

The Report is submitted by Captain A. W. Stiffe, but Captain Brebner was in charge of the department as Officiating Port Officer throughout the year.

2. The strength of the Pilot Service at the close of the year was 88, consisting of 63 qualified pilots of all grades and 25 Leadsman, and First and Second Mates not yet promoted to the grade of Mate Pilots. The Port Officer repeats his former proposal to relax the rules for the promotion of Leadsman Apprentices, so as to allow First Mate Leadsman to appear for examination as Mate Pilots after having held First Mate's certificates for one year, but without having actually served as First Mates on board the pilot brigs. The Lieutenant-Governor is still not prepared to assent to this proposal in its original form, but he has allowed service on the steamer Undaunted to be reckoned as service on a brig up to a maximum limit of three months. Until it is shown that this concession fails to meet the difficulties represented there should be no change. Nothing but extreme necessity would justify any reduction in the period of service at the Sandheads now required from Leadsman in the Pilot Service. It is satisfactory to find that the system of obtaining Leadsman Apprentices from the training ships at home has continued to work well. It has been urged against this system that its practical working tends to restrict unduly the admission of many candidates into the Pilot Service who, though fit for the service, are unable to go through the course in the training ships. Rules are now in contemplation, which will enable Government to meet such cases when boys who have not passed the training ship's course can show that they are qualified for the work of the Pilot Service in respect of education, physical capacity, and nautical training.

3. The arrivals in Calcutta during the year numbered 1,085 vessels with a gross tonnage of 1,977,369 tons; and the departures 1,073 vessels, with a gross tonnage of 1,959,826. Although the number of vessels entering and leaving the Port fell off by 134, the gross tonnage was only 24,099 less than that of the exceptionally busy year 1882-83. This is due to the progressive increase in the average size of vessels visiting the Port, which is shown to have risen in the case of steamers from 1,300 tons in 1870-71 to 2,300 tons in 1883-84; and in the case of sailing ships during the same period from 1,000 tons to 1,200. This increase in the size not only enhances the difficulty and responsibility of the pilots' work, but leads to one grade obtaining more and another less than its fair proportion of the number of ships. Hence the necessity for periodical readjustments of the scale of tonnage—a matter which will have to be considered in view of the reduced earnings of the grade of Master Pilots.

4. The conduct of the Pilot Service is again favourably reported on, and no offences against discipline are said to have occurred. During the year the Branch Pilots piloted on an average 5.51 ships a month, the Senior Master Pilots 3.61, the Junior Master Pilots 2.71, and the Mate Pilots 3.75. Thirty-eight vessels were piloted by Leadsman Apprentices when regular pilots were not available under the rules. The receipts under the head of pilotage during the year were Rs. 8,34,507. It has been represented lately that the pilotage charges of the Port are too high, and that they yield a large surplus which is amalgamated with General Revenues. Owing to the form of the accounts the question has not been fully cleared up, but the Accountant-General has been ordered to prepare accounts for the current year, which will show the financial position accurately. As far as can be at present judged there is reason to doubt the correctness of the representations made to the effect that the income is in excess of the expenditure.

5. Forty-two cases of vessels grounding and 14 collisions took place during the year as compared with 51 and 25 in 1882-83. Damage was done to only two of the vessels which grounded, the other casualties of this class being trivial. Of the collisions, on the other hand, 12 out of 14 caused damage, and in one case a steamer was sunk. Taking both classes of casualties together, the percentage of accidents to the number of vessels was 2·59 as compared with 3·31 in the previous year.

6. Four Courts for the trial of Pilots under Act XII of 1859, and eleven departmental enquiries, were held during the year. In two cases only was any substantial punishment inflicted upon the Pilots in charge. Two Special Courts of Enquiry under Act IV of 1875 were held to enquire into the stranding of the British India steamer Chinsura on Dowdeswell's Island near False Point, and the loss of the Scottish Chieftain on the Middle Andaman Island. In each case the Master's certificate of competency was suspended for three months.

7. The S. S. Undaunted was employed as usual in conveying pilots to the Sandheads when the supply available to bring up in-coming vessels had run short, on visits of inspection to Chittagong and Orissa, and in endeavouring to assist vessels in special difficulties. A new pilot brig, the Sarsuti, arrived from England in October 1883, but alterations had to be made in her in order to render her fit for service at the Sandheads. The Chinsura was laid up as a hulk. The Coleroon and Cassandra are both in fair order, so that there are now three pilot brigs available. Two will be always at the Sandheads while the third is undergoing repairs, and unless serious accidents occur, there will be no risk of vessels being detained owing to there being too few brigs on the station.

8. The number of candidates for certificates of competency as sea-going officers of various grades rose from 91 to 102, of whom 57 passed. The Colonial certificates granted comprised six Masters', fifteen First Mates', seven Second Mates', three First Class Engineers', and two Second Class Engineers'. Nine candidates applied for examination for certificates as Commanders of inland vessels. Six passed and two failed, and one did not appear. Four vessels were registered under the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, and the registry of five vessels was cancelled. Only one vessel was registered under the Indian Act X of 1841.

9. During Captain Stiffe's absence, the department was efficiently administered by Captain Brebner, Officiating Port Officer.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

PROSPECTS OF CROPS.

IN continuation of the Resolution of the 18th November 1884, on the subject of the rainfall and the prospects of crops in Bengal during the current year, the following further papers on the subject are published for general information.

A. P. MacDONNELL,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 824G., dated Bankipore, the 27th November 1884.

From—F. M. HALLIDAY, Esq., Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

1. IN continuation of this office No. B.G., dated the 30th ultimo, I have the honour to submit a further report on the state and prospects of the crops in the Nowada sub-division in Gya, and the Behar sub-division in Patna.

2. Mr. Macpherson, Sub-Divisional Officer of Nowada, writes, under date the 5th instant, that prospects have been much improved by the rain of the 24th to the 26th October last, which fell all over the sub-division. No rain had been registered at Nowada before this fall since the 4th October last. Much of the planted paddy has been saved by the rain, which has also permitted of a further extension of rubbi cultivation. The rubbi crop of the sub-division should be an unusually large and good one. The fact remains that, over a large area of the sub-division, no rice at all was planted this year, and that in many more fields the rice planted has died, or has become very thin on account of the long drought. This failure has moreover come after two years of scarcity. That cultivators and labourers are much pinched in the bad parts of the sub-division there can be no doubt. It is stated that there is more distress in Pakri Barawan thana than in other parts of the sub-division.

4. On the subject of the provision of labour and relief works, the Sub-Divisional Officer writes as follows:—

"You have directed that the works of repairing and widening the Pakri Barawan, Pachamba and the Warsahgunge to Dergawan roads shall be at once begun. The sums of Rs. 204 and Rs. 160 have been provided for these two roads, respectively, in the sanctioned budget estimate of the Nowada Branch Committee for the year 1884-85, but I understand that more money is to be made available for improving these roads, which traverse or are close to the most distressed parts of the sub-division, i.e., the parts of the sub-division where the failure of the paddy crop has been greatest. You have directed me to report whether the road cess allotment to the sub-division should be increased. I beg that it may be increased by whatever amount it may be considered necessary to spend on the abovenamed roads in addition to the sums already budgeted for. I do not know what may be the revised estimate of expenditure on these roads, which has been framed, or is to be framed, by the District Engineer. The roads are both important, the second named one specially so, and I think that Rs. 1,000 might profitably be spent on each. I would not wish to provide the additional money for these roads by transfer from the grants made over to the Branch Committee for the other roads of the sub-division; only Rs. 6,505 in all has been allotted to the Branch Committee, and I am not prepared to say that works budgeted for can be given up in order that more money may be spent by the Branch Committee on the two roads above named.

5. "I beg to express my concurrence in your view of the state of things that it is ordinary labour, and not famine relief, which should at present be provided; and I think that probably sufficient labour will be provided by spending Rs. 2,000 on the roads named above in addition to the other sanctioned allotments for the sub-division. It is, however, very important that labour should be provided in and close to all the most distressed villages of the sub-division, in order that weak and feeble persons may be able to get some work without going far from their homes, even though they may not be able to do a full day's work. In such cases I would not of course give a full day's pay, two annas, but something less. I append a statement, No. 2, which will show you what allotments are already sanctioned for work on roads in and near the more distressed villages. There is also an allotment of Rs. 1,000 (included in the total grant of Rs. 6,505) for "village road," which the Branch Committee will no doubt consent to spend chiefly in the most distressed villages. I have asked for information from the police and from other persons as to what are the most distressed villages in the sub-division (explaining that by this I mean the villages where the failure of the paddy crop this year has been greatest) and as to what works can be undertaken in those villages.

6. "The works named in the appended statement No. III have been suggested to me. You will notice that they are all in villages where there has been a great failure of the paddy crop.

"With regard to the supervision of these small village road works, I will probably propose that the small sums to be spent on them be placed in the hands of respectable resident zemindars, whom I will instruct that it is specially desired that weak and feeble labourers should be encouraged to do what work they can.

7. "If I find it to be necessary, I will ask you to obtain sanction of a grant of money for providing women not accustomed to work out of doors with works to be done in their houses, e. g. cleaning cotton."

8. In submitting the above-mentioned proposals of the Sub-Divisional Officer of Nowada, the Collector of Gya has not stated what steps have been taken by him on them. He has now been asked to supply the omission. As soon as the information is received I shall submit a further report.

9. In the Behar sub-division in the district of Patna, owing to the late rain, the winter rice crop would be a 5 annas and rubi 14 annas.

10. The Sub-Divisional Officer reports that there is not at present exactly the same apprehension in regard to fodder as existed before the October rain, but still he cannot positively say that he is quite free from anxiety.

No. 10MA, dated Calcutta, the 30th November 1884.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

IN continuation of this office letter No. 8MA, dated the 8th instant, I have the honour to submit the following fortnightly report for the first half of November on the prospects of the crops in those parts of Nudda and Moorshedabad which have been affected:—

NUDDEA.

2 Kaligunge thana of the Sudder sub-division.—The prospects of the rubbee crops are reported to be good. There has been some pressure amongst the poor class of labourers and cultivators. Rupees 3,000 have been allotted by the District Road Cess Committee to open up road works with a view to afford relief to those requiring it.

3. Thana Chagdah.—The expected outturn of amun, including that on the low lands, may be estimated at 10 annas of an average year's produce.

4. Inner circle of the Meherpore sub-division.—The Sub-Divisional Officer of Meherpore reports as follows:—

"The actual state of things in the inner circle differs little from that reported in my Nos. 266 and 267, dated 22nd of October, but the prospects therein are greatly improved.

"At present a little relief is afforded by the unusual influx of the kalai into the market, which, as I reported before the Pujahs, was being sown in exceptionally large quantities with a view to anticipate the coming scarcity, signs of which were even then apparent.

"This influx of kalai has undoubtedly given great relief to the people, for the difficulty we had to deal with was the scarcity of grain in the market, and not so much the scarcity of money to purchase with.

"Another thing I notice is the usual exodus of people for the Kalantur and other great dhan fields along the Jellinghee has this year taken place earlier and to a greater extent than in previous years.

"It is said that owing to the late rains the dhan crop is earlier this year than last.

"I am therefore disposed to modify my last reports as to the great pressure people would feel, and I am of opinion that it will be greatly alleviated.

"There will, however, be a great deal of distress, as I said before, amongst those classes who cannot command labour owing to age, sickness, and the exigencies of their position, and I cannot but think that it would be as well to open up road works as relief measures, as I reported in my No. 266 of the 22nd October. An average wage of six pies a day would help people of this class considerably, and supplement the earnings of the stronger and more able-bodied members of the family. The prospects of the cold-weather crops are such as have seldom been seen in this sub-division, and all want and distress will in a few months' time be out of the question; but a little relief, such as I have recommended, might be given till the end of December with advantage."

5 Rupees 1,700 have been allotted by the District Road Cess Committee to open up road works in the distressed parts of the sub-division, out of which authorization for Rs. 1,000 has already been sent to the Sub-Divisional Officer by the District Magistrate.

The Officiating Collector of Moorshedabad, Mr. Farrer, reports as follows:—

"I am unable to go over the whole of the ground on this occasion, as my information is in many respects incomplete, and I have been prevented from proceeding into the interior myself on account of your having visited this district for the purpose of the annual inspection. I intend, however, to proceed into camp in a few days, and hope to remain out until the end of the month, when I shall be able to submit a much more complete account of the actual state of affairs. On this occasion I am compelled to confine myself to general observations, as I wish to verify the evidence that I have received before embodying it in a report of this nature.

"I purpose, therefore, on this occasion dealing with the whole of the district at once in my observations, except where local peculiarities of particular tracts render special mention necessary. Taking, then, the whole district altogether, I believe that the general average yield of the amun crop will be about six annas (taking 16 annas as a full crop). Now, I believe that with a six-anna crop there would ordinarily be no very serious pinching, provided that a crop of that yield was reaped in every mourah in the district. This, however, is not the case, as of course the higher lands west of the Bhagirathi have suffered more from the scantiness of the rainfall than the low-lying lands in the three thanas Burwa, Hariharpara and Nawada east of that river, and to the south of the district. There is a tract of country in those three thanas called the Kalantur, where a bumper crop will be reaped, and this of course brings up the average for the district. The distribution of the rainfall this last season was also very peculiar, as on some occasions when copious rain fell in one quarter there was little or none in other parts of the district. Thus in thana Sagurdighi, west of the Bhagirathi, the rainfall was sufficiently abundant to permit of about 14 annas of the cultivable area being planted out, and a twelve-anna crop is there expected, whereas in thana Kalyangunge, immediately south of it, not more than 8 annas of the land have been cultivated, and not even a six-anna crop can be expected.

“The prospects of the amun are worst in the following thanas and outposts:—

Jungipore Sub-division.

- (1.) Suti.
- (2.) Mirzapore.

Lalbagh Sub-division.

- (1.) Kalyangunge (4 annas).
- (2.) Bhagwangola.

Sudder Sub-division.

- | | |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| (1.) Jellinghee. | } 5 to 6 annas. |
| (2.) Dowlutbazar. | |
| (3.) Goas. | |
| (4.) Part of Burwa. | |

Kandi Sub-division.

- (1.) Thana Khargram.
- (2.) Outpost Gokurn.
- (3.) Outpost Saktipore.

“Regarding the district as a whole, I think that the pinching is being and will be most acutely felt in the tract called the Rarh, the part of the district lying to the west of the Bhagirathi. This tract comprises thanas Suti and Mirzapore in the Jungipore sub-division, thana Kalyangunge in the Lalbagh sub-division, and the whole of the Kandi sub-division. I append a statement showing what provision has been made by the District Road Cess Committee for employing those who must have labour in order to live. The work has not been given out to contractors as in other years. The overseers pay the coolies direct. The ordinary rates are being given for earthwork and surface dressing: for the former Rs. 1-9 per 1,000 cubic feet, and for the latter 4 annas per 100 running feet. We have been carefully watching the numbers that assembled on these works: and so far there has been no remarkable rush. In fact, fewer have come in search of work than we expected. On all the roads throughout the district there have never been so many as 1,000 men working in the same day, but at this rate our funds would be exhausted by February next, if not sooner, and the question as to how the indigent must be employed will then arise.

“The present estimate then of the yield of the amun crop is that it will be six annas of a bumper crop; but, as I have already explained, there are many small tracts here and there where, owing to the peculiar distribution of the rainfall on the high level on which the land lies, not more than one or two annas will be reaped. The general average is brought up to six annas by the excellent harvest which is expected on the low lands known as the Kalantur.

“The rubbee crops have been sown under most favourable circumstances throughout the whole district, and are doing well, except in parts of Jungipore and Lalbagh sub-divisions, where they are said to have been damaged by caterpillars (sua), but unfortunately the amun crop is worst in the Rarh country (west of the Bhagirathi), where the soil is most unsuitable for the production of rubbee crops, and the ryots have, therefore, but little hope of being able to put down crops of this kind to recoup themselves for the failure of their rice. They are, however, making experiments in the Kalyangunge thana with rubbee crops of different kinds, and the result must be awaited. It is unfortunate that these experiments should have to be made under circumstances so unfavourable: and this is evidence of the necessity of a Government experimental farm in each district, where the suitability of different kinds of soil for the several crops could be tested. In an emergency of this kind the ryots would then know what to sow.

“Undoubtedly the rain that fell during the last week of October effected a most marked improvement in the prospects of the amun rice, and elsewhere left the soil in a very fit condition for receiving the rubbee crops. The result was that most of the mahajans again consented to issue loans of money and rice, and this brought much relief to all that large class which subsist by cultivation.

"As regards the condition of the labouring class proper there is no immediate cause for anxiety. They are finding employment on our district roads, and there will very shortly be a demand for labour in the silk filatures and for reaping the amun rice. Next month we shall be in a position to say whether other relief works will or will not be necessary. The evidence at present before me is insufficient to enable me to form any final judgment on so important a question. I have heard a great deal of conflicting evidence, but must see the actual state of affairs with my own eyes before I can deliver an opinion: for the immediate present, sufficient provision is being made.

"Mr. Veasey's estimate of the stocks of old rice still remains good. Rice is still coming in from Beerbhoom, where I believe the stock of old rice is not inconsiderable. The market is slightly easier owing to the good reports received from other rice-producing districts. In Berhampore common rice is selling at 14 seers the rupee, and at Raghunathgunge in Jungipore at 14½ seers. In Kandi the rate is 13½ seers. The trade in general is dull, owing to the general poverty which of course prevails, this being the third bad season in succession.

"With reference, however, to my remarks, in which I estimate the outturn of the amun crop at 6 annas for the whole district, I beg to observe that it is not quite clear from the reports I have received that the two issues that arise have not been confused together. The only rational way of estimating the outturn of the crop in a year like the present; in which the work of transplanting has been rendered partially impossible by want of rain, is to determine (1) what proportion (in annas) of the area ordinarily under rice cultivation, taking that as 16 annas, has been planted out; and (2) what kind of a crop (in annas) may be expected on the land which has been transplanted. Thus if only 8 annas of the rice-growing area have been transplanted out, and only an 8-anna yield is expected over that area, there will only be a 4-anna crop reaped. I am directing Sub-Divisional Officers to separate these two issues in their next reports, in order that all confusion may be avoided, and I shall then be able to determine what proportion the present crop bears to a bumper crop in an ordinary season. Last year the question was a simpler one, as the first part of the season was favourable, and the whole of the area was planted out. A portion of the crop perished owing to the failure of the rains in September. On this and other doubtful points I shall endeavour to give a final expression of opinion in my report, which will be submitted at the end of the month."

7. It will be seen from the above extracts from the district reports that there has been considerable improvement in Nuddea. This report corresponds entirely with the opinion I have formed from my own observations during my tour. Mr. Farrer, in Moorshedabad, reserves his final opinion till after a tour he contemplates making during this fortnight. I have, however, seen a considerable part of that district, and though I will await that report, I may now say that the result of my own observations leads me to think that even then there will be no severe distress. I have traversed the Moorshedabad district from Nulhatti to Berhampore, from Berhampore to Kandi, and along the banks of the Bhagirathi from Berhampore to Kishnaghur. The crops which I saw were on the whole better than I had expected to see. The cold-weather crops generally were excellent on the banks of the Bhagirathi: in Moorshedabad, some of them had been attacked by caterpillars. The extent of the damage that would result was uncertain, and next report will tell more of this. I trust, however, that the injury may prove less than was feared. I saw no signs of emaciation or anything indicating any suffering from want of food. An attempt was made to have a gathering of claimants for charity, when I was at Kandi, by way of a demonstration. It was, however, a complete failure. I have seen in ordinary and prosperous times a larger gathering of suitable objects of charity at the distribution on a Sunday of a rupee's worth of rice. Perhaps the worst part of the country I saw was in the Gokurn thana in the Kandi subdivision. Even there, however, the Deputy Magistrate, after making allowance for land left out of cultivation, estimated the outturn of the rice crop at one-fourth of an average crop, and the people were busy with grain and other cold-weather crops.

8. Mr. Farrer met me at my halting stages on my way from Berhampore to Kishnaghur in his district, but he examined the country on the bank of the river opposite to that in which I travelled, so that he would report to me of the country I did not see. His observations corresponded with my own. They were made after the report of which the substances extracted above was written.

9. With regard to relief, I do not think that more is at present needed in either district than is being done. The opening of the silk filatures in Moorshedabad will give a large amount of labour, and will probably tend to draw away even those now employed on the roads; and it will be seen from the Magistrate's report that so far there has been no large or unusual rush. In Nuddea, where I am at present, and whence, consequently, I have the most recent information, the attendance has been falling off, the ordinary sources of labour, and notably the cold-weather crops, drawing them away.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 13th December 1884.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIV.	1 Burdwan, Dec. 13 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Outturn of amun paddy is generally not more than 6 annas. Rubbee crops promise well. Price of common rice varies from 15½ to 17 seers per rupee. Public health on the whole fair.
	2 Bankoora, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold and occasionally cloudy. Cutting of amun paddy continues. Prospects of winter crops generally promising. Public health good; fever abating.
	3 Beerbhoom, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold and fine. Amun paddy is being harvested; general outturn below the average. Sugarcane and other rubbee crops doing well. Food-grains cheaper. Cases of cholera are reported, general health otherwise good.
	4 Midnapore, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of all crops good. Sporadic cases of cholera in many parts of the district.
	5 Hooghly, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops favourable. Fever and cholera still prevalent, but they are abating.
	Howrah, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Amun paddy is being reaped with good outturn. Winter crops promise well.
Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	6 24-Pergha, Dec. 15 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crop are decidedly over the average. Public health generally good, though cases of cholera are reported from Diamond Harbour.
	7 Nuddoa, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cool, but slightly cloudy occasionally. Winter crops doing well.
	8 Khoolna, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—mornings foggy, days clear. Harvesting of paddy going on well. Public health fair.
	9 Jessore, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold. Harvesting of amun paddy still continues, prospects favourable. Cholera prevalent in some places in the Narail sub-division and fever in the Bongong sub-division.
RAJSHAH DIV.	10 Moorshedabad, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—bright and cool; cloudy at times. Amun paddy still being harvested. Rubbee crops good everywhere, though some damage is being done by insects. Rice is selling at from 14 to 17 seers per rupee. Public health good; cholera gradually disappearing.
	11 Dinagore, Dec. 12 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Amun and sugarcane are still being cut; outturn expected to be fair. Prospects of rubbee crops good. Price of rice varies from 12 to 18 seers per rupee.
	12 Rajshahye, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cool. Harvesting of amun paddy still in progress. Rubbee crops promising well. Public health not good.
	13 Rungpore „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of winter crops good. Amun is being cut. Fever still prevalent. Cholera reported from the Gaibanda sub-division.
	14 Bogra, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—getting colder. Amun paddy being harvested. Cold-weather crops doing fairly well. Public health fair.
	15 Pubna, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—cold. Winter crops doing well. Fever abating in Seraiganj.
	16 Darjeeling, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—frosty and clear. Haimanti paddy and murwa show a falling off in yield owing to want of rain during the transplanting season. Public health good.
DAHA DIV.	17 Julpigoree, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; mornings foggy. Haimanti paddy being cut and is on the whole a fair crop, though below the average. Cold-weather crops all doing well. Public health fairly good; fever still prevalent.
	Eastern Districts.
	18 Dacca, Dec. 13 '84	Nil	Weather—cold. Amun and roachia paddy are being harvested; outturn good. Cutting of sugarcane continues. Pulses are being sown. Boro being transplanted. Prospects of crops good. Some cases of cholera are reported from parts of the district.
	19 Furreedpore, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold and clear. Condition of crops good. Prices falling. Cholera abating.
	20 Backergunge, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Reaping of amun paddy continues. Fever and cholera are still prevailing in some parts of the district.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops good. Cholera still present in the district, but it is abating.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.

Eastern Districts.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	22 Chittagong, Dec. 15 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops good. Outturn of amun paddy is estimated at twelve annas. Prices of food-grains stationary. Cholera still reported.
	23 Noakholly, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—fair and seasonable. Amun paddy is being harvested. Rubbee crops are being sown. Cholera reported from Ramgunge, Begumgunge, and Senbag.
	24 Tipperah, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable, cool and fine. Harvesting of paddy continues with good outturn. Rubbee crops thriving well. Prices stationary. Cholera reported from several stations, otherwise public health good.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 9 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; cold and foggy in the morning. Gathering of cotton nearly over. Mustard is being sown. Plough-paddy doing well. Public health fairly good.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—seasonably cool. Amun paddy is still being reaped. Til and cotton are being gathered. Sowing of chillies, tobacco and mustard completed. Public health good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, Dec. 13 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Reaping of paddy and jowar is going on. Rubbee crops are growing splendidly. Gram, peas and linseed are flowering. Poppy is growing well. Public health good.
	27 Gya, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—rather cool and dry until this day, when sky cloudy. Both rubbee and poppy crops promise well. Paddy and kurthee are in process of harvesting. Sugarcane pressing has commenced. Public health good.
	28 Shahabad, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy. Prospects of crops, including those of poppy, excellent.
	29 Durbhunga, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Tobacco, paddy and rubbee crops doing well. New rice coming into the market. Prices almost stationary except those of the new rice which is slightly falling. Public health good.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of paddy in progress; rubbee crops continue to be very promising. Prospects of poppy generally favourable, excepting slight injury done by grasshoppers in certain places.
	31 Sarun, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—fair; gradually getting colder. Harvesting of paddy briskly going on; prospects of rubbee crops continue favourable; young poppy plants are looking strong and healthy. Prices of food-grains falling. Public health good.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	32 Chumparun „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops continue favourable. Aghani paddy is being reaped. Young poppy plants looking healthy, weeding is in progress. Public health good; some cases of fever are reported from the interior.
	33 Monghyr, Dec. 13 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable; warmer and cloudy last two days. Aghani paddy is being reaped throughout the district. Prospects of rubbee crops continue good. Prospects of poppy good. Prices stationary. Outbreak of small-pox reported at Kharagpur, otherwise public health good.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold and bright, warm and cloudy for last two days of the week. Harvesting of paddy going on; 11 annas outturn in the south, 12 annas in the north expected. Rubbee crops promising, but some injury has been done by blight. Public health good, but some cases of fever are reported from the tracts on the banks of the Kusi. Prices falling. Rice selling at 14 seers per rupee in the south and 20 seers in the north.
	35 Purneah, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. Prospects of rubbee crops still continue good; rain will soon be required, however, in parts of the district. Aghani paddy very poor in the Sudder thana. A few cases of cholera, fever abating.
	36 Maldah, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—fine and cool. Harvesting of winter paddy continues; the general outturn is about eight annas of an average crop. Prospects of rubbee crops good. Kalaigud mustard have been damaged by insects. Prices of food-grains stationary. General health good.
	37 Sonthal Perga, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—cold with occasional clouds. Cutting of aghani paddy is now well advanced. Prospects of rubbee crops continue to be favourable; a little rain would considerably improve these crops. Prices inclining to fall. Public health good.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN.	38 Cuttack, Dec. 12 '84	Nil	Weather—very cold. Reaping of sarad in progress; late sarad ripening and in some places it is being cut with favourable outturn. Rubbee crops flowering. Price of rice stationary, notwithstanding the large export. Public health generally good except that cholera still continues here and there.
	39 Pooree, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Sarad is being harvested. Dalua and rubbee crops are being sown. Sugarcane is being crushed. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Common rice selling at an average of 22 seers 10 chittacks per rupee in the Sudder sub-division and 25 seers 5 chittacks in the Khorda sub-division. Cholera still reported.
	40 Balasore „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of sarad in progress. Prospects of rubbee crops continue favorable. Sporadic cases of cholera and fever are reported from the interior.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazaribagh, Dec. 12 '84	Nil	Weather—very cold. Harvesting of paddy continues. Rubbee crops doing well. Prospect of poppy fair where water is procurable. Public health generally good.
42	Lohardugga, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Sky cloudy at times, and it is hoped some rain may soon fall which will prove very beneficial to rubbee crops, prospects of which continue generally good. Harvesting of paddy mostly over. Prices easy. General health good.
43	Singbhoom, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of late paddy continues with an excellent outturn. All cold-weather crops are also doing well. General health good.
44	Manbhoom, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of paddy continues briskly. Sugarcane and cotton growing. Coarse rice (new) sold at the Purulia market on the 13th instant at 22 seers per rupee. Public health good.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1884.

Normal Meteorological features of the month.—The usual conditions of the meteorology in Bengal during November are simple; the north-east monsoon generally establishes itself in Bengal before the close of October, and thus November is characterized by rapidly falling temperatures, especially at night, clear if not cloudless skies, and little or no rain. Wind directions too are usually northerly with a more or less westerly element in them, and generally only light and gentle winds prevail. These northerly winds gradually drive back the south-west monsoon winds which had previously swept over the whole Bay, and cause them to curve inwards and to re-appear on the Madras coast as what is there called the north-east monsoon, which current gives heavy rain to the Madras Presidency. These conditions are, however, liable to be disturbed by two causes: the first of which is the formation in the Bay of Bengal of a cyclonic vortex, large or small as the case may be, generated by the condensation of large quantities of rain in the front of the gradually retreating south-west monsoon, which, although it has ceased to affect Bengal, continues to blow in the south of the Bay during a great part of November. The formation of such a vortex has at all times an influence on the weather in Bengal, and while, if it passes into Bengal, the whole weather conditions are completely changed, yet even if it passes into Burma or into Southern India the weather conditions are always more or less affected by it. It is, however, very rarely that a cyclone thus generated in the Bay passes into Bengal in November, and in those cases, where cyclones have thus passed into Bengal in this month, it is usually quite at its commencement, for during the latter part of this month cyclones are only formed in the south of the Bay and usually pass towards the Madras coast, striking it between Madras and Negapatam.

The second disturbing element in the weather of November is from an opposite cause, and is due to the occurrence of land storms generated, it is believed, usually in the Punjab, which storms drift eastwards through the North-West Provinces, and sometimes influence the weather in Behar and Bengal very considerably. It is, however, an extremely rare thing for such a storm to enter Bengal in November, though they sometimes do so in the later months of the north-east monsoon.

In the case of both disturbing causes, they produce clouded skies, increased humidity and temperature, and light to moderate rain, or if the locality is directly influenced by a cyclone, then of course heavy rain is received. Excepting, therefore, under these circumstances, weather during November is fine with passing clouds, and there is little, if any, rainfall. The average normal rainfall in the whole of the provinces, excepting the Chittagong, Backergunge and Noakholly districts of East Bengal, and the Cuttack and Pooree districts in Orissa, is not more than a few tenths of an inch, while in these exceptional districts the average rainfall varies only from one to three inches.

Meteorological summary of the month.—During the closing week of October a considerable burst of rainfall occurred over the greater part of Bengal; but on and after the 27th the north-east monsoon had spread itself over the whole province, giving northerly winds with fine weather, a falling temperature, and clear skies. South-west monsoon winds were, however, probably still blowing in the centre of the Bay, and weather became unsettled in the Bay on the 31st instant, with the result that a small cyclonic whirl was generated near the head of the Bay. This storm must have been comparatively small and local, though rather severe in character, for it gave little or no indication of its existence till it reached the Chittagong coast on the 1st of November, crossing the mouth of the Megna into the Noakholly and Commillah districts. It had, however, filled up and almost disappeared before the 2nd, and thus the observations gave little indication of its character. Very strong winds, however, accompanied it and blew at Chittagong from about noon to 5 p.m. of the 1st, during which time they did a considerable amount of damage. Heavy rain accompanied this storm, and was received in the districts through which it passed, as will be subsequently noticed. On the morning of the 3rd, north-east monsoon gradients were again established in the Bay, and the south-west monsoon current was deflected towards the Madras coast, reaching it as a north-easterly current, when it occasioned very heavy rain; Madras receiving nearly 23 inches and Negapatam 21½ inches in the period from the 3rd to the 10th of the month. The strong monsoon thus blowing on the Madras coast intensified the north-east monsoon winds in Bengal, and one of the principal features in the meteorology of the month has been the rapid and complete establishment of the cold weather conditions. Towards the middle of the month, however, rain ceased to fall for some days along the Madras coast, and it was shewn by the logs of several vessels received during the month that heavy rainfall was occurring over the sea area in the south of the Bay from the 11th to the 16th. This was at first accompanied in Bengal by a falling barometer, and the skies commenced to cloud over, while a few light showers fell in Orissa and East Bengal. The excessive rainfall at sea apparently accompanied or gave rise to a small cyclonic disturbance which passed across the Madras coast on the morning of the 21st, giving extremely heavy rain again in the districts through which it passed. The indraught to this storm, as it passed inland, again increased the intensity of the north-east monsoon conditions in Bengal, and with the continuance of the strong monsoon on the Madras coast, these conditions have held up to the close of the month, and the whole of the latter portion of it has again been characterised by the steadiness of the northerly and westerly winds, the absence of cloud, the comparatively low temperature, especially at nights, and the dryness of the air.

Pressure—Was at the commencement of the month decidedly below the normal owing to the approach of the small cyclonic storm noted above, and afterwards with the re-establishment of the north-east monsoon conditions it commenced to increase, and then oscillated within narrow limits about the normal until the second week, when a rapidly falling barometer gave rise to the formation of cloud in Bengal. From the 14th, however, pressure recovered itself, but only to decrease again during the formation of the small cyclone in the south of the Bay. When the storm had passed inland, pressure again increased and has been generally above the average up to the close of the month. The mean pressure of the month has thus been slightly above the normal, but this excess is to a great extent confined to Behar, where it equals 0·04", and to parts of South-West Bengal where it equals 0·02" nearly.

Temperature—Has been in all districts very considerably in defect. The average defect for the whole province has been more than 3°, and it varies from 5·4° at Purneah to 2·1° at Bankipore. The defect appears to be principally due to the unusually low night temperatures which have been experienced during this month, and which in some instances have averaged nearly seven degrees below the normal mean.

Rainfall—During the month has been practically confined to two short periods, and also to a few localities as mentioned above. The first period was with the passage inland of the small cyclonic storm on the 1st. This storm gave an average rainfall of 7·8 inches to the Noakholly district, to Backergunge 4·3 inches, to Chittagong 2·5 inches, and to Comilla 1·8 inches. The average rainfall received by East Bengal on the 1st instant was 2·2 inches, and in addition a few isolated showers were received at some of the eastern stations of South-West Bengal and in North Bengal. A few showers were again received on the 2nd instant at some of the stations in East Bengal and at one station in South-West Bengal. The next period during which any rain fell in Bengal was from the 11th to the 14th, where, as explained above, the barometer steadily fell for some days and caused the formation of clouds which resulted in the fall of slight showers of rain in East Bengal and in Orissa. Again on the 27th a slight shower was reported from Darjeeling, and on the 28th and 29th a few drops of rain fell at Kalimpong in the Darjeeling district. With these exceptions, the latter being of course very trifling, no rain whatever has been received in Bengal during November.

The rainfall has thus been very much below the average in all districts except East Bengal, where there has been a decided excess. East Bengal has received nearly three times its normal fall, North Bengal a quarter of the normal fall, South-West Bengal a sixth, and Orissa only a fortieth of the normal fall, while North and South Behar and Chutia Nagpur have received absolutely no rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of November 1884:—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 100. The normal means of rainfall are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisions from the district (4.a.), the total rainfall at the sub-divisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rain-period for the past ten years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "district observations" for the period in question during the past 12 years. The means for the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall returns received day is one on which at least an hundredth of an inch fell.

CALCUTTA, the 15th December 1884.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 12TH DECEMBER 1884.

The past week has again been characterized by unusually high pressure and low temperature over the whole Province, while at no single station has any rain been reported. These conditions are similar to those which have obtained in Bengal since the establishment of the present north-east monsoon.

Pressure had been high for the greater part of the previous week, and it increased steadily up to the 7th, when a fall set in, in most cases extending over two or three days, and this was followed by a rebound, which at the close of the week left the barometer higher even than it had been at the beginning of the week. These changes were of course only of the usual oscillatory nature, and were of no practical significance as to alteration of weather conditions. Thus the pressure for the week has been in all districts considerably above the normal. Behar still continues to be an area of relatively excess pressure, and at Durbhunga the mean excess for the week was 0.101 inch; in other districts the excess varied from 0.078 inch at Calcutta to 0.041 inch at Saugor Island.

This accumulation of pressure has probably been due to the continuance of the unusually low temperature which has been noticed in the previous weekly reports, and again this week it has to be recorded that in every district temperature has been below the average by amounts varying between 5° and 6° at False Point and Gya to between 1° and 2° at Bankipore and Durbhunga. The average defect of temperature has been greatest in the Orissa Division, where it amounts to nearly 5°; it was 3° and upwards in the South Behar and East Bengal districts, and between 2° and 3° in South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and North Behar districts. The night temperatures were again particularly low for the time of year, as may be seen from the following table, which gives the normal and actual mean maximum and minimum temperatures at seven stations, and which therefore illustrates clearly the temperature variations of the past week:—

				MAXIMUM DAY TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.	MINIMUM NIGHT TEMPERATURE.		Deficiency.

The mean temperature of the seven days

The extreme variation of temperature

The maximum temperature

The mean relative humidity

The total fall of rain from 7th to 13th Decen

The mean temperature and humidity are obtained by applying to the mean of 11th, 16th and minimum readings a correction dependent on the rain and derived from the hourly observations at the Surveyor-General's Office, Chowringhee, in past years.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 15th December 1884.

W. L. DALLA,
Meteorological Reporter to Govt. of India.

MEMORANDA.

The principal features in the statistics of the first class Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 29th November 1884, as presented in the statement appended to this Memorandum, are the following:—

1. That births were registered at 42·3 per 1,000, as compared with 39·4 and 39·6 per 1,000, respectively, during the corresponding weeks ending 22nd November 1884, exhibiting a satisfactory improvement in the record of these events.

That the highest proportions of births and deaths were returned by the following Municipalities:—

Births.			Deaths.
		Ratio per mille.			Ratio per mille.
Muzaffarpore	53·5	Chittagong	72·7
Serampore	51·0	Serampore	70·6
Hughur	50·6	Suburbs of Calcutta	58·9

General Remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during four weeks ended 25th October 1884.

INCREASES.

Gram and Pulses.—The increase in these staples is due to the scarcity in the Bombay Presidency and in Oudh.

Shell Lac.—This is attributable to an improved demand in England.

Oil.—Larger indents from the Mofussil in consequence of reduction in the price of imported oil, has caused the increase in this staple.

DECREASES.

Coal.—The decrease in the upwards coal is due to stoppage of supplies to the R. M. Railway and the indents from other Foreign Railways having been less than last year. The falling off in the downwards coal is accounted for by the dulness of the Calcutta market.

Cotton.—The old crop having been exhausted and the new crop being late, caused the decrease in this commodity.

Piece-goods.—This decrease is accounted for by the Doorga Poojah and Luckee Poojah festivals having fallen earlier this year than in 1883, and the consequence is that the decrease shown in this month is covered by the increase in the last month ended 27th September 1884.

Wheat.—There has been no improvement in this staple, and the falling off is entirely due to absence of demand for export.

Indigo.—Want of brisk demand in the Calcutta market is the cause for this decrease.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—Due to partial failure of last season's crop owing to deficient rainfall.

Railway Materials, Foreign.—Decreased despatches of material to State and other Railways resulted in this decrease.

Salt.—An increase in weight attended with a decrease in the earnings may be attributed to the reduced rates for upwards and downwards salt: the latter came into force on the 1st October 1884.

Seeds.—The stocks of rape seed having been exhausted and supplies of other seeds much reduced, the prices asked were too high for shippers, hence this decrease.

Sugar and Jaggree.—Deficient and irregular rainfall last season injured the sugar-cane crop, and this falling off in the staples was the result.

Tobacco.—This is assignable to the demand for this staple being limited owing to the markets being dull.

Ghee.—This falling off is attributed to the prices being too high for business to be done at the principal ghee-producing stations.

NORTH INDIAN OCEAN—ARABIAN SEA.

MINIKOI—ISLAND.

Intended exhibition of Revolving Light.

THE Trinity House, London, has given notice, that early in the month of January 1885, it is intended to exhibit a light from a Lighthouse, not nearly completed, on the South-West part of Minikoi Island, between the Lakadivh and Maldivh groups.

The light will be a white light, revolving every half-minute, elevated 150 feet above high-water, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 19 miles.

On a S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. bearing the light will be obscured by cocoanut trees within a distance of about 8 miles; this obscuration will extend through an arc of 74° to the bearing of W. N. W., where the distance the light is obscured will decrease to about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

The top of the Lighthouse, which is built of black brick, and the lantern, will be visible by day above the trees.

Position approximate, latitude $8^{\circ} 16' N.$, longitude $73^{\circ} 01' E.$

Further notice will be given on the exhibition of this light.

The bearings are magnetic.

RESOLUTION.—In accordance with the decision of the Secretary of State, the Governor-General in Council directs the publication of the following orders regarding the Engineer Establishment of the Public Works Department:—

- I. (a).—The number of Executive and Assistant Engineers on any list, taken together, will be divided equally between the two classes, an addition of one to the number of Executive Engineers being made for a fraction.
- (b).—The number of Executive Engineers in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades will be in the proportion of 8, 9, 10 and 12 respectively.
- (c).—Half the number of Assistant Engineers will be in the first grade, an addition of one being made for a fraction.
- (d).—The numbers in the three higher grades of Executive Engineers, and in the first grade of Assistant Engineers, as determined by (b) and (c), will be increased so as to allow of the permanent promotion of a number of officers from the junior grades of those classes, corresponding to the normal number of officers on furlough, as ordered in Public Works Department Resolution No. 1174G., dated 4th June 1880.

II. (a).—The of the following grades will in future be—

Executive Engineer, 3rd grade, Rs. 700 a mc
 " 4th " " 600 . ,
 Assistant Engineer, 1st " " 500 . ,

(b).—Assistant Engineers, 2nd grade, will receive Rs. 400 a month instead of Rs. 350, after 3 years' service in the grade.

(c).—Increases of officers of Royal Engineers, who draw staff salary in addition to military pay and allowances, the increases under (a) and (b) will take the form of an addition of Rs. 50 a month to staff salary, and to the maximum pay of their grade.

(d).—An increase of Rs. 50 a month to the salaries of Assistant Engineers, 2nd grade, after 3 years' service in their grade, will be given on specific recommendations on account of satisfactory service, and cannot be claimed as a right. The increase may be sanctioned by Local Governments and Administrations.

III.—Certain Civil Engineers with English training, appointed in India, will be allowed the same privileges under the pension rules, in all respects, as officers included in Schedule B, I, II and III (1) of the Civil Pension Code. A nominal roll of these officers will be added to the Civil Pension Code hereafter.

IV.—In regard to Civil Engineers, appointed in India from the Civil Engineering Colleges or otherwise, and not included under III, who may rise to the rank of Superintending Engineer, the Government of India will be prepared to consider favourably their admission to the pension rules applicable to those included in Schedule B, I, II and III (1). This rule is subject to any general restriction that may hereafter be prescribed as to the amount of pension payable to public servants who are natives of India.

V.—Civil Engineers who were appointed to the Department as Assistant Engineers, 1st grade, after they had left other employment in India, will be allowed, on account of previous experience, to add to their pensionable service a period not exceeding 3 years, provided such previous experience was not acquired before the age of 25.

VI.—These rules will come into force on 1st January 1885.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Local Govern-

RESOLUTION—The rules regulating the admission of students to the Engineering Colleges, and the manner in which appointments in the Engineering Branch of the Public Works Department may be obtained by students of these Colleges, are contained in the Resolutions of the Government of India in the Public Works Department of 11th November 1882 and 14th February 1883. These Resolutions modified the previously existing rules in several respects, and notably in giving to students of pure Indian descent a preference over all other students for guaranteed appointments in the Public Works Department. As long ago as 1876 it had been remarked by the Secretary of State that very few persons of pure Indian origin succeeded in obtaining appointments in the public service through the Engineering Class of the Thomason College, and between that time and the year 1882 he had repeatedly urged on the Government of India the advisability of giving to pure natives a preferential claim to such appointments. The Government of India, while recognising the desirableness of attracting natives of India to the Engineer Department, hesitated to give an exclusive preference to one class of natives of India as defined by Statute, and the discussions on this point ranged over a considerable period. Ultimately the Governor-General in Council acquiesced in the proposals of the Secretary of State, being influenced mainly by the consideration that, owing to reductions in the Public Works Department, the number of appointments available for pupils of the Indian Colleges had become so small that in no other way could the object in view be attained. The number of appointments guaranteed to the four Indian Colleges was no more than six for the year 1885 and seven for 1886, and under these circumstances almost the only way of facilitating the candidature of pure natives seemed to be to give them a preference over other students. Shortly after the issue of the Resolutions in question, memorials were received from various Associations of domiciled Europeans and Eurasians in India, remonstrating against the disadvantage at which persons of their class were placed by the new rules. These memorials were forwarded to the Secretary of State with a despatch from the Government of India of 28th July 1883, in which the Governor-General in Council remarked that although, looking to the small number of appointments involved, the memorialists appeared to exaggerate somewhat the practical effect of the rules upon their interests, he could not but think that "they had a certain solid foundation for their dissatisfaction, and that their representations deserved attention." The Governor-General in Council accordingly recommended that arrangements should be made in regard to the recruiting of the Public Works Department which would have the effect of increasing the number of appointments available for the Indian Colleges to eleven, and that with this extension of the field of employment the area of competition might again be widened so as to include all persons coming under the statutory definition of natives of India. Considerable correspondence has since taken place upon various points of detail in this scheme, and the Secretary of State has now decided that the annual recruitment from the Indian Colleges shall be fixed at nine. Although somewhat smaller than what they had recommended, the Government of India believe that this increase in the number of appointments, taken in connection with the changes made in other respects in the rules of admission to the College, renders it unnecessary to maintain a preference in favour of students of pure Indian descent, and that the object with which that preference was given may now be sufficiently attained without it. In future, therefore, all students coming under the statutory definition of natives of India will be eligible to compete for the guaranteed appointments in the Public Works Department.

The appointments will, for the present, be allotted as follows:—

To Thomason College, Burki	...	4 and 5 alternately.
Seebpore	...	2 and 1 "
Madras Civil Engineering College	...	1
Poona College of Science	...	2

ORDER.—Ordered, that this resolution be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin; also that it be published in the Gazette of India and in all local official Gazettes.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

- 1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such exportation.
- 2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 80 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of the Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.
- 3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by public notice, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and shall continue until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said promissory note shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note, or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his agent.

12.—The officer rejecting, at his discretion, the tender at the time of sale, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand or Government Stamp deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or otherwise be able to furnish securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the minimum lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the 14.—Price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in the succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five chests, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when picked at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be ascertained on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Offg. Secretary.

The 18th December 1884.

No. 2181.—The following Order in Council providing for the recognition in the United Kingdom of the certificates of survey to be issued by the Government of Bengal to passenger steamers at Calcutta, is published for general information

AT THE COURT AT BALMORAL.

The 17th day of October 1884.

PRESENT:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1876, it is enacted that, when the Legislature of any British Possession provides for the survey of and grant of certificates for passenger steamers, and the Board of Trade report to Her Majesty that they are satisfied that the certificates are to the like effect, and are granted after a like survey, and in such manner as to be equally efficient with the certificates granted for the same purpose in the United Kingdom under the Acts relating to Merchant Shipping, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by Order in Council;

1. To declare that the said certificates shall be of the same force as if they had been granted under the said Acts; and
2. To declare that all or any of the provisions of the said Acts which relate to certificates granted for passenger steamers under those Acts shall, either without modification, or with such modifications as to Her Majesty may seem fit, apply to the certificates referred to in the order; and
3. To impose such conditions and to make such regulations in respect to the said certificates, and to the use, delivery, and cancellation thereof, as Her Majesty may seem fit, and to impose penalties not exceeding fifty pounds for the breach of such conditions and regulations.

And whereas the Legislature of the British Possession of Bengal has provided for the survey of and grant of certificates for passenger steamers.

And whereas the Board of Trade have reported to Her Majesty that they were satisfied that such certificates are to the like effect, and are granted after a like survey, and in such manner as to be equally efficient with the certificates granted for the same purpose in the United Kingdom under the Acts relating to Merchant Shipping.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, in virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct—

1. That the certificates granted under the said provision by the Legislature of the British Possession of Bengal for passenger steamers shall be of the same force as if they had been granted for the same purpose in the United Kingdom under the said Acts relating to Merchant Shipping.
2. That all the provisions of the said Acts which relate to certificates granted for passenger steamers under those Acts shall, without modification, except as hereinafter mentioned, apply to the certificates referred to in this order.
3. That it shall not be lawful for a passenger steamer to which this order relates to proceed to sea with passengers on board from any port or place in the United Kingdom on any voyage to any port in Canada or the United States of America.

4. That if any such passenger steamer goes to sea from any port in the United Kingdom with any passengers on board, upon any voyage to any port in Canada or the United States of America, the owner thereof shall for every such offence incur a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, and such penalty is hereby imposed accordingly.

(j) Reference to entries made in the intermediate register after the preparation of the general register.

22. Intermediate registers shall be kept for the purpose of recording therein from time to time changes affecting the entries which stand on the general register, so that by a reference to them in connection with such register, correct information up to date on the points recorded may be obtained at any time; also for the purpose of keeping together as far as possible in a convenient form the information which will eventually be required for re-writing the general register.

23. In the register of leases and counterpart leases the following leases and counterpart leases, relating to tenures registered under this Act, shall be entered, and such entries shall be authenticated by the seal and signature of the Collector of the district:—

Leases and counterpart leases which have been registered under any law for the time being for the registration of documents.

Leases produced by the tenure-holder which shall be admitted by the landlord or correspond to the counterpart lease produced by him and counterpart leases produced under similar conditions.

Leases and counterpart leases found to be genuine by a judgment of a Civil Court binding upon landlord and tenure-holder.

And no others.

Such registers shall be public records kept in British India of private documents within the meaning attached to these words by section 74, clause 2, of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

24. The Board may order new registers to be prepared whenever it may think fit, and such registers shall be prepared from the register existing at the time of such order and from the entries of subsequent changes in the intermediate registers; and such additions to, omissions from, and alterations in the entries as appeared in the previous registers, shall be made as subsequent changes have rendered necessary, and the authority for every change shall be expressly referred to.

25. Whenever it shall become necessary to make any change in the names of the recorded tenure-holder or manager of any tenure, or in the character or extent of the interest of any such tenure-holder or manager, as entered in any register mentioned in this Act, on account of the death of such tenure-holder or manager, or the transfer of the tenure by private agreement, or under an order made by competent authority, the Collector shall issue a notice requiring the landlord of the tenure, if he object to the change which would otherwise be made in the entry of such register on account of such death or transfer, to tender a written statement of his objections on a day to be specified in such notice, not being less than one month from the date of the service thereof.

26. The notice shall specify the character and extent of the change to be made in the entry of the register, and shall be served upon the landlord in the manner prescribed in the Act:

Provided always that the landlord not entitled to receive such notice in respect of a permanent tenure transferred by summary sale under the Act or in execution of a decree for arrears.

27. The Collector on receiving the written statement mentioned in section twenty-five shall, if the tenure in respect of which such written statement is tendered be a tenure registered under an order of Court, transmit to such Court a copy of such written statement; and if such tenure be situated within a local area, shall transmit such written statement to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of the district in which such tenure is situated.

28. Whenever the Collector shall transmit such written statement to the Court, he shall at the same time transmit to the said Court the copy of the entry recording the registration of the tenure;

a statement showing the character and extent of the change intended to be made in such entry.

29. On receipt of such written statement and documents the Court shall proceed to enquire into and determine the matter, and for that purpose shall follow, as far as may be applicable, the procedure prescribed in Chapter I of this Act.

Every order passed under this section shall be final.

30. Whenever the Court shall pass an order under the last foregoing section it shall transmit the same to the Collector, and the Collector to whom such order is transmitted shall make the necessary change in the entry of the register in strict accordance with the terms of such order.

31. To enable the Collector more effectually to maintain his registers—

(a) Whenever any competent authority may direct that any tenure be transferred from the general register of one district to that of another, the Collector of the district from the general register of which the tenure is to be transferred shall transmit to the Collector of the district, to the general register of which the transfer is to be made, a copy of all entries in any of the registers relating to the tenure to be so transferred, and entries taken from such copy shall be made in the proper registers of the district to which the transfer is made.

(b) Whenever the Collector of any district shall make an entry or any alteration of any entry in his registers, which will affect any entry required to be made under this Act in any register of another district, such Collector shall transmit to the Collector of such other district a copy of such entry as made or as altered, and the Collector to whom such copy is transmitted shall cause the necessary entries or alterations of entries to be made in such district.

32. Within four months of the date on which this Act comes into force, the Board shall make general rules consistent with this Act regulating the procedure as to the presentation, admission and verification of the applications for registration under Chapter III of this Act, and to enquiries under section fifty-one, and generally for the purposes of this Act.

Board to make rules as to form of registers, the procedure as to the presentation, &c., of applications for registration, &c.

The Board may from time to time cancel or alter any such rules.

33. Whenever any Civil Court makes a decree confirming any transfer of proprietary possession which has already been made in any permanent tenure registered under this Act, or gives effect to any decree transferring any such possession, such Court may order the transfer to be registered in the register of the Collector, and the Collector shall subject to the provisions of sections twenty-five to thirty (both inclusive) register such transfers accordingly.

34. The Collector shall supply an extract from any register mentioned in this Act to any person who may apply for the same, subject to the payment of such fees for searching and copying as may be prescribed by the Board.

35. Nothing contained in this Act, and nothing done in accordance with this Act, shall be deemed to

(a) preclude any person from bringing a regular suit for possession of, or for a declaration of right to, any immovable property to which he may deem himself entitled,

(b) render the entry of any land in the registers under this Act as a tenure an admission on the part of the Government of the right of the person in whose name such tenure may be entered, an admission of the validity of the title under which the said tenure is held,

(c) affect the rights of the Government or any person in respect of any immovable property or of any interest except as otherwise expressly provided therein.

(d) apply to any of the tenures referred to in the Chota Nagpore Tenures Act, (B.C.) 1869, or to affect any register prepared under that Act.

CHAPTER III.

36. No provisions contained in this Chapter shall apply within the limits of any local area unless and until it has been expressly extended thereto by the Local Government under the provisions of section one of this Act.

37. Every tenure-holder in possession of a permanent tenure situated within a local area, or every person being manager of such tenure on behalf of a tenure-holder, shall, if his name and character of his interest are not already been registered, within such time as the Local Government may fix under the next succeeding section, make application in the manner hereinafter provided for the registration of his name and the character of his interest as such tenure-holder or manager to the Collector of the district in which such tenure is situated, or to any other officer who may have been empowered by the Collector to receive such application.

38. The Local Government shall, within six months from the date of the notification fix, for each local area the date, before which such tenure-holders and managers being in possession of permanent tenures situate therein at the date of such notification, shall be required to apply for registration of their names and the character of their interest under the last-foregoing section, and may at any time alter any date so fixed:

Provided that no date so fixed shall be later than after the date of the said notification.

39. No tenure-holder or manager shall incur any disability under this Chapter for failure to apply for registration of his tenure until after the lapse of six months from the date on which the notice prescribed in the next succeeding section shall have been published in respect of such tenures.

40. Every date fixed by the Local Government as provided in the two last foregoing sections shall be published by a notice in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall also be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of the Collector, in every civil court, in every police-station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the local area, and in any other manner which the Local Government may from time to time direct.

41. The officer in charge of every office, court, and police-station at which a notice is required to be published under this section shall certify to the Collector of the district in which such office, court, and police-station is situate, the date on which the notice was so published at his office, court, or police-station; and the latest date so certified shall be deemed to be the date of publication of the notice for the purposes of the two last foregoing sections.

42. Every person succeeding after the date of the notification to any permanent tenure, whether by purchase, inheritance, gift or otherwise, and every person assuming charge after such date of any tenure as manager, shall within six months from the date of such succession or assumption of charge, make application in the manner hereinafter provided to the Collector of the district on the general register of which such tenure is borne, or to any other officer who may have been empowered by such Collector to receive such application, for registration of his name and of the character of his interest as such tenure-holder or manager.

43. Every person who holds a mortgage of any permanent tenure may apply to the Collector for registration of his name as such mortgagee and of the interest in respect of which he is such mortgagee, and in such application shall specify whether he or the mortgagor is in possession. On receipt of such application the Collector shall proceed as far as possible according to the manner hereinafter prescribed in respect of application for registration as tenure-holder.

Limitation of time for making application under preceding section.

Limitation of time for incurring disabilities under this Chapter.

Publication of notice under two last foregoing sections.

Certificate of publication of notice.

Time for application for registration by person acquiring proprietary right or becoming manager after publication of notice.

Mortgages may apply for registration.

44. Any application for registration under this Chapter may be presented by the applicant or by some person duly authorized by him in that behalf.

45. If the applicant for registration under this Chapter is a joint tenure-holder or a manager, he shall in his application specify the names of his co-sharers or on behalf of whom he is manager, and the character and interest of every such person.

46. If the application be for the registration of the name of the applicant as manager appointed by the Collector, the Court of Wards, or by any Criminal or Civil Court, the Collector shall register the name of the applicant, on proof being produced to his satisfaction that the applicant has been so appointed to be such manager.

47. If the application be for registration otherwise than as manager appointed as mentioned in the foregoing section, and if it sets forth circumstances which would justify the Collector in registering the name of the person whose name is required to be registered, or if after further enquiry the Collector considers that such circumstances exist, he shall issue a notice requiring all persons who object to the registration of the name of the person whose name is required to be registered, to dispute the character or extent of the interest in respect of which it is required to be registered, and to appear on a day to be specified in such notice, not being less than one month from the date of the publication thereof.

48. Such notice shall be published by affixing a copy of the same on or at all the following places:—
the office of the Collector, the village in or adjacent to which the tenure or any part thereof is situated.

49. If the application alleges that the applicant has acquired possession of the interest in respect of the interest of which he applies to be registered by transfer from any living person, a copy of such notice shall be served on the alleged transferor by tendering to the person to whom it may be directed a copy thereof attested by the Collector, or by delivering such copy at the usual place of abode of such person or to some adult male member of his family, or, in case it cannot be so served, by posting such copy on such conspicuous part of the usual or last known place of abode of such person.

In case such notice cannot be served in any of the ways hereinbefore mentioned, it shall be served in such way as the Collector issuing such notice may direct.

No fees or other costs shall be payable by the applicant in respect of the service or publication of the notice prescribed by this and the last foregoing sections.

50. No irregularity or omission in the publication or service of notice as required by the last three foregoing sections shall affect the validity of any proceeding under this Act, unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that some material injury has been caused by such irregularity or omission.

51. On the day fixed in the notice issued under section forty-seven, or as soon thereafter as possible, the Collector shall consider any objection which may be advanced, and may appear necessary to ascertain the truth of the alleged possession, succession to, or transfer of the tenure in respect of which registration is applied for; and if it appears to the Collector that the possession exists, and that the succession or transfer has taken place, and that the applicant has acquired possession in accordance with such succession or transfer, and but not otherwise, the Collector shall order the name of the applicant to be registered in the proper registers as a joint tenure-holder or manager of the said tenure: Provided that any person to whom any permanent tenure has been mortgaged may be registered as mortgagee whether he be in actual possession or otherwise.

52. For the purpose of the enquiry mentioned in the last foregoing section, and of every inquiry held under this Chapter, the Collector may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents by the same means, and as far as possible in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

53. All costs of any enquiry or proceeding held before the Collector under this Chapter shall, except as provided in section forty-nine, be payable by the parties concerned, and the Collector may pass such orders as he shall think fit in respect of the payment of such costs.

54. If the applicant's possession of, succession to, or acquisition by transfer of, the extent of interest in respect of which he has applied to be registered, is disputed by or on behalf of any person making a conflicting claim in respect thereof, and if it is not proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any person is in possession of the interest in dispute, the Collector shall determine summarily the right to possession of the same, and shall deliver possession accordingly, and shall make the necessary entry in the registers; or if, in the opinion of the Collector, the dispute be one which can more properly be determined by a Civil Court, the Collector shall refer the matter in dispute to the Court of the Subordinate Judge for determination as herein-after provided:

Provided that if the applicant's possession of any extent of interest in accordance with his application be not disputed, or if such possession be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector, the Collector may register the said applicant's name in respect of such extent of interest, and may at the same time make a reference as hereinafter provided to the Court of the Subordinate Judge for determination of any dispute as to any further extent of interest in respect of which the applicant has applied to be registered but in respect of which the right of the applicant to be registered is disputed and is not proved to the satisfaction of the Collector.

55. In making a reference to the Court, the Subordinate Judge under the last foregoing section, the Collector shall state for the information of the said Court, in writing under his hand—the name of the tenure;

the name of the applicant for registry,
the character and extent of the interest in dispute, the circumstances of the case as far as they are before the Collector, and the reasons which may have led him to make the reference.

56. On receipt of such reference the Court shall proceed to enquire into and determine the matter, and for that purpose shall follow as far as may be applicable the procedure prescribed in Chapter I of this Act.

The provisions of section sixteen shall be applicable to any order passed under this section.

57. From and after the expiry of the time allowed for the registration of tenures under section thirty-eight, every holder or manager of a permanent tenure in an area in respect of which such notice has been published shall be precluded from suing for or recovering rent for any holding or under-tenure situate in any such tenure in respect of which no application for registration has been made.

The Collector may send a list to the Civil Courts of all such holders so making default in applying for registration as aforesaid, and such court shall take judicial notice of the same.

Whenever the required application for registration has been made, or whenever the registration of the tenure has been completed, the disability imposed on the holder thereof by this section shall cease; and if such tenure shall have been included in any list as aforesaid, the Collector shall forthwith give notice to the Civil Court of the cessation of such disability.

58. The Collector may by a notice require the holder or manager of any permanent tenure to name such tenure by a distinctive name, and in case of failure of such holder or manager to comply with the requisition within the time fixed by the Collector, may name such tenure.

59. The Collector may, by a special or general order, delegate to any Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, the performance of any duty and the exercise of any function which the Collector is required or empowered to perform or exercise under this Chapter, except in respect of appeals. And any Assistant, Deputy or Sub-Deputy Collector to whom any duty or function is so delegated may exercise all the powers of a Collector under this Chapter, except in respect of appeals.

60. Every order passed under this Chapter by any revenue officer below the rank of the Collector of the District (not being an officer specially vested with appellate powers as hereinafter mentioned) shall be appealable to the Collector of the district, or to any officer who may be specially vested by the Local Government with special appellate powers in this behalf, and there shall be no further appeal from any order so passed on appeal confirming the order appealed against, but an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division against every order so passed in appeal which modifies or reverses the order appealed against.

Every order passed by the Collector of the District or by any officer specially vested with appellate powers as aforesaid, being passed otherwise than on appeal from the order of another officer, shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division.

Every appeal to the Collector shall be presented within fifteen days of the order appealed against.

And every appeal presented after the lapse of time fixed by this section may be summarily rejected unless sufficient cause shall be shown to the satisfaction of the appellate authority, for admitting the appeal after the lapse of such time.

Every order passed by any officer subordinate to a Commissioner shall be subject at any time to revision and modification by such Commissioner.

And every order passed by any such officer or by such Commissioner shall be subject at any time to revision and modification by the Board.

61. In computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal, the day on which the order complained of was made, and the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the same, shall be excluded.

62. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time vest any officer other than a Collector of the District with special appellate powers under this Chapter, and every officer so vested shall be competent to hear and decide any appeal which the Collector of the District is competent to hear and decide under this Chapter.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present law for the registration of transfers of tenures is contained, as regards patni talooks, in section 5 of Regulation VIII of 1819, and, as regards other permanent transferable tenures, in section 26 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, and section 27 of Act X of 1859, in those parts of the Lower Provinces in which the last-mentioned Act is still in force. In all these cases, the registration contemplated is a registration in the serishta of the zemindar or superior tenant, to whom the rent of the talook or tenure is payable. In the case of patni talooks, a fee is payable to the proprietor on the occasion of a transfer, and registration is enforced by the power given to the proprietor to attach the tenure until the transfer has been registered. In the case of other permanent tenures, the law merely requires the zemindar or superior tenant to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to all such transfers, when made in good faith. There is no special penalty for failure to register or for refusal to admit to registry, but the landlord is not required to recognize an unregistered tenant, and a tenant, whose application for registry has been refused, may sue in the Civil Court (or where Act X of 1859 is in force before the Collector) to compel the zemindar or superior tenant to register the transfer.

These provisions evidently assume that every zemindar or other superior tenant maintains in his serishtah a register of all permanent tenures of which the rent is payable to him. But the law contains no provisions for any public and official register of tenures, such as was prescribed for estates by Regulation VIII of 1800, and subsequently by the Land Registration Act VII (B.C.) of 1876. It is considered that the preparation of such an official register would be a great benefit to the country. It would set at rest disputes concerning the character of tenures, the conditions under which they are held, and the rents payable on account of them; and it would facilitate the realization of arrears by enabling the Government to extend the summary sale procedure of Regulation VIII of 1819 to all permanent tenures recorded in the register. With these objects the present Bill has been prepared.

The Bill provides that applications for registry shall be made to the Subordinate Judge, and may be made by either the zemindar or the tenure-holder. After due notice to all parties concerned, and such enquiry as may be necessary, the Subordinate Judge will pass an order, admitting or rejecting the application for registry. If he admits the application, he will send the necessary particulars to the Collector, in whose office the register of permanent tenures will be kept up.

The procedure for the maintenance of the register by the mutation of names in cases of transfer and succession will be embodied in the Bengal Tenancy Bill now under consideration in the Council of the Governor-General.

It will be optional with the parties to apply or not for registration of their tenures in the manner above described, as they may think fit. It is thought expedient to introduce the measure in this form at first, and to watch its working before further steps are taken. But it is desirable that all tenures liable to registration should be registered, and it is clear that this object cannot be secured without making registration compulsory. The Bill accordingly gives power to the Government from time to time to declare that, in any local area, all permanent tenures shall be registered within a specified time, in the same manner as the Land Registration Act of 1876 empowered the Government to fix dates for the registration of the names and interests of all proprietors of estates. Where this Chapter of the Bill is in force, the general procedure of Part IV of the Land Registration Act will be followed.

The Bill is not intended to apply to the tenures referred to in Act II (B.C.) of 1869, or to affect any register prepared under that Act.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th December, 1884, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

No. 18 of 1884.

A Bill to repeal part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, and to amend the Excise Act, 1881, and the Bengal Excise Act, 1878.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, and to amend section 7 of the Excise Act, 1881, and section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. The part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, beginning with the words "And whereas," down to and including the words "been paid," is repealed.

2. For clause (a) of section 7 of the Excise Act, XXII of 1881, the following clause shall be substituted :—

"(a) such duty as the Local Government may from time to time fix in respect of such spirit has been paid."

3. In section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, for the words "at the rate leviable under any Tariff Act for the time being in force" the words "at such rate as the Local Government may from time to time fix in respect of such spirituous liquor" shall be substituted; but nothing in this section shall affect any Act passed after this Act comes into force by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council.

4. The duty now fixed by the Local Government under section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, as leviable on spirit manufactured in all or any of the distilleries situate in the territories under its administration, or in any part of such territories, shall, in places in which the Excise Act, 1881, or the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, is in force, be deemed to be the duty fixed by the Local Government under sections 7 and 18 of those Acts, as amended by this Act, respectively,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Government of Madras recently submitted a draft Bill to consolidate and amend the Abkari law of the Presidency of Madras, for sanction to its introduction in the local Legislative Council, and, on examination of its provisions, it was found that two clauses of one of its sections, imposing a duty on liquor, were, as applied to spirit, ultra vires of the local legislature, as the mode of fixing the excise duty on spirit is determined by section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882. It was also feared that the penultimate clause of the latter section, by keeping in force, under the authority of the Governor General's Legislative Council, an unexplored mass of law existing on the 10th March, 1882, might render other provisions of that Bill ultra vires.

This in itself would make it necessary that legislation should be resorted to in the Council of the Governor General in order to prevent the Madras Bill from being declared invalid; and as, moreover, section 6 of the Tariff Act must seriously hamper any local legislature contemplating legislation like that proposed by the Madras Government, it is proposed to repeal that section, leaving it to the Local Governments to deal with the mode of fixing the duties of excise on spirit, under the other enactments locally in force, subject, so far as any discretion is allowed to them by those enactments, to the general executive control of the Government of India.

The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It first repeals section 6 of the Tariff Act except the last clause amending section 7 of Act XVI of 1863, which Act is still in force. It then amends section 7 of the Excise Act, 1881, and section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, which at present contain references to the provisions of section 6 of the Tariff Act, by omitting these references and conferring on the Local Governments concerned power to fix the duty payable in respect of country spirit. Lastly, in order to prevent any question being raised as to the effect of the repeal of section 6 of the Tariff Act, the Bill declares that duties already fixed by the Local Government under section 6 of the Tariff Act shall be deemed to be duties fixed by the Local Government under sections 7 and 18 of the Excise Act, 1881, and the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, as amended by this Act, respectively.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th December, 1884, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 19 OF 1884.

A Bill to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea.

[Act II of 1860, preamble.]
[18 & 19 Vic., c. 119.]
WHEREAS by section 99 of an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "the Passengers Act, 1855," it is enacted that "it shall be lawful for the Governor General of India in Council, from time to time, by any Act or Acts to be passed for that purpose, to declare that this Act or any part thereof shall apply to the carriage of passengers upon any voyage, from any ports or places within the territories of British India, to be specified in such Act or Acts, to any other places whatsoever, to be also specified in such Act or Acts;" and it is thereby also enacted that "on the passing of such Indian Act or Acts, and whilst the same shall remain in force, all such parts of this Act as shall be adopted therein shall apply to and extend to the carriage of passengers upon such voyages as in the said Indian Act or Acts shall be specified. The provisions of such Indian Act shall be enforced in all Her Majesty's possessions in like manner as the provisions of this Act may be enforced;"

[New.] And whereas certain parts of the said Act of Parliament were by Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) made applicable to the carriage of passengers upon certain specified voyages;

[New.] And whereas by an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863," certain parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, which were so made applicable have been amended, and it is provided that the said Acts of the Imperial Parliament shall be construed together as one Act;

[New.] And whereas it is expedient that the amendments so made in the Passengers Act, 1855, should also be made in the parts of that Act so made applicable, and it is also expedient to apply those parts so amended to the carriage of passengers upon certain voyages not specified in Act II of 1860;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement 1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885: and [New.]

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of March, 1885. [New.]

2. On and from the day on which this Act comes into force, Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) shall be repealed. [New.]

3. The provisions contained in sections 4, 5 and 6 of this Act, and the schedule hereto annexed (being parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, as amended by the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863), are declared applicable to the carriage of passengers upon the following voyages, namely:— [Act II of 1860 s. 1] [Act VII of 1871, ss. 18 & 19 v c. 119.] [New.] [26 & 27 v c. 51.]

(a) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the British Colonies of Mauritius, Jamaica, British Guiana, Trinidad, St. Lucia, Grenada, St. Vincent, Natal, St. Kitts, Nevis and Fiji; [New.]

(b) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the French Colonies of Réunion, Martinique, Guadeloupe and its dependencies, and Guiana; [New.]

(c) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Netherlands colony of Dutch Guiana; [New.]

(d) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Danish colony of St. Croix; [New.]

(e) Voyages under the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1876, from Calcutta Madras, Bombay, Karachi, Rangoon and other ports in British India to the Straits Settlements, to the protected Native States adjoining the Straits Settlements, to Australia, and to ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. VIII of 1

4. If the passengers upon any such voyage as is specified in the last preceding section are taken off from the ship carrying such passengers, or are picked up at sea from any boat, raft or otherwise, it shall be lawful, if the port or place to which they shall be conveyed is in any of Her Majesty's colonial possessions, for the Governor of such colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose, or, if in any foreign country, for Her Majesty's Consular officer, at such port or place therein, to defray all or any part of the expenses thereby incurred.

and shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the amount of the expenses, and that the same were duly incurred;

nor shall it be necessary to adduce on behalf [New.] of Her Majesty any other evidence in support of the claim, but judgment shall pass for the Crown, with costs of suit, unless the defendant specially pleads and duly proves that the certificate is false or fraudulent, or specially pleads and duly proves any facts showing that the expenses were not duly incurred:

Provided, nevertheless, that in no case shall any larger sum be recovered on account of the expenses than a sum equal to twice the total amount of passage-money received or due to and recoverable by or on account of the owner, charterer or master of the passenger-ship or any of them from or on account of the whole number of passengers who may have embarked in the ship; which total amount of passage-money shall be proved by the defendant if he will have the advantage of this limitation of the debt: but if any such passengers are forwarded or conveyed to their intended destination under the provisions of the last preceding section, they shall not be entitled to the return of their passage-money, or to any compensation for loss of passage.

1860, s. 3,
26 & 27
Vic., c. 51,
[New.]

5. If any passenger of any such passenger-ship as aforesaid, without any neglect or default of his own, finds himself within any colonial or foreign port, or place other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he, or the Emigration Agent, or any public officer or other person on his behalf, has contracted that he should land, it shall be lawful for the Governor of the colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose or for Her Majesty's Consular officer at the foreign port or place, as the case may be, to forward the passenger to his intended destination, unless the master of the ship, within forty-eight hours of the arrival of such passenger, gives to the Governor or Consular officer, as the case may be, a written undertaking to forward or carry on within six weeks thereafter the passenger to his original destination, and unless the master accordingly forwards or carries him on within that period.

THE SCHEDULE.

Form of Governor's or Consul's Certificate of expenditure in the case of Passengers shipwrecked &c. [26 & 27 Vic., cap 51, Sched [New.]

(See section 6.)

(a) N.B.—1. If more passengers were rescued than forwarded, or if bedding, &c., was not supplied, alter the certificate to suit the facts of the case.
(b) N.B.—2. State generally the nature of the disaster and where it occurred. But if the passengers were only left behind without any default of their own, state the fact accordingly.

I hereby certify that acting under, and in conformity with, the provisions of the Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885, I have defrayed the expenses incurred in rescuing, maintaining, supplying with necessary bedding, provisions and stores (a), and in forwarding to their destination passengers who were proceeding from to in the passenger-ship which was wrecked at sea, &c. (b).

And I further certify, for the purposes of the sixth section of the said Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885, that the total amount of such expenses is , and that such expenses were duly incurred by me under the said Act.

Given under my hand this day of 18 .

6. (1) All expenses incurred under sections 4 and 5 of them, by or by the authority of a Governor or Consular officer, or other person as therein respectively mentioned, including the cost of maintaining the passengers until forwarded to their destination, and of all necessary bedding, provisions and stores, shall become a debt to Her Majesty and Her successors from the owner, charterer and master of the ship, and shall be recoverable from them, or from any one or more of them, at the suit and for the use of Her Majesty, in like manner as in the case of other Crown debts.

[New.]

(2) A certificate in the form given in the Schedule hereto annexed, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit, purporting to be under the hand of any such Governor or Consular officer (as the case may be), stating the total amount of the expenses, shall, in any suit or other proceeding for the recovery of the debt, be received in evidence without proof of the handwriting or of the official character of the Governor or Consular officer,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Act II of 1860 declares certain parts (namely, sections 52, 53 and 54) of the English Passengers Act, 1855 (18 & 19 Vic., cap. 119) to be applicable to the carriage of passengers upon voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the colonies of Mauritius, Jamaica, British Guiana, Trinidad, St. Lucia and Grenada, and from ports in British India to ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. The colonies mentioned were the places to which emigration was then lawful. Since 1860, emigration to the colonies of Fiji, Natal, Réunion, St. Croix, Guadeloupe, Martinique, Dutch Guiana, St. Vincent, Nevis and St. Kitts has been sanctioned. With respect, however, to voyages to places not specified in Act II of 1860, that Act gives no power to any authority to recover expenses incurred in forwarding shipwrecked passengers to their destination and in maintaining them until they are so forwarded. At present, therefore, the voyages to which the Act does not apply are more numerous than those to which it does.

2. Again, the Act, as it stands at present, is, if strictly construed, inapplicable to the conditions under which emigration from India is usually conducted. Section 3 of the Act, following section 53 of the English Passengers Act, 1855, runs as follows:—"If any passenger * * * find himself within any colonial or foreign port or place other than that at which he may have contracted to land," &c. But as a rule, emigrants from India do not themselves contract with the owners or charterers of the vessels in which they emigrate. In all cases falling under the Indian Emigration Act VII of 1871 (or which may fall under the Indian Emigration Act XXI of 1883, when that Act is brought into force) the contract is made by a recruiter for the colony importing labour, under the supervision of the Protector of Emigrants. Emigrants despatched in this way are therefore technically excluded from the provisions of Act II of 1860. A similar difficulty appears to have arisen in England, and to have been met by an amendment of the law. Section 12 of the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863 (26 & 27 Vic., cap. 51), repeals section 53 of the English Passengers Act, 1855, and section 15 of the former Act substitutes for the words "other than that at which he may have contracted to land" the words "other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he or the Emigration Commissioners, or any public officer, or other person on his behalf, may have contracted that he should land".

3. These two defects in the Act came to notice in connection with the following occurrence. In the end of April last, the steamer Laleham, carrying emigrants from Calcutta to Dutch Guiana, grounded off Ceylon, and was compelled to land her passengers at Trincomalee. The Laleham returned to Calcutta, where she was examined by the Engineer-Surveyor to the port, and reported "unseaworthy and unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life". The Agents of the Laleham at first proposed to substitute another vessel, but subsequently declined to do so, offering merely to have the Laleham repaired at Calcutta, and to fulfil her charter-party by re-embarking the coolies at Trincomalee and taking them on to Surinam.

The Advocate General of Bengal, on being consulted, was of opinion that no action could be taken under Act II of 1860, and that the matter would be governed by the charter-party. Surinam, he said, being in Dutch Guiana, is not a place to which Act II of 1860 applies. He thought further that the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863, would be construed strictly, and according to such construction he did not think that the words of section 3 of Act II of 1860 would cover the break-down in a voyage to which that Act applied, in any case other than that in which the passenger had himself contracted.

Under these circumstances legislation seems necessary in order to bring Act II of 1860 into conformity with the present system of emigration and the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863.

The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It repeals and re-enacts Act II of 1860 with the necessary amendments. Section 3 of the present Bill declares the subsequent provisions of the Bill (being parts of the English Passenger Act, 1855, as amended by the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863) to be applicable to all voyages to certain specified colonies and places, which are, in fact, the colonies and places to which under the existing law emigration is now lawful or is likely to be legalized; and in sections 5 and 6 the amendments made by the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863, in sections 53 and 54 of the English Passengers Act, 1855 (which formed sections 3 and 4 of Act II of 1860) are incorporated with some slight modifications so as to adapt them to this country.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1883-84.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE—No.

Calcutta, the 22nd December 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1883-84.

The following statement shows the gross and net customs revenue collected in Bengal on all articles during the past five years:—

	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.	1882-83.	1883-84.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Import duty (excluding duty on salt) ...	72,18,170	72,72,428	61,72,991	14,87,018	15,13,590
Ditto on salt ...	2,33,22,924	2,27,14,388	2,37,15,928	1,74,72,613	1,73,13,587
Export duty ...	10,16,000	17,39,354	20,40,899	21,28,492	19,32,100
Total gross duty ...	3,21,56,150	3,18,16,170	3,19,35,818	2,10,88,123	2,08,19,277
Refunds and drawbacks—
Imports ...	2,25,800	3,37,096	13,04,426	3,20,636	2,10,991
Exports ...	66,620	71,979	1,05,549	1,16,840	1,20,921
Total ...	2,92,320	4,09,075	4,09,975	4,37,476	3,31,912

The decline in the net duty of Rs. 1,63,282, or 7 per cent., is chiefly due to the falling off of Rs. 64,479 in the salt duty and of Rs. 1,40,473 in the export duty on rice. The reduced export of the latter article was the natural consequence of a short crop, and the same cause has probably tended to defer the gradual increase in the consumption of salt which was anticipated in the Resolution on last year's report. The decline of 35 per cent.

in the quantity cleared bears out this view. Import duty, exclusive of salt, shows a small increase of Rs. 26,572, or 1·8 per cent., due to larger collections under the heads of liquors and arms and ammunition. Looking to the returns for the several ports, it will be seen that the net revenue of Calcutta has fallen by 2 per cent., while that of all the outports has risen in varying proportions.

2. The total value of the imports into Bengal, exclusive of Government transactions, rose from Rs. 28,37,25,812 to Rs. 30,06,49,292. The rise was most marked in foreign merchandise, where it exceeded one crore and 37 lakhs. The imports of treasure, on the other hand, declined, the net result being an increase in the value of the foreign trade from Rs. 23,41,84,301 to Rs. 24,43,64,406. In the coasting trade a similar state of things has prevailed, the imports of merchandise rising by more than eighty lakhs, and those of treasure falling by over thirteen.

4. The value of the export trade of the year was Rs. 43,56 07,096, against Rs. 42,46,65,199 in 1882-83. In the foreign trade, exports rose in value from Rs. 34,43,30,483 to Rs. 36,21,33,528, representing an increase in the value of merchandise of Rs. 1,95,68,306, and a decrease in treasure amounting to Rs. 17,65,261. The total coasting trade exports show a decline from Rs. 8,03,34,716 to Rs. 7,34,73,568, owing to the reduced exports of Indian produce and to smaller shipments of silver to ports in British Burma. On the other hand, there was a considerable increase in the exports of foreign merchandise, such as cotton twist and yarn to Madras and piece-goods to Burma.

5. Calcutta Foreign Trade.—Turning now to the trade of the different ports in Bengal, it is observed that the imports of Government stores into the Port of Calcutta increased by more than 18 lakhs, or 19 per cent., railway plant alone showing an increase of more than 9 lakhs. Woollen piece-goods increased by more than 4½ lakhs, and paper and pasteboard by nearly 4 lakhs. Apart from Government transactions, the imports of the foreign trade of Calcutta rose from Rs. 23,39,17,864 to Rs. 24,40,48,995, or 4·3 per cent., and the exports from Rs. 33,40,61,753 to Rs. 35,07,72,762, or 5·5 per cent. The increase in imports was chiefly under the heads of railway plant, machinery, metals, cotton twist and woollen piece-goods; while the increase in exports occurred in raw cotton, indigo, wheat, hides, and oil-seeds. On the other hand, the exports of jute, gunny-bags, lac and opium fell off in various proportions.

6. A few slight changes are observed in the proportions which different countries contribute to the foreign trade of Calcutta. Thus, the share taken by the United Kingdom has increased from 62·35 to 65·40, the trade with France has risen from 2·80 to 3·02, and that with Austria from ·99 to 1·23. Hong-Kong, the United States, Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, and Australia have, on the other hand, lost ground. In the case of Hong-Kong the decrease is chiefly in the imports of treasure; while the trade with the United States has fallen off most largely in imports of kerosine oil, but also to a certain extent in exports of Indian produce. Ceylon has taken less grain from Calcutta, and has exported and imported less treasure than in ordinary years. The Straits Settlements have contributed smaller supplies of tin and pepper, and received considerably less opium than usual. In the case of Australia the total trade shows a decline of 37 lakhs, or 23·3 per cent., due to the smaller shipments of gunny-bags and tea. Imports, on the other hand, have increased, and there is said to be a prospect of the trade with India being developed by the means of a special line of steamers. The proportion of the foreign trade of Calcutta using the Suez Canal rose from 58·6 to 63·6, and it is stated that only 10 per cent. of the trade with Europe is carried by the Cape.

7. Imports.—The imports of cotton twist and yarn show an increase in value from Rs. 1,03,57,430 to Rs. 1,18,21,772, and in quantity from 13,058,628 lbs. to 15,255,962 lbs. At the same time the value of the imports of piece-goods of all kinds rose from Rs. 11,35,14,475 to Rs. 11,38,80,206. American piece-goods fell off remarkably, owing to English drills having displaced American drills in the market. Among English goods grey shirtings, which formerly commanded a ready sale, are said to have lost their popularity owing to the preference of the consumers for coarser and more substantial fabrics. On a general review of the trade in both yarn and piece-goods during the past year, there seems to be reason for believing that the increased importation was due rather to excessive production in England, which compelled merchants to divert their goods to India from the overstocked markets of China and Japan, than to any genuine extension of demand. Indeed, the partial failure of crop, which occurred in 1883, furnishes of itself sufficient reason for thinking that the purchasing power of the people must have been somewhat reduced during the year. The current season has been equally unfavourable, and, so far as the piece-goods' trade depends upon agricultural prosperity, there seems to be no immediate prospect of a more active demand. On the other hand, it is probable that the extension of railways in Bengal, by cheapening these heavy goods to the consumers, will lead to increased purchases. Thus, the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, on which work has recently commenced, will open up large areas, where at present pack-bullocks form the only means of carriage, and the price of cloth is high in proportion to the extreme difficulty of transport. The demand for woollen piece-goods was steady throughout the year, the average price being somewhat less than in 1882-83. The trade in shawls was greater than at any time during the last five years, and there was no decline in the average price.

8. The total value of metals imported into Calcutta rose from Rs. 2,28,32,317 to Rs. 2,44,53,501, the increase being most marked under the heads of copper, wrought iron, and steel. The imports of unwrought iron have declined from the unusually high standard of the preceding year. The extended use of wrought iron in buildings is evidenced by a rise in the imports of 68½ per cent. The imports of lead show a decline of nearly 5,000 cwt., but this is said to be only a temporary fluctuation, as the demand for this metal for use in lining tea-boxes is necessarily of a permanent character. The value of the imports of railway plant and rolling-stock has risen from Rs. 40,17,623 to Rs. 80,58,989, or 100½ per cent., and this is likely to be maintained. Machinery and mill work also show an increase from Rs. 61,29,592 to Rs. 82,79,734, due to the extension of the cotton and jute industries. Here, however, a decline is anticipated, as the limits of profitable production appear to have been reached, and the results of the past year have, in the case of jute at any rate, been singularly unfavourable.

9. The imports of malt liquors show a rise in quantity from 508,006 to 601,477 gallons, and in value from Rs. 12,09,723 to Rs. 14,58,090. The Collector of Customs observes that the quantity of Pilsener beer imported has increased twenty-fold in five years, and now stands second only to the consumption of Bass' beer. He also refers to the increased imports of European beer as showing that beer brewed in the hills has failed at present to meet the taste of the general public. The imports of wines and spirits have declined in quantity and risen in value, owing to the increased consumption of high-priced whisky and champagne. The demand for brandy seems to be steadily falling off, and the same remark applies in a less degree to claret and sherry. The Collector of Customs discusses, with much good sense, the reasons why the Australian wines, of which specimens were brought to the International Exhibition, are not likely to become popular in India, unless their character is considerably modified. In Mr. Armstrong's judgment these wines are too strong and too sweet; they do not stand the climate; and their names, borrowed from those of well-known European wines, suggest expectations which their quality fails to satisfy.

10. As compared with the large imports of 1882-83, the imports of mineral oils have fallen by 41½ per cent. The quantity imported (7,566,526 gallons) was, however, considerably in excess of the imports of 1881-82, and preceding years. The Collector observes that, although the production of mineral oil in America may be supposed to have reached its maximum, the competition of newly discovered sources of supply, such as Batoum on the Caspian and Bushire in the Persian Gulf is likely to prevent any considerable rise in the price of American oil. On the other hand, the imports from British Burma have declined, and there seems to be little prospect of that province meeting any large proportion of the growing demand from Bengal. The use of kerosine oil among all classes of the native population seems likely to increase. Not only is it used for lighting, but there is a strong belief in its healing properties as an application for bruises and various kinds of skin disease. The importation of umbrellas has increased considerably, and the trade was a most satisfactory one during the year. This fact may be taken as some slight indication of the growth of habits of greater comfort among the people.

11. The imports of corals show a rise in quantity from 122,971 lbs to 154,716 lbs., and in value from Rs. 17,19,786 to Rs. 20,39,316. The over production in Italy, referred to in last year's report, is said to have continued and to have caused prices to rule unusually low. while the Nepalese demand fell off owing to a dispute with the Thibetans. It is stated, on the other hand, that a combination has been formed among the Italian manufacturers to regulate shipments, and, independently of this, the extension of trade with Thibet, which may perhaps be looked for, will probably do much to improve the prospects of this industry.

12. Although no attempt seems to have been made to supply the native market with cheap Indian tea, the imports of China tea have fallen by about $33\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., while the average price has remained as low as 6·3 annas per pound. The decline is attributed to over importation in 1881-82, leaving large stocks in hand which have not yet been cleared off.

13. Under the head of tobacco, the imports of cigars have increased, and there are signs of a demand for the more expensive kinds of cigars supplied by the United Kingdom; while at the same time the imports of Indian-made cigars show a steady increase. The imports of manufactured tobacco declined owing to excessive stocks and to a rise of prices in America.

14. Exports.—Some changes may be noticed in the proportion which various articles contribute to the export trade of Calcutta. Thus, the exports of grain and pulse have risen from $11\frac{1}{2}$ to 15 per cent., jute has fallen from 20 to 14, and tea and oil-seeds have risen by 1 per cent. In other respects the normal proportions have, on the whole, been maintained. Owing probably to the partial failure of crop in 1883-84, the exports of rice fell off from 6,607,497 cwts. to 6,082,023 cwts.; while the value rose from Rs. 1,92,11,136 to Rs. 1,98,95,582. This was a great boon to the great rice-producing districts of Eastern Bengal, where the crop was a tolerably full one, and where producers often have to complain of the low prices of a year of plenty. Orissa also contributed an unusually large proportion of the year's exports; and the rice trade of that Province seems to show signs of recovering the importance it attained in 1877-78.

15. The exports of wheat for the last five years are shown in the following statement:—

1870-80.		1880-81.		1881-82.		1882-83.		1883-84.
Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.
1,583,000	76,47,508	3,955,269	1,51,23,950	6,606,896	2,52,03,295	4,438,503	1,79,33,850	7,611,414	3,04,27,244

The Collector of Customs makes the following comments on the prospects of the wheat trade.

"The three principal competitors in this trade with the United Kingdom are, it will be seen, the United States, Russia, and India. From the first, the receipts show a heavy decline, while from the two others there have been very substantial increases; Russia still occupying the second place, notwithstanding the large increase in receipts from India.

"The extension of the Indian wheat trade to very large proportions is, I believe, merely a question of the opening out of suitable tracts of country by railways and of cheap carriage. It may be said to be fairly ascertained now that the price of wheat in the large markets up country is substantially lower than the price at similar markets in the United States, while the quality of the wheat is good; in fact this price is so low that ultimately the bulk of the trade should be obtained by India.

"During the past year freights by sea from Calcutta have been very low, and owing to this and the reduction in the rate of railway carriage mentioned in the last year's report, exporters have been enabled to lay down their wheat in London at considerably cheaper rates than in the previous year, and so to compete on better terms with America. The larger trade of the past year is therefore a very good index of the effect of cheap carriage. Low freights, however, cannot always be expected, as the dearth of employment for vessels, which caused a large quantity of tonnage to be available at low rates, cannot be looked for every year.

"The importance of India as a competitor with the United States has forced itself very prominently upon the attention of the growers of wheat in the Western States, with the result that prices at Chicago are reported to be lower than they have been for twenty years. Low freights are also ruling, so that the competition has become very keen; but still India holds her own."

Cheap carriage to the coast is no doubt the main factor in the development of India's great resources as a wheat-producing country. But it is not the only one, and it is doubtful whether Indian wheat will be able to maintain a firm hold upon European markets, unless the cultivators do more than they have hitherto done to keep the quality uniform, and to avoid mixing and adulteration. It will be one of the duties of the new Agricultural Department not to teach cultivators details of cultivation, which they know already, but to bring home to them the fact that if their products are to command a good price they must be up to a certain standard and be supplied under certain conditions.

16. There was a fall in the exports of raw jute from 9,191,884 cwt. to 5,953,147 cwt., owing partly to a failure of crop, and partly to the fact that the area sown with jute was contracted by the cultivators themselves, who were dissatisfied with the low prices which resulted from the full crop of the previous year. This element of uncertainty must always tend to affect the prospects of jute. It is grown on the same classes of land as some kinds of rice, and thus competes with the staple food-crop of the country. The exact effects of this interdependence of the two crops can probably not be defined, but it must obviously exercise an important influence upon the fluctuations of the trade from year to year. The exports of gunny-bags show an increase in quantity from 59,323,573 to 62,420,662, and a decline in value from Rs. 1,39,81,875 to Rs. 1,22,88,708. The prospects of the industry are at present believed to be discouraging. Production has outrun demand. New mills have been built or planned; the price of raw material has risen 50 per cent., while that of the manufactured article has fallen by 15; consequently many of the mills are working at a loss, and must continue to do so till the price of gunny-bags rises or the price of raw material falls.

17. A further increase is observed in the exports of tea from 56,846,361 lbs, valued at Rs. 3,62,06,208, to 59,190,914, valued at Rs. 4,02,34,619. The average price has advanced by 7 pies per pound, and the quality of the tea is believed to have been good, notwithstanding the large shipments made. The exports to Australia and America fell off remarkably, owing, it is said, to those markets having been overstocked in the preceding year. There seem, however, to be prospects of the trade with both countries recovering itself shortly. An encouraging feature in the progress of Indian tea is the steady development of its hold upon the English market. Thus, in 1877, Indian tea supplied only 19 per cent. and China tea 81 per cent. of the English demand, while in 1883 the percentage of China tea had fallen to 65·4, and that of Indian tea risen to 34·6 per cent. Ceylon tea is now said to be likely to compete with Indian tea in the English markets. The results of such competition can hardly be foreseen at present, but the development of the Ceylon trade should be watched and reported on in greater detail next year.

18. Among the other articles of export, indigo shows an increase of more than 10 per cent., and hides and skins of 15½ per cent. In raw silk there was an advance of 18½ per cent. owing to a revival of the demand for Bengal silk in the London market. Raw cotton shows a remarkable increase upon the reduced exports of last year, though the quantity is still considerably less than in 1880-81. There seems, however, to be some promise of the trade recovering, as a demand for short stapled cotton is said to have arisen in Lancashire. The entire cessation of exports to Austria is ascribed by the Collector to the fact that it was more profitable to ship through London than direct to Trieste. The exports of lac decreased by 18 per cent. in quantity and 20 per cent. in value. Excessive stocks of shellac are said to have accumulated, and the trade is not likely to revive till these have been worked off. Sugar shows an increase of 86 per cent., which would, it is said, have been still larger, but for the competition in the English market of beet sugar imported from Germany. The export of unmanufactured tobacco rose by 143½ per cent., but this was to some extent due to the belief that the rate of duty in Holland was likely to be raised.

19. The net imports of silver fell off by about a quarter of a lakh, and the net imports of gold by a little over eight lakhs. Neither the Board nor the Collector of Customs attempt any explanations of these variations. It may be assumed, however, that the decline in the imports of gold represents a decreased demand for articles of personal ornament, arising from the failure of crop. The people had less to spend, and purely luxurious expenditure was naturally the first to be reduced.

20. Coasting Trade.—The total imports of the coasting trade of Calcutta rose from Rs. 2,67,14,775 to Rs. 3,33,17,031; while the total exports fell from Rs. 5,00,27,422 to Rs. 4,73,43,813. Under the head of imports, cotton twist and cotton piece-goods from Bombay show a remarkable increase, upon which the Collector remarks:—

“The advance in importations in five years is most marked, being over 100 per cent., while in comparison with 1874-75 the receipts have increased twenty-fold. The development of cotton manufactures in Bombay is no doubt the principal cause of this advance. The possibility of a war between France and China also caused a diversion of shipments from China to Calcutta, for heavy stocks accumulated at Hong-Kong and discouraged further importation. Competition between Lancashire and Bombay in low counts of yarn has practically ceased, the latter having, with the exception of a few thousand lbs, entirely supplied this market with yarns of 24s. and under. If the receipts from Bombay of grey twist and yarn continue to advance in the same proportion as they have for the last few years, they will very soon reach those from the United Kingdom as the following figures show:—

From United Kingdom	8,384,166
Bombay	6,730,700,”

Pepper, sleepers, castor-seeds, and turmeric from Madras, teak-wood and cutch from British Burma, and rice from the Bengal outports are the only other items demanding special notice. The decline in exports occurred in shipments of rice, gunny-bags, sugar, cotton and foreign twist and piece-goods to Bombay Madras and Pondicherry. The exports to British Burma and the Bengal outports show an increase.

21. Minor Ports, Chittagong.—The total value of the foreign trade of Chittagong rose from Rs. 94,18,552 to Rs. 1,00,61,967, the value of imports rising from Rs. 2,65,999 to Rs. 3,15,191, and of exports from Rs. 91,52,553 to 97,46,776. As is usual, by far the largest proportion of the imports consists of salt, in which there was an increase of Rs. 89,556 during the year. The increase in the value of the exports occurs in all the chief articles exported, while all, except paddy and tobacco, show a decrease in quantity. A new branch of trade has been established with New York in jute cuttings, the value of which is said to be Rs. 4,85,245. In the coasting trade there was a total increase of Rs. 4,53,023, or 3 per cent., the details of which are of no special interest.

22. The Orissa Ports.—The value of the total trade of the Orissa ports rose during the past year by Rs. 25,83,095, or 21.6 per cent. Balasore made large shipments of rice to the Mauritius, the Maldives and Muscat; Cuttack sent rice to Colombo; and Pooree exported to Ceylon. At all of the ports the increase in imports was chiefly in gunny-bags, tobacco, cocoanut-oil and kerosine.

23. Port of Naraingunge.—The continuous improvement in the trade of this port, remarked upon last year, was arrested for the time being in 1883-84, the value of the trade showing a decrease of Rs. 1,02,244, or 1.2 per cent. “This,” the Collector of Customs observes—

“Is attributable to the failure of the cotton crop in Chittagong having affected the import trade, as did the low prices of jute prevailing last year, the export. Messrs. David & Company, the largest importers of cotton, seeing no prospect of a remunerative business, made no imports during the year; jute was not exported in such large quantities direct to Chittagong, but sent to Calcutta instead, better prices being obtainable in the latter place; the outturn of the jute crop was also smaller than in the preceding year, a lesser area having been brought under cultivation, and there having been a partial failure of the crop owing to want of rain.”

Proposals are now under consideration for a rough survey of the channels of the Megna leading to Naraingunge, and should these prove to be navigable by sea-going vessels, a great development may be looked for in the trade of the port.

24. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to the Board for their efficient administration of the Department during the year, and to Mr. Armstrong, the Collector of Customs, for a full and careful report. The names of the officers selected by the Board for commendation will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF THE CALCUTTA ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS
FOR THE YEAR 1883-84.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—(F.)

Calcutta, the 22nd December 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Committee for the Management of the Calcutta Zoological Gardens for the year 1883-84.

The total income of the Gardens during the year amounted to Rs. 52,398 against Rs. 41,149 in 1882-83, and the expenditure increased from Rs. 38,264 in 1882-83 to Rs. 52,277 in 1883-84. The figures for 1882-83 are exclusive of the special grant of Rs. 8,000 made by Government for iron railings round the Gardens, and the expenditure incurred on account of the same.

2. The receipts from donations and subscriptions show a further falling off as compared with the maximum income of Rs. 17,970 from those sources in 1879-80, and the minimum income of Rs. 1,500 in 1882-83. Only Rs. 550 were received under that head during the year of report, although the International Exhibition attracted to Calcutta a large number of wealthy persons from whom donations might have been expected. This amount consisted wholly of subscriptions from life members, and no donations, properly so called, were received at all. Such sources of income must, however, necessarily be exhausted sooner or later, and the Committee are doubtless right in assuming that they cannot count upon the future receipts under these heads doing much to place the finances of the Gardens upon a permanent basis.

3. In order to induce the public to take a more active interest in the management of the Gardens, and to contribute more largely to their maintenance, it was proposed by the Honorary Committee managing the Gardens that the donors and subscribers should be permitted to form themselves into a society to carry out the objects for which the Calcutta Zoological Gardens were established; that the management should be vested in a Committee on which the society should be represented by four members of their choice, and which should consist further of certain ex-officio members and any others whom the Government might nominate; that the Committee should be called the Council, and the members of the society, Fellows, with the privilege of using the letters F. Z. S. B. after their names. The Lieutenant-Governor accepted the proposal, and it has since received the sanction of the Government of India. The Committee were accordingly asked in March 1883 to frame the necessary articles of association under the Companies Act of 1882, and to forward them for the approval of Government. No action has, however, been yet taken in the matter by the Committee at whose instance the scheme was elaborated. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to learn from the Committee whether they still desire to proceed with it.

4. The total number of visitors to the Gardens during the year under report was 188,532 against 126,080 in 1882-83 and 130,826 in 1879-80, which was the largest number since the establishment of the institution. This increase is believed to have been due in part, at any rate, to two causes. In August 1883 some aborigines from the Andaman and Nicobar Islands were brought to Calcutta and lodged in the Gardens, and during the first month of their stay the average weekly number of visitors went up from 1,980 in July to 8,685 the next month. The Calcutta Exhibition, which attracted a large number of people from the mofussil, also increased the weekly attendance considerably. Although, therefore, a falling off in the total attendance, as compared with that of 1883-84, may be looked for during the current year, there is reason to suppose that the reduction of the entrance fee, which took effect in October 1882, will lead to a steady increase in the number of visitors as compared with the number in 1882-83.

5. The most interesting additions to the menagerie were two Himalayan bears from Mergui in Tenasserim. The donation is of special scientific interest owing to the fact that it affords the first authentic evidence of the occurrence of this species in the Mergui fauna. Two Sumatran double-horned rhinoceri and a full grown female Malayan tapir were purchased at a cost of Rs. 4,500. Such animals are seldom brought to the Calcutta market for sale, and the Committee did well to take the opportunity of purchasing them.

6. Measures have at length been taken to carry out one of the main objects of the foundation of the Gardens by forming a dairy farm and the nucleus of a breeding establishment on the Begunbari grounds. This area has been reclaimed and fenced in; sheds have been built; nine heifers and one bull have been imported from Australia, and some fine hybrid stock has been produced by crossing country cows with Gyal bulls. In the Lieutenant Governor's opinion this is a most important and promising work, and if judiciously followed up, it may afford opportunity and justification for recognizing the Gardens as an institution contributing directly to the agricultural advancement of Bengal. In course of time the Agricultural Department now under formation will no doubt pay attention to the improvement of milch and plough-cattle; but before any such improvement can be attempted on a large scale, a long series of experiments will have to be made and possibly new breeds created. In this experimental stage, therefore, it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that the Committee of the Zoological Gardens can render very valuable assistance. Among its members are several gentlemen whose scientific and practical attainments qualify them to undertake the task of improving the breed of cattle in Bengal; and it is admitted that by effecting even a commencement of such improvement, much would be done to solve the question of improving the agricultural system of the country. If arrangements could be come to whereby in this question of improving the breed of cattle the operation of the Committee of the Gardens could be co-ordinated, as it is hoped to co-ordinate the operations of the Agri-Horticultural Society in agricultural improvement with the larger operations of the Department of Agriculture, much good to the country at large would undoubtedly ensue. Such co-ordination would permit of the efforts of the Committee being supported to some extent by funds from the budget of the Agricultural Department, and it would also enable the Committee to choose for these experiments other localities and climates throughout these Provinces than the single locality in which the experiment is now commenced. If all the agencies for improving the agriculture of Bengal in its widest sense were thus brought into contact, and directed into paths of mutually supporting and harmonious action in connection with the Agricultural Department which will come into being with the commencement of the new year, much more of good is to be expected than from isolated action, impeded possibly by narrowness of funds. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Committee will now consider these proposals, and if they approve of them, will draw up a scheme for giving effect to them. It may be also desirable that the Director of Agriculture should be added to the Committee, in order that he may place before them his views as to the actual wants of the country from the point of view of his Department.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the excellent work done by the Committee of the Gardens during the past year, and in thanking all the members for the time and labour they have devoted to what with the means at their disposal is a task of considerable difficulty.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

STATE AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS IN THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION.

IN continuation of the reports published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th December 1884, the following papers are published for general information.

A. P. MACDONNELL,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 11M.A., dated Calcutta, the 11th December 1884.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 10M.A. of the 30th November, I have the honour to submit copies of the Collector of Moorshedabad's No. 1368 of the 2nd, and the Magistrate of that district's No. 1763 of the 30th instant, with enclosures.

2. It will be seen from these reports that there is no present cause for anxiety in respect of any part of Moorshedabad. The worst tract described in the report is the Kulliangunge thanna, and since the Magistrate wrote his report I have received a demi-official, dated the 8th instant, from which I extract the following:—

"I came out last Tuesday, and have travelled through the Kulliangunge thana, in the Lalbagh sub-division. About this thanna I reported at the end of November that it was one of the worst tracts. That only 9 annas of the land (ordinary area) had been transplanted out, and that there would be only an 8-anna crop there. This was based on the report of the Sub-Divisional Officer of Lalbagh, and I now find that he was distinctly wrong. There is certainly an average of more than 8-annas for the whole thanna; but I won't go into the question at length, as you will learn what I have observed when you receive my diary, for more than half of the distance I travelled this morning; found fully a 12-anna crop (amun of course), and this on land where there has been in many years an utter failure on account of floods.

"I am now going to see thanna Khargaon and Gokurn, reported to be the worst in Kandy.

"Lots of rice is coming in from Beerbhoom and prices are easier.

"The more I see, the less I am inclined to think that any want will be felt; but I only bear in mind that it will be unwise to attempt to foretell what will happen. However, we are certainly safe for some time to come."

3. It is manifest from the reports, as I have said above, that there is no cause for present anxiety. With regard to the future, I am inclined to think that the Magistrate's growing disinclination to believe that any want will be felt will be justified by the results. There is no reason to suppose that the ordinary sources of labour will employ fewer men this year than in ordinary years. In respect of water-supply there is also no present reason to think that showers will do less than in ordinary years to replenish the tanks.

4. I will, if the Government has no objection, allow the Magistrate to submit his next report on the 1st January, instead of the 15th instant.

5. With regard to Nuddea, I have allowed Mr. Larminie to delay his report till the end of this week, to enable him to visit one or two places that remained to be inspected. I have, however, been with him to Chuadanga, to Kooshtea, and to Meherpore; and I am able to give the Government full assurance that in respect of that district there is also no present cause of anxiety. In Meherpore, which was the worst part of the district, the cold-weather crops are excellent. Not only are they excellent in quality, but the failure of the aus crops has permitted a much larger area than ordinary to be brought under cultivation.

No. 1368G., dated Berhampore, the 2nd December 1884.

From—H. FARRER, Esq., Officiating Collector of Moorshedabad,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the second fortnightly report for the month of November on the state and prospects of the crops, and the condition of the people in this district, in continuation of my report No. 1301G., dated 17th ultimo, on the same subject. I must express my regret, however, that I have not been able to fulfil the promise I made in my last report, that I would spend the whole of the second-half of the month in the interior. I left for the interior on the 19th ultimo, but was obliged to return on the 24th idem, as on the following day the election of Municipal Commissioners was to be held, and I thought my presence in Berhampore might be necessary. Moreover, I found that during my absence arrears of Collectorate work had accrued, as the officer whom I had to leave in charge is also in charge of the treasury and registration. I beg to observe that just at present there is one officer less than the usual staff here at this season of the year. I intend, however, to leave for the interior to-morrow without fail, and shall visit the thanna in the Lalbagh sub-division, where the prospect is most gloomy, or, at all events, least bright.

2. Although I was absent myself but a very short time, I succeeded in seeing a good deal. There having been no reports of suffering or scarcity from any other parts of the sudder division, I thought it advisable, as my time was short, to confine my observations to the places referred to by the Rev. Mr. Phillips, a Missionary of Berhampore, who has addressed a number of letters to the Englishman newspaper of late, in which he alleged that severe want was being felt by the people of Morjanpore, a village in the Burua thanna, by the residents of Saktipore, Basara and Ramnagore villages, in the Saktipore outpost, and by the people of a number of villages named by him, which are within the jurisdiction of Burua thanna and lie not far north of Plassey. Saktipore, Basara, and Ramnagore are on the west bank of the Bhagiruthee river, and therefore in the Kandy sub-division. From the observations that I made during my visits to these places, I am fully satisfied that Mr. Phillips has been led into error by the representations of persons who have exaggerated all the facts and circumstances from motives not always disinterested. Thus the object of the people in the villages he names on the west bank of the Bhagiruthee is to have an embankment constructed by the side of the Babla river—a question which I am told has again and again been raised and considered. The persons interested of course think this a favourable opportunity for again pressing the case. At Saktipore the amun is fully a 12-anna crop, and the rubbi crops all promise well. Hence complaints from that village are groundless, and I may mention that their truth has been carefully tested, as earthwork was begun here on the Ramnagore-Dhulian road (vide list of roads appended), and although there were as many as 207 labourers at work on the 19th November, the number afterwards fell off rapidly, until the 25th idem, when only 54 men remained. I may also mention that, according to the rates that are being paid by the District Committee, an able-bodied labourer can earn from 2½ to 4 annas a day. Surely there cannot be want if labourers cannot be had in any great number, when each could, by ordinary industry, earn so much as this daily.

3. Ramnagore and Basara are on the west bank of the river, and almost opposite Plassey. There the amun crop is not so good, but the people depend more upon aus and rubbi crops (including mulberry). The yield of the aus was from 6 to 8 annas; but all the rubbis except kalai are doing excellent. Kalai has been damaged to some extent by caterpillars (suapokas), but there is still reason to expect a crop of something like 10 or 12 annas, and other rubbi crops ought to yield a still higher outturn. I found that very few persons from villages in the neighbourhood had gone to work on our road at Saktipore, although the distance was not more than four or five miles.

4. I next visited the village of Morjanpore near Burua thanna, where the amun crop has to some extent failed. I found that the whole of the land that had not been transplanted with amun was being sown down with rubbi crops of various kinds. Many of these were already above the ground, and seemed to be doing remarkably well. I joined you at your camp at Lokenathpore on the 22nd November. This place is on the boundary between this district and Nuddea. From Lokenathpore I returned to Berhampore, enquiring on my way more particularly into the condition of the people of Beldanga and the surrounding villages, as I found that they had presented a petition to you complaining of their sufferings. Here, too, I found the same absence of testimony to show that actual want and suffering were being acutely felt. In the physical appearance of the people there was nothing to indicate this, although times are certainly hard. The pinch is naturally felt most by the cripples, lepers, blind, aged and infirm, who in all years have to subsist on charity. Even in the appearance of these persons, however, there was nothing out of the ordinary; nor did the number of beggars appear to be larger than usual. During all my enquiries, I found one family only the members of which were suffering from want of sufficient food. But I must describe the case: one man, himself weakly as to constitution, had to support a wife and three young children, the widow and three young children of a deceased brother, another brother lying on a sick bed, and his wife and two young children. Thus, three women and eight children were dependent on him for support. It was a Mussulman family, and the women would therefore not go out and work on the roads. It was evident from the appearance of the children that they were not receiving sufficient food for the maintenance of health; but this would have been nearly the same in years of plenty, as with rice at 25 seers for the rupee one man could not have earned enough to feed a large family like this.

5. In dealing with this particular tract of country, I may appear to have been more discussive in my remarks than the nature of this report warrants; but I beg to explain that I have been led to do so because it was from this quarter that Mr. Phillips gathered his "ounce of fact," and it is my duty to show that he not only got short weight, but had material as well. In his last letter to the Englishman newspaper, dated the 15th November, he named a number of villages where he stated that want was so severely felt that immediate relief was necessary. I have had a careful and exhaustive enquiry made there, and find that in three of the villages named, Rejinapore, Bikalnagore, and Janpore, there will be over a 12-anna crop. Hence, want will never be felt there at all. It is thus also evident that Mr. Phillips had very little knowledge of his subject.

6. I may now begin to deal with the sudder division of the district generally. This comprises the following thannas:—

Sujagunge.
Gorabazar.
Dowlatabad.
Gowas.

Hariharpara.
Jellinghee.
Burua.
Nowada.

Regarding the prospects in all of these thannas, I have consulted a number of persons, both officials and non-officials, and they one and all agree in saying that there certainly is at present no distress; but while they hesitate to say to what extent want may be experienced after February or March next, they consider that a tolerable expansion of the work under the control of the District Road Cess Committee would afford quite sufficient relief. Mr. Pratt, District Superintendent of Police, was good enough, at my request, to visit thannas Dowlatabad, Gowas, and Jellinghee, and has submitted copious notes on the condition of the people there, the outturn of the last aus crop, the state of the amun rice, and the prospects of the rubbi crops. The Sudder Sub-Deputy Collector has also visited thannas Hariharpara and Jellinghee. As regards Nowada thanna, there has never been any cause for anxiety, as a very large portion of the kalantar, or low-lying tract of country, lies within that jurisdiction, and there almost a bumper crop of amun is expected.

7. Mr. Pratt's experiences have throughout corresponded with mine. The country he travelled over consisted mostly of aus-producing land. Both he and the Sub-Deputy Collector estimate that the yield of the aus crop was between 4 and 8 annas. The yield of the amun crop will approximate to 6 annas. All the rubbi crops have been most extensively sown, including wheat and mulberry.

Although considerable damage has been done by the caterpillar to kalai and other pulses, the prospects of the rubbi crops are excellent, and if these prospects continue unimpaired, the outturn from these crops will, to a great extent, recoup the cultivators for the partial failure of the aus and amun. While the price of rice was high, 12 and 13 seers for the rupee, there was some pinching, and many persons were in need of employment, and this they found on the road repair works under the District Committee. Prices are now easier, and it is believed that rice will shortly be procurable everywhere at the rate of 15 or 16 seers to the rupee. No cases of suffering came to the notice of either the District Superintendent or the Sub-Deputy Collector.

8. Surjagunge and Gorabazar are the thannas in the immediate neighbourhood of Berhampore. They are ensured against famine, as any cases of real suffering will find relief from the charity of the Maharani Sarnomoyi of Cassimbazar. But here also there was no absolute failure of the crops. The yield of the aus was over 4 annas; the amun will be more than a 6-anna crop, and no one remembers the time when rubbi crops were so extensively sown and promised so excellent an outturn.

8½. Thus, speaking of the sudder sub-division generally, it appears that, although the aus and amun crops partially failed, yet rubbi crops have been most extensively sown, and so far they promise well. There has been a greater demand for labour than in ordinary years, but this demand has been sufficiently met by the District Road Cess Committee from the funds at their disposal. The time of reaping the amun harvest having now arrived, there is a smaller number of labourers at work on the district roads, but when that work is over, and the rubbi crops, too, have been reaped, there will again be a number of persons in search of employment.

9. I think that the tract which has suffered most from the scantiness of the rainfall has now been determined. This is a strip of country extending south from Berhampore station to the limits of the district in that direction, of a breadth of from three to five miles measured from the Bhagiruthee river. Here the level of the land is peculiarly high and aus is the principal crop. The land being on a higher level than that further distant from the river, the crop suffered more severely from the scantiness of the rainfall. I doubt whether the yield on this tract was so much as 4 annas. Very little amun can be grown in any year. The rubbi crops, however, have, as elsewhere, been extensively sown, and are doing tolerably well, but the caterpillar unfortunately has done considerable damage. I think that a great many persons within this area must have work to keep them going for a portion of the year. If the district fund be supplemented, sufficient employment could be provided.

10. Lalbagh sub-division.—The thannas in this sub-division are :—

Shahannagur.
Manullabazar.
Bhogwangola.

Kalyangunge.
Sagardighi.
Asanpore.

Of these Shahannagur, Manullabazar and Asanpore are semi-municipal, and the Azungunge terminus is situated in the last of the three. The people, therefore, are not entirely dependent on agriculture, and distress has therefore never been apprehended.

11. In the Bhogwangola thanna the amun rice is a very small factor, aus and rubbi being the principal crops. There was a 5-anna crop of aus, and this being considerably short led to a very extensive cultivation of rubbi crops of all kinds. These, with the exception of kalai and til, are doing remarkably well. In the first instance the kalai was swamped by a late inundation, and subsequently both that crop and til were attacked by caterpillars. They have, however, been only partially damaged. With a good rubbi crop this thanna will be safe.

12. The remaining two thannas of this sub-division, Sagardighi and Kailiangunge, are on the west bank of the Bhagiruthee, and therefore in the rarh country. Very little aus is grown here, nor is the soil suitable for producing rubbi crops. Amun rice is the crop on which the people almost entirely depend. In Sagardighi there was a little aus, which yielded at the rate of 6 annas a bumper crop. The amun rice, taking the whole thanna together, is an 8-anna crop. In this thanna therefore we have nothing to apprehend.

B.—13. Unfortunately the prospects in the Kalliangunge thanna are far from being so favourable. Not more than 8 or 9 annas of the whole rice-producing area was transplanted out, and on this area there will not be more than an 8-anna crop. Thus, compared with a bumper crop of ordinary years, there will be only a 4 or 4½-anna crop this year; and it is reported that there are from 12 to 15 villages where very little rice at all will be reaped, and there some relief in the form of employment will be necessary after February next. Rubbi crops have not in other years been grown within this thanna, but several kinds are now being tried on the lands where, from want of rain, the amun rice was not transplanted. It seems a pity that these experiments should have to be made at the time when the ryots can least afford to make them.

14. Janjipore sub-division.—This sub-division comprises the following thannas :—

Dewansarai.	Suti.
Raghunathgunge.	Mirzapore.
	Shamshergunge.

Regarding Raghunathgunge there need not be the slightest cause for anxiety, as the people there depend to a great extent on the silk industry, the prospects of which, although not very bright, do not portend disaster.

15. The people of Shamshergunge and Dewansarai chiefly depend on the bhadoi or aus and the rubbi crops. It is estimated that the former gave a 6-anna yield, that is to say, half as much again as Mr. Veasey estimated it to have been in his first report on this subject. Full information had not come to hand at the time when that report was drafted. Although here also the rubbi crops have been very extensively sown in order to make up for the short outturn of rice, there condition is not so good as elsewhere, the kalai in particular being reported as almost a failure. The first sowings were swamped by a late inundation and the new crop that was put in was attacked and almost destroyed by the same caterpillar as has done as much mischief elsewhere. Nevertheless the Sub-Divisional Officer estimates that there will be an 8-anna rubbi crop; and from other information I have received, I am inclined to think that the outturn will be even higher, as the Sub-Divisional Officer does not appear to have taken sufficiently into account the expansion of the area under rubbi this year.

16. The prospects in thanna Suti are not quite so favourable, especially in those villages where the people are chiefly dependent on the haimunt or amun rice crop. Yet I think that the ordinary labour supplied by the District Committee would grant sufficient relief here.

C.—17. There is a likelihood of some distress being felt later on in parts of the Mirzapore thanna, which lies in the Rarh country on the west bank of the Bhagiruthee. Generally speaking, the soil of this thanna is suitable for the production of one crop only—amun rice. The sub-divisional officer gives a list of twelve mouzabs where he says this crop has entirely failed, and names nine more mouzabs where the failure is almost complete. Elsewhere in the thanna there is a fair crop, and indeed in many villages the outturn will be excellent. The people of the villages where the crop has failed have been obtaining employment on district roads in that quarter, and many of them are now engaged as labourers in the work of reaping the rice elsewhere. It seems evident that we shall have to provide labour in some form for a certain number of persons in this thanna until next rainy season; but for the immediate present, quite enough is being done, as so many persons are finding employment in reaping the autumn rice. There, as elsewhere, there is a falling off in the number of labourers in our roads for this reason, and I think the number will not begin to increase again before February next.

18. Taking this sub-division as a whole, we expect a 5-anna amun crop at least; and so far the prospects of the rubbi crop are very good, and the sowings unusually extensive. So far as there has been serious failure of the rice crop, that failure has been confined to few villages only; and for the relief of the people affected, when relief becomes necessary district road work on a somewhat extended scale in comparison with other years will be sufficient, assuming that other forms of employment of labour and expenditure of money are not deemed by Government to be more desirable.

Kandy sub-division.

19. The following thannas are comprised within this sub-division :—

Kandy.	Khargaon.
Bharatpore.	Gokurn.

The whole of the sub-division lies on the western bank of the Bhagiruthee, and therefore in the country known as the Rarh. The principal crop of the year is the amun rice. There is very little aus cultivation, but in thannas Bharatpore and Gokurn the ratio of the relative importance of rubbi and amun is as 1 to 3. In thanna Khargaon the ratio is only as 1 to 7. I mention this fact here because the rubbi crop throughout the sub-division promises to yield an excellent outturn.

20. After taking into consideration the contraction of the area under amun rice this year, as well as the defective yield of what has been transplanted out, the sub-divisional officer has arrived at the following estimate regarding that crop:—

Thannas.					Annas.
Bharatpore	10½
Kandy	9
Khargaon	5
Gokurn	4

Mulberry is included along with the rubbi crops, and is very extensively grown in thannas Gokurn and Bharatpore, within each of which there are five silk filatures. The Sub-Divisional Officer nevertheless finds that employment will be necessary for five or six months from March next for about 24,000 persons. I am unable to accept his conclusions; as he begins by estimating the number who live by labour alone as one-third of the whole population—a very high estimate indeed for a thinly-populated tract of country; and in the next place he has included amongst those who must have labour all the women and children as well as the adult males. I shall endeavour to have a conference with this officer before the end of the present month in order that expression may be given to his views with greater precision and accuracy.

D.—21. It does, however, appear there will be a considerable supply of labour from thannas Gokurn and Kandy. In thannas Bharatpore and Khargaon there will also be some persons in need of employment, because, although the crop is good, in some villages it has failed, or almost failed in others. However, Gokurn and Kandy are the thannas that will need the most attention, but even here there is no immediate cause for anxiety, as it is not apprehended that any work to grant relief will be necessary before March next, and I further sincerely believe that none of us is in a position to say to what extent it will then be necessary to provide employment for the needy.

22. For the sake of convenience, I will here recapitulate the statement of the tracts likely to be most affected.

A—Sudder division.—The tract of country south from Berhampore, varying in breadth from three to five miles, lying along the east bank of the Bhagiruthee river. This strip lies chiefly in the Burua thanna, but partly in Gorabazar.

B—Lalbagh.—Portions of the Kulliangunge thanna in the sub-division of Lalbagh, owing to the failure of the amun rice.

C—Junjipore.—Portions of the thanna Mirzapore, where amun rice alone can be grown. In a considerable number of villages that crop has failed or is a partial failure.

D—Kandy.—Thannas Gokurn, Kandy and Khargaon within the Kandy sub-division, where, however, the extent to which labour will have to be provided still remains to be determined.

23. Outside these tracts there may be, and doubtless are, villages here and there where people reside, who will need labour later on. All, however, whom I have consulted, both officers and non-officials, are unanimous in thinking that at present there is no distress, and that it will not be necessary to give an expansion to the usual means of employment before March or, perhaps, February next. Meantime our observations can be continued and verified, and the extent to which employment will have to be provided can be determined. In support of my conclusion that at present ample means of employment are being provided on the district roads, I beg to submit a figured statement, showing the number of labourers on each of our roads under repairs day by day between the 10th and 25th of last month (November). It will be seen that, although the total number rose to 1,213 on the 18th, it fell off rapidly until the 25th, on which date only 436 persons were at work, and in considering this statement it should be borne in mind that, as I have previously stated, an able-bodied labourer can earn from 2½ to 4 annas a day working at the rates we pay. I attribute the falling off in the number of labourers to two causes—(1) the price of rice is gradually falling throughout the district, the rate for common rice in Berhampore being 14 seers for the rupee, and all other articles of food, especially wheat, are cheap; (2) the reaping of the amun rice crop has created a demand for labour, more particularly in the kalantar country, which lies in thanna Burua and Nowada, where there is a heavy crop; and the silk filatures are now everywhere being opened. For a few months, then, we may be free from anxiety.

24. Another figured statement appended to this report shows the expenditure on district roads up to date. From this it will be seen that over Rs. 6,000 have already been expended, of which almost Rs. 4,000 were paid away during November alone. The road cess fund of this district is a very small one in comparison with the burden it has to bear in all years, for this being an old district is very rich in roads. The amount available for public works each year is between Rs. 40,000 and Rs. 45,000 only, and out of this from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 12,000 have to be reserved each year on maintaining the metalled road from Berhampore to Jeagunge and Bhogwangola, and the repairs on that road can only be executed in the rainy season. We have thus less than Rs. 35,000 this year to expend on the cutcha roads, which are almost 700 miles in length. About one-fifth of this sum (less than Rs. 35,000) has already been expended; and if therefore there be a rush of labourers to the work we provide during and after February next our means will soon be exhausted. I think we must be prepared to meet a demand for employment very much in excess of that of other years, and it will be necessary to provide employment to relieve want among the labouring classes.

25. The Sub-Divisional Officers recommended the re-excavation of old tanks and the repairs of all our roads. In one or two cases it is recommended that new roads should be constructed. The agitators are mostly in favour of the construction of the Ranaghat-Bhogwangola Railway; but in my humble way I would deprecate the commencement of that work. So far as its industries are concerned, this is a declining district, and therefore the goods traffic over this line could not be but light. The population is not dense, and therefore the passenger traffic would not be heavy; and for five months of the year the line would have to compete with the river traffic on the Bhagiruthee to the west and the Jellinghee to the east. I will, however, grant that it might bear off some of the produce of the Rajshahye and Maldah districts.

But there is another objection. The completion of the work will be very costly. Assuming that it is conducted this year only so far as it is found necessary to keep relief works open, when may we hope for its completion? If it will not be possible to push on the work in subsequent years, there will be nothing to show for the expenditure but a heap of earth of no value, convenience, or utility whatsoever.

26. I therefore would respectfully beg to suggest that the district road fund be supplemented to such an extent as the actual requirements of the district, to be hereafter determined, would seem to justify. In consequence of the inadequacy of the district fund a great many useful roads have fallen into lamentable disrepair. The present year seems to be a most favourable opportunity for bringing these once more thoroughly into order. I would also recommend some expenditure on the re-excavation of old tanks, or on the excavation of new ones, and in connection with this subject I may refer to the relative state of the crops in thannas Sagardighee and Kulliangunge in the Lalbagh sub division. In the former thanna the prospects are tolerably good in consequence of irrigation from tanks; whereas the latter thanna is one of the tracts where want will be most felt, the reason being that all the tanks have silted up and irrigation from them was impossible. These two thannas lie north and south of each other.

27. Out of the funds of the Cossimbazar Estate under the Court of Wards, a sum of Rs. 2,424 will be expended over tanks and wells, and I purpose applying for sanction to expend a further sum of about Rs. 4,000 on the same objects.

28. There is no reason to apprehend a scarcity of fodder. On the contrary, the supply will be abundant if we have a few showers of rain from time to time during the cold season and again in March, as there is more grazing land than usual. Cattle at present appear to be in fairly good condition.

29. There will be some difficulty felt later on as regards the water-supply, and this may affect injuriously the health of the public. For this there is little or no remedy, as tanks now excavated would be of no service until after the next rains, and wells would be little better. We must wait and hope for rain. Rain in February next would remove all anxiety under this head.

30. The stocks of old rice in the district are insignificant, even if we include the out-turn of the last aus crop. The rubbi crops, however, will compensate for this, if the yield be as good as we now have a right to expect it to be. At all events, there is no cause for entertaining anxiety as regards any quarter of the district for the next two months or so, and the apprehensions of the alarmists are, I think, subsiding. The amun crop is after all not so bad as was at one time anticipated. The rubbi is an excellent crop, taking the district as a whole; mulberry, too, is a good crop, although it certainly is selling very cheap: the price of rice is falling, and a further fall is expected, and all other food staples are cheap and plentiful.

31. I have observed that the first demand is not for labour, but for gratuitous relief, and in one place it was actually suggested to me that private distributions of food should be made from house to house. I can say with confidence that the circumstances which would justify the bestowal of gratuitous relief by Government are very remote indeed from the circumstances that do actually prevail. The District Superintendent, the Sub-Divisional Officers, and myself have endeavoured to stimulate the efforts of private charity, and there are indications to show that there has been some expansion. Of course, all who go daily to the Rajbati at Cossimbazar receive doles, and the number now is considerably greater than it was in former years. The majority of these, however, are professional beggars.

32. As there is no immediate cause for anxiety in this district, I would respectfully suggest that you permit me to submit the next report at the end of December, as there would be little, if anything more, to add at the middle of the month.

S. K. PUNDIT,

District Engineer, Moorshedabad District.

Extract from the District Superintendent's Inspection Memorandum of Azimgunge Outpost, dated 30th November 1884.

This outpost is, roughly speaking, four miles square in area. It is essentially an aus-dhan and rubbi country. Amun-dhan is grown very little, not one anna of the land under cultivation.

The head constable, who knows the rest of Jellinghee, says that the land of the whole thanna is of the same description as that of his outpost.

Aus-dhan was sown to the same extent as in former years. The yield was, however, poor, owing to scanty rainfall, not more than 6 or 8 annas having been realized.

What little amun is grown is on bil lands and is good—not quite a bumper crop, but nearly so.

There is a deal of mulberry grown all over Jellinghee, and it is good.

About $1\frac{1}{2}$ annas of the cultivated tract is under jute, which has been exceptionally good this year.

A very large amount of indigo is grown. The factories are:—

- | | |
|----------------|--------------------|
| 1. Domkole. | 4. Sahebrampore. |
| 2. Subdulpore. | 5. Ramchundrapore. |
| 3. Katakopore. | 6. Hookahara. |
| 7. Baramasia. | |

All belong to Watson concern. The silk factories are:—

- | | |
|---------------|---------------|
| 1. Kaligunge. | 2. Faridpore. |
| 3. Bagdanga. | |

also belong to Watson and Company. These factories are managed by English gentlemen, who doubtless would bring to notice distress should there be any. The land, say, 12 annas of the thanna area which was under aus, is now under rubbi, and all the cold weather crops promise well.

About 3 annas of this 12 annas is, however, under kalai and moogh. Half has suffered severely from caterpillars “(soopokas)” and half was entirely destroyed by the late inundation. The latter lands have, however, been re-cultivated, and are now under rubbi.

The cultivators are said to be very hard up owing to the partial failure of the aus crop.

I have known them go as far as Mymensingh in search of work in ordinary years.

H. FARRER.
O. M.

I believe this is the case everywhere in the district, that those who wanted labour have found it on the roads.

H. FARRER.

† Kangal means a poor and helpless person.

H. FARRER.
O. M.

Many have gone into Rajshahye for the amun harvest. Poor people go in ordinary years, but this year more than usual have gone. A few persons have applied to the police for work, and this has been provided for them on the roads. The head-constable says four or five came to him.

The head-constable says that on Sundays a great many paupers come into Azimgunge to be fed. This year they are in excess of those of other years, and that women preponderate.

They are Kangals,† but have become weak and have taken to begging through want.

The death register of the outpost shows in 1884 up to date:—

January	... 33 deaths.
February	... 50 „
March	... 138 „ (78 of them were from cholera).
April	... 176 „ (143 from cholera).
May	... 59 „ (22 from cholera).
June	... 21 „ (cholera ceased).
July	... 29 „ { ditto.
	{ 1 case small-pox.
August	... 41 „ (fever prevailed).
September	... 32 „ (ditto).
October	... 54 „ (48 from fever).
November	... 60 „ (only one from bowel-complaint; most from fever).

Rashomai Basu, the chief pleader of the munsif's court, was good enough to let me question him about the state of the country and crops.

He says that probably as soon as the rubbi is cut, all distress will vanish. He does not think any relief is or will be needed. He says that on Sundays 250, and on other days 100 Kangals come in for charity—about double the number in previous years. Private charity provides for these, and some go to Cassimbazar for the daily charity given to all-comers by the Rani Sarnomoyi.

He says that it is customary for the cultivators of Jellinghee to go to Rungpore and Rajshahye for the amun dhan harvest.

As far as I can see, the Government need not have the slightest anxiety about the thannas of Doulatabad, Gowas, and Jellinghee, regarding which I have made personal enquiries.

I also had a visit from Baboo Gopi Mohun Mukerji himself. This gentleman agreed in thinking there is little chance of any relief measures being needed.

EXEMPTION FROM RE-MEASUREMENT IN HER MAJESTY'S DOMINIONS OF BELGIAN VESSELS, THE TONNAGE OF WHICH IS DENOTED IN THE CERTIFICATES OF BELGIAN NATIONALITY OR REGISTRY ISSUED AFTER 1st JANUARY 1884.

No. 2124, dated Calcutta, the 12th December 1884.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

The following Order in Council, exempting from re-measurement in Her Majesty's Dominions Belgian vessels, the tonnage of which is denoted in the certificates of Belgian nationality or registry issued after the 1st January 1884, is published for general information :—

AT THE COURT OF BALMORAL.

The 17th day of October 1884.

PRESENT:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas by "The Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it is enacted that, whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of Merchant Ships for the time being in force under the principal Act have been adopted by the Government of any Foreign Country, and are in force in that Country, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by Order in Council, to direct that the ships of such Foreign Country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their Certificates of Registry, or other national papers; and thereupon it shall no longer be necessary for such ships to be re-measured in any port or place in Her Majesty's Dominions, but such ships shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their Certificates of Registry, or other papers, in the same manner, to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificates of Registry of British ships is to be deemed the tonnage of such ships :

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of Merchant Ships now in force under "The Merchant Shipping Act, 1854," have been adopted by the Government of His Majesty the King of the Belgians, with the exception of a slight difference in the mode of estimating the allowance for engine-room, and such rules are now in force in that Country, having come into operation on the 1st day of January 1884 :

Her Majesty is hereby pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct as follows :—

1. As regards sailing ships, that merchant sailing ships belonging to Belgium, the measurement whereof on or after the said 1st day of January 1884 shall have been ascertained and denoted in the Certificates of Registry, or other national papers of such sailing ships, testified by the dates thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such Certificates of Registry, or other national papers, in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificates of Registry of British sailing ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships.

As regards steam-ships, that merchant ships belonging to Belgium which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof on or after the said 1st day of January 1884 shall have been ascertained and denoted in the Certificates of Registry, or other national papers of such steam-ships, testified by the dates thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such Certificates of Registry, or other national papers, in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificates of Registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ship, provided, nevertheless, that, if the owner or master of any such steam-ship desires the deduction for engine-room in such ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British ships, instead of under the Belgian rules, the engine-room shall be measured, and the deductions calculated, according to the British Rules.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE HOOGHLY BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST MARCH 1884.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—COMMUNICATIONS.

No. 2103C., dated Calcutta, the 17th December 1884.

READ—

Report of the administration of the Hooghly Bridge Trust for the year ending the 31st March 1884.

Read again—

Public Works Proceedings (A), Communications, for June 1883, Nos. 1 and 2, being the report of the administration of the Hooghly Bridge for the year 1882-83, together with the Resolution passed thereon.

RESOLUTION.—The actual receipts and expenditure on the Hooghly Bridge during the year 1883-84, as compared with the estimated amounts, were as follows:—

		Estimate.	Actual.	More.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	...	4,94,771	5,36,695	41,924
Expenditure	...	5,51,774	6,03,515	51,741

To the actual receipt of Rs. 5,36,695, a sum of Rs. 695 has been added in suspense account.

2. The aggregate of contributions, since 1874-75, towards the repayment of the original loan, amounted, at the close of the year, to Rs. 11,61,800, leaving a balance of Rs. 10,80,000 still unpaid. The Reserve Fund invested in Government securities amounted at the close of the year to Rs. 5,37,176. There was a cash balance of Rs. 31,433, and stock of the value of Rs. 1,08,761 has been provided as a reserve in case of any accident happening to the bridge.

3. The excess in expenditure was caused by contributing a larger sum than was estimated in repayment of the original loan. The receipts from Railway traffic were in excess of the actual receipts of the previous year. There was no increase in the schedule of rates, and the difference was entirely due to an increase in the quantity of goods carried. The receipts from local traffic were also above the amount realized from that source during the previous year, owing to the enhanced rate at which the tolls were let for the year under review. The following are the comparative figures for the two years:—

	1882-83.	1883-84.
	Actuals.	Estimated.	Actuals.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Railway traffic	... 3,25,556	3,30,000	3,75,500
Local ditto	... 1,11,813	1,21,200	1,22,200

4. The lease of the bridge tolls to Baboo Hurdial Marwaree expired the 29th February 1884, and has been renewed for another year, the lessor paying the Commissioners Rs. 11,100 monthly.

5. The Steamer Buckland was employed in crossing the passenger traffic on the days when the bridge was opened to allow vessels to pass through. The steam tug Hetty, having been in dock during a portion of the year, was not available during that time for towing vessels through the Bridge.

6. No accidents occurred in passing sea-going vessels through the opening of the bridge, but 140 other vessels, including 127 boats carrying country cargo and passengers, collided with the bridge. None of the collisions, however, were of a serious nature, nor was there, so far as could be ascertained, any loss of life.

7. A petition signed by 6,642 persons asking for a reconsideration of the Commissioners' former decision not to allow the street tramway to be carried across the bridge was presented to the Commissioners in November 1883.

The question was again carefully considered, but the Commissioners were unable to alter their previous decision, refusing to allow such a tramway to be established.

8. During the year under review, the proposals of the Howrah Municipality regarding the construction, on the north side of the bridge approaches, of a road leading to the ghat at the Howrah abutment of the bridge were communicated to the Commissioners by Government. The Municipality suggested that a piece of land to the north of that which had been occupied by the quarters of the bridge officers should be taken up for a new approach road to the river, and that the payment of compensation might be obviated by inducing the owners of the land proposed to be taken to accept, in exchange, a strip of equal area of the land attached to the Port Commissioners' dock, which adjoins. It was found, however, that the suggestion of the Municipality would not be a convenient arrangement for Messrs. Ahmuty & Co., the owners of the land adjoining the bridge, it being used by them as a slip-way for hauling up boats; and an alternative plan, which would give access to the ghat, was then suggested by the Commissioners. They proposed that, in order to set the whole of the road to the south of the bridge free for the use of passengers and bathers, a piece of land belonging to the Commissioners should be made over to the Municipality for use either as a carriage stand, depôt for stone metal, or for any other purpose found suitable. They also offered to open the archway under the bridge abutment, which is at present enclosed and used for the storage of timber and bridge stores, and to make it available as a passage to the bathing ghat on the north side of the bridge, which could then be set apart exclusively for the use of females. The Municipality and Government agreed to these suggestions, and the necessary alterations to make the ghat to the north of the bridge abutment suitable for native women are now being carried out. This matter has been the source of much correspondence during past years, and it is satisfactory that it has now been settled in a manner agreeable to all the parties interested in the result.

9. The question of readjusting the terminal charges collected on railway-borne goods at Howrah on account of the bridge was considered during the year under review. In February 1884 a conference was held at Howrah to discuss certain matters at issue between the Port Commissioners and the East Indian Railway Company. It was then proposed that, in consideration of certain concessions to be made by the Railway Company regarding dues on railway-borne goods on the Shalimar frontage, the terminal of Re. 1 per 100 maunds should be divided between the Port Commissioners and Bridge Commissioners, and that subsequent to the liquidation of the bridge debt, a terminal payable to the Port Commissioners should be maintained in lieu of frontage dues. The division of the present terminal has been sanctioned by Government, subject to the balance remaining to the bridge being sufficient to find a surplus available for the payment of the annual sum of Rs. 73,338 towards the sinking fund of the bridge debt. When the debt is liquidated, a terminal wharfage charge will be levied in a manner to be determined hereafter.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Bridge Commissioners for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published, for general information, in the Supplement of the Calcutta Gazette.

INCREASE.

Coal ...	397
This increase is due to one of the coal merchants stacking up per sale.
Piece-goods ...	16
This increase is due to previous stock being entirely exhausted.
Revenue stores ...	20
This increase is due to revenue stores being carried by ordinary train instead of by ballast train.
DECREASE.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of November 1884 aggregated maunds 4,42,016, as compared with the maund 3,46,210 carried during the corresponding period of 1883, and maunds 3,16,493 carried during the previous month, showing an increase of maunds 95,806 in one case and 1,25,523 in the other.

Of the several increases and decreases the following are the most prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations:—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Coal and coke	3,716
This is due to the establishment of a coal agency by Messrs. Stevens McNaughten & Co.
Piece-goods	8,140
This fluctuates according to Hindu festivals and also according to the pecuniary prosperity of the district.
Indigo	9,203
This is being despatched earlier this year than last.
Food-grains	49,519
Due to threatened scarcity and failure of crops.
Iron	3,475
Due to despatch of scrap iron to Burrakur from the Somastipore stores.
Ghee	2,428
This is worthy of notice and would be much larger if we could see our way to making special wagons. &c., for its transport.
Salt	16,757
Due to reduction in East Indian Railway rates which drew the traffic to the Railway.
Seeds	28,516
The rivers were low so the Railway had to be used. Also the failure of castor-oil seed crop elsewhere necessitated East Indian Railway making large purchases in Tirhoot for the Manauri Oil Factory.
Timber	13,276
Messrs. Dent & Co. have a large depôt at Somastipore for this traffic, and it fluctuates according to the number of contracts they obtain for timbers wrought and unwrought.

DECREASES.

	Mds.
Lime and kunker	10,118
This is due to small demands by the Road Cess and Durbhangah Raj, and depends entirely on such engineering projects.
Railway materials	20,636
Due to the completion of the Eastern, Western and Hajipore extensions.
Saltpetre	5,937
The price at Calcutta is low, and no demand exists in the market.
Tobacco	2,132
The year's crops have been very poor.

HORACE BELL, Manager.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazepore factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th December, 1884, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 18 OF 1884.

A Bill to repeal part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, and to amend the Excise Act, 1881, and the Bengal Excise Act, 1878.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, and to amend section 7 of the Excise Act, 1881, and section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. The part of section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, beginning with the words "And whereas," down to and including the words "been paid," is repealed.

2. For clause (a) of section 7 of the Excise Act, XXII of 1881, the following clause shall be substituted:—

"(a) such duty as the Local Government may from time to time fix in respect of such spirit has been paid."

3. In section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, for the words "at the rate leviable under any Tariff Act for the time being in force" the words "at such rate as the Local Government may from time to time fix in respect of such spirituous liquor" shall be substituted; but nothing in this section shall affect any Act passed after this Act comes into force by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council.

4. The duty now fixed by the Local Government under section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882, as leviable on spirit manufactured in all or any of the distilleries situate in the territories under its administration, or in any part of such territories, shall, in places in which the Excise Act, 1881, or the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, is in force, be deemed to be the duty fixed by the Local Government under sections 7 and 18 of those Acts, as amended by this Act, respectively.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Government of Madras recently submitted a draft Bill to consolidate and amend the Abkari law of the Presidency of Madras, for sanction to its introduction in the local Legislative Council, and, on examination of its provisions, it was found that two clauses of one of its sections, imposing a duty on liquor, were, as applied to spirit, ultra vires of the local legislature, as the mode of fixing the excise duty on spirit is determined by section 6 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1882. It was also feared that the penultimate clause of the latter section, by keeping in force, under the authority of the Governor General's Legislative Council, an unexplored mass of law existing on the 10th March, 1882, might render other provisions of that Bill ultra vires.

This in itself would make it necessary that legislation should be resorted to in the Council, of the Governor General in order to prevent the Madras Bill from being declared invalid; and as moreover, section 6 of the Tariff Act must seriously hamper any local legislature contemplating legislation like that proposed by the Madras Government, it is proposed to repeal that section, leaving it to the Local Governments to deal with the mode of fixing the duties of excise on spirit, under the other enactments locally in force, subject, so far as any discretion is allowed to them by those enactments, to the general executive control of the Government of India.

The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It first repeals section 6 of the Tariff Act except the last clause amending section 1 of Act XVI of 1863, which Act is still in force. It then amends section 7 of the Excise Act, 1881, and section 18 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, which at present contain references to the provisions of section 6 of the Tariff Act, by omitting these references and conferring on the Local Governments concerned power to fix the duty payable in respect of country spirit. Lastly, in order to prevent any question being raised as to the effect of the repeal of section 6 of the Tariff Act, the Bill declares that duties already fixed by the Local Government under section 6 of the Tariff Act shall be deemed to be duties fixed by the Local Government under sections 7 and 18 of the Excise Act, 1881, and the Bengal Excise Act, 1878, as amended by this Act, respectively.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 19th December, 1884, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 19 OF 1884.

A Bill to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea.

WHEREAS by section 99 of an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "the Passengers Act, 1855," it is enacted that "it shall be lawful for the Governor General of India in Council, from time to time, by any Act or Acts to be passed for that purpose, to declare that this Act or any part thereof shall apply to the carriage of passengers upon any voyage, from any ports or places within the territories of British India, to be specified in such Act or Acts, to any other places whatsoever, to be also specified in such Act or Acts;" and it is thereby also enacted that "on the passing of such Indian Act or Acts, and whilst the same shall remain in force, all such parts of this Act as shall be adopted therein shall apply to and extend to the carriage of passengers upon such voyages as in the said Indian Act or Acts shall be specified. The provisions of such Indian Act shall be enforced in all Her Majesty's possessions in like manner as the provisions of this Act may be enforced;"

And whereas certain parts of the said Act of Parliament were by Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) made applicable to the carriage of passengers upon certain specified voyages;

And whereas by an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863," certain parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, which were so made applicable have been amended, and it is provided that the said Acts of the Imperial Parliament shall be construed together as one Act;

And whereas it is expedient that the amendments so made in the Passengers Act, 1855, should also be made in the parts of that Act so made applicable, and it is also expedient to apply those parts so amended to the carriage of passengers upon certain voyages not specified in Act II of 1860;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (I) This Act may be called the Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885: and

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of March, 1885.

2. On and from the day on which this Act comes into force, Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) shall be repealed.

3. The provisions contained in sections 4, 5 and 6 of this Act, and the schedule hereto annexed (being parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, as amended by the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863), are declared applicable to the carriage of passengers upon the following voyages, namely:—

(a) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the British Colonies of Mauritius, Jamaica, British Guiana, Trinidad, St. Lucia, Grenada, St. Vincent, Natal, St. Kitts, Nevis and Fiji;

(b) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the French Colonies of Réunion, Martinique, Guadeloupe and its dependencies, and Guiana;

(c) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Netherlands colony of Dutch Guiana;

(d) Voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Danish colony of St. Croix;

(e) Voyages under the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1876, from Calcutta Madras, Bombay, Karáchi, Rangoon and other ports in British India to the Straits Settlements, to the protected Native States adjoining the Straits Settlements, to Australia, and to ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf.

1860, s. 2.]

4. If the passengers upon any such voyage as is specified in the last preceding section are taken off from the ship carrying such passengers, or are picked up at sea from any boat, raft or otherwise, it shall be lawful, if the port or place to which they shall be conveyed is in any of Her Majesty's colonial possessions, for the Governor of such colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose, or, if in any foreign country, for Her Majesty's Consular officer, at such port or place therein, to defray all or any part of the expenses thereby incurred.

[Act II of
1860, s. 3,
29 & 27
Vic., c. 51,
[New.]

5. If any passenger of any such passenger-ship as aforesaid, without any neglect or default of his own, finds himself within any colonial or foreign port, or place other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he, or the Emigration Agent, or any public officer or other person on his behalf, has contracted that he should land, it shall be lawful for the Governor of the colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose or for Her Majesty's Consular officer at the foreign port or place, as the case may be, to forward the passenger to his intended destination, unless the master of the ship, within forty-eight hours of the arrival of such passenger, gives to the Governor or Consular officer, as the case may be, a written undertaking to forward or carry on within six weeks thereafter the passenger to his original destination, and unless the master accordingly forwards or carries him on within that period.

Act II of 1860, s. 4,
26 & 27
Vic., c. 51,
s. 18.]

6. (1) All expenses incurred under the last two preceding sections, or either of them, by or by the authority of a Governor or Consular officer, or other person as therein respectively mentioned, including the cost of maintaining the passengers until forwarded to their destination, and of all necessary bedding, provisions and stores, shall become a debt to Her Majesty and Her successors from the owner, charterer and master of the ship, and shall be recoverable from them, or from any one or more of them, at the suit and for the use of Her Majesty, in like manner as in the case of other Crown debts.

[New.]

(2) A certificate in the form given in the Schedule hereto annexed, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit, purporting to be under the hand of any such Governor or Consular officer (as the case may be), stating the total amount of the expenses, shall, in any suit or other proceeding for the recovery of the debt, be received in evidence without proof of the handwriting or of the official character of the Governor or Consular officer, and shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the amount of the expenses, and that the same were duly incurred;

nor shall it be necessary to adduce on behalf of Her Majesty any other evidence in support of the claim, but judgment shall pass for the Crown, with costs of suit, unless the defendant specially pleads and duly proves that the certificate is false or fraudulent, or specially pleads and duly proves any facts showing that the expenses were not duly incurred:

Provided, nevertheless, that in no case shall any larger sum be recovered on account of the expenses than a sum equal to twice the total amount of passage-money received or due to and recoverable by or on account of the owner, charterer or master of the passenger-ship or any of them from or on account of the whole number of passengers who may have embarked in the ship; which total amount of passage-money shall be proved by the defendant if he will have the advantage of this limitation of the debt: but if any such passengers are forwarded or conveyed to their intended destination under the provisions of the last preceding section, they shall not be entitled to the return of their passage-money, or to any compensation for loss of passage.

(See section 6.)

(a). N. B.—1 If more passengers were rescued than forwarded, or if bedding, &c., was not supplied, alter the certificate to suit the facts of the case.
(b). N. B.—2 State generally the nature of the disaster, and where it occurred. But if the passengers were only left behind without any default of their own, state the fact accordingly.

I hereby certify that acting under, and in conformity with, the provisions of the Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885, I have defrayed the expenses incurred in rescuing, maintaining, supplying with necessary bedding, provisions and stores (a), and in forwarding to their destination passengers who were proceeding from to in the passenger-ship which was wrecked at sea, &c. (b).

And I further certify, for the purposes of the sixth section of the said Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885, that the total amount of such expenses is, and that such expenses were duly incurred by me under the said Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Act II of 1860 declares certain parts (namely, sections 52, 53 and 54) of the English Passengers Act, 1855 (18 & 19 Vic., cap. 119) to be applicable to the carriage of passengers upon voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the colonies of Mauritius, Jamaica, British Guiana, Trinidad, St. Lucia and Grenada, and from ports in British India to ports in the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. The colonies mentioned were the places to which emigration was then lawful. Since 1860, emigration to the colonies of Fiji, Natal, Réunion, St. Croix, Guadeloupe, Martinique, Dutch Guiana, St. Vincent, Nevis and St. Kitts has been sanctioned. With respect, however, to voyages to places not specified in Act II of 1860, that

Act gives no power to any authority to recover expenses incurred in forwarding shipwrecked passengers to their destination and in maintaining them until they are so forwarded. At present, therefore, the voyages to which the Act does not apply are more numerous than those to which it does.

2. Again, the Act, as it stands at present, is, if strictly construed, inapplicable to the conditions under which emigration from India is usually conducted. Section 3 of the Act, following section 53 of the English Passengers Act, 1855, runs as follows:—"If any passenger * * * find himself within any colonial or foreign port or place other than that at which he may have contracted to land," &c. But as a rule, emigrants from India do not themselves contract with the owners or charterers of the vessels in which they emigrate. In all cases falling under the Indian Emigration Act VII of 1871 (or which may fall under the Indian Emigration Act XXI of 1883, when that Act is brought into force) the contract is made by a recruiter for the colony importing labour, under the supervision of the Protector of Emigrants. Emigrants despatched in this way are therefore technically excluded from the provisions of Act II of 1860. A similar difficulty appears to have arisen in England, and to have been met by an amendment of the law. Section 12 of the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863 (26 & 27 Vic., cap. 51), repeals section 53 of the English Passengers Act, 1855, and section 15 of the former Act substitutes for the words "other than that at which he may have contracted to land" the words "other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he or the Emigration Commissioners, or any public officer, or other person on his behalf, may have contracted that he should land".

3. These two defects in the Act came to notice in connection with the following occurrence. In the end of April last, the steamer Laleham, carrying emigrants from Calcutta to Dutch Guiana, grounded off Ceylon, and was compelled to land her passengers at Trincomalee. The Laleham returned to Calcutta, where she was examined by the Engineer-Surveyor to the port, and reported "unseaworthy and unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life". The Agents of the Laleham at first proposed to substitute another vessel, but subsequently declined to do so, offering merely to have the Laleham repaired at Calcutta, and to fulfil her charter-party by re-embarking the coolies at Trincomalee and taking them on to Surinam.

The Advocate General of Bengal, on being consulted, was of opinion that no action could be taken under Act II of 1860, and that the matter would be governed by the charter-party. Surinam, he said, being in Dutch Guiana, is not a place to which Act II of 1860 applies. He thought further that the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863, would be construed strictly, and according to such construction he did not think that the words of section 3 of Act II of 1860 would cover the break-down in a voyage to which that Act applied, in any case other than that in which the passenger had himself contracted.

Under these circumstances legislation seems necessary in order to bring Act II of 1860 into conformity with the present system of emigration and the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863.

The present Bill has accordingly been prepared. It repeals and re-enacts Act II of 1860 with the necessary amendments. Section 3 of the present Bill declares the subsequent provisions of the Bill (being parts of the English Passenger Act, 1855, as amended by the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863) to be applicable to all voyages to certain specified colonies and places, which are, in fact, the colonies and places to which under the existing law emigration is now lawful or is likely to be legalized; and in sections 5 and 6 the amendments made by the English Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863, in sections 53 and 54 of the English Passengers Act, 1855 (which formed sections 3 and 4 of Act II of 1860) are incorporated with some slight modifications so as to adapt them to this country.

REGISTRATION OF PERMANENT TENURES.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS introduced the Bill to provide for the registration of permanent tenures, and moved that it be read in Council. He said :—The explanation which I gave last Saturday of the scope and objects of this Bill seems to render it unnecessary that I should do more on the present occasion than invite the attention of the Council to the Bill which has been circulated to Hon. Members, and ask them to compare its provisions with the statement I made on that occasion. The Bill, after a few preliminary sections, which are taken up with the necessary definitions, is divided into three Chapters. The first Chapter relates to the procedure to be adopted in places in which registration is optional. It provides that application may be made for the registration of tenures either by proprietors of land or tenure-holders, and that it should be made to the Subordinate Judge; and then it makes provision for due notice to be given to all persons concerned to file any objections which they may wish to put forward; it provides also for summary decision in cases which admit of their being summarily decided, and for the framing of issues for regular decision on such points as are in dispute, and cannot be settled in any other way. The second Chapter prescribes the nature of the registers to be kept by the Collector, and this Chapter applies to registration, both in cases in which registration is optional, and also in local areas in which registration may possibly be made compulsory. The Chapter, as I said, provides for the nature of the registers to be kept up, and it also contains provisions for what is to be done to carry out the mutation of names, in cases of transfer and succession. And with regard to this provision I wish to invite the attention of Hon. Members to sections 25 to 30 of the Bill, and to point out that those sections provide, in the case of the mutation of names, for just as much facility and opportunities being given for putting forward and the hearing of objections, as in original cases of applications for the registration of the tenure itself. From what has passed in another place, I understand that some landlords have felt apprehensions that, under the cover of the mutation of names, claims and documents may be put forward transferring tenures and containing stipulations and conditions which the zemindars might not be inclined to acknowledge, but which nevertheless, unless they objected to them in time, they might be considered to have acquiesced in. These sections therefore provide that, in the case of mutation of names, full opportunity shall be afforded for objections to be made and decided. Then Chapter III provides for the procedure in local areas in which the Local Government may declare that registration shall be compulsory, and these provisions are mainly based on what I may call the corresponding sections of the Bengal Land Registration Act (VII of 1876). The Government is disposed to attach much importance to this measure as a necessary complement to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Bill. If, indeed, we possessed in the Lower Provinces a complete record of rights, such as has been framed in other parts of Northern India, it might not be necessary to legislate specially for the registration of one class of tenancies. Possibly some of the present generation may survive to see the day when we shall have in every village and estate of Bengal a record of the rights and interests of every class of the agricultural population, from the zemindar down to the humblest tenant. But that time, though it may one day come, is certainly still very distant. The work will be one of great labour and expense, and the agency for establishing and maintaining the record has still to be created. In the meantime this Bill will in some measure supply, for one numerous and important class of tenancies, what I hope may eventually be attained for all. The registration of permanent tenures will afford much valuable information regarding the economic conditions of the country, the different gradations of landlords, and the extent to which sub-infeudation has been carried; it will facilitate the settlement of many disputed questions; and it will enable the Government to afford substantial assistance to proprietors in the recovery of their rents.

The HON. JOY PROKASH LALL said:—I beg with the permission of the President to make a few observations on that section of the Bill which contains a definition of “permanent tenure.” Your Honor must be aware that there are in Behar occupancy rights which are heritable and by custom transferable. Then there is the guzash’a tenure, which is heritable and also transferable, but liable to enhancement of rent. These rights are not yet recognized by law; the people of Behar would therefore wish to know whether this Bill will treat such tenure-holders as mukuraidars and muafidars, and the like. But if the Bill goes further than that, and the tenures to be affected are not well defined, great litigation and expense will follow, and both the Government as well as the people will be affected. I have nothing further to urge, except to repeat that the nature of the tenures in Bengal and Orissa are different from those in Behar.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS said in reply:—I understand the Hon. Member not so much to object to the provisions of the Bill, as to complain that some of the definitions contained in it are not sufficiently clear and precise. With regard to what he said on the question of guzashta tenures, I would ask him to refer to the definition of “tenure” which has been drafted in accordance with the Land Registration Act of 1876, as including every interest in land, except estates and the interests of raiyats or under-raiyats. Now, as I understand, these guzashta tenants are admitted to be raiyats, although raiyats having rights and privileges, such as fixity of tenure and perhaps also fixity of rent; but I never understood that it was claimed for them that they possessed any other rights than those of raiyats. In that case it is clear that they will not come under the definition of the Bill at all. But there are holders of other tenures to which I understand the Hon. Member to refer, such as mokuraidars and munfidars, which do come under the definition. Tenures, such as ijaras, which are not of a permanent nature, do not come under it.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said:—I understand the Hon. Member to say that his objections rather refer to the circumstances and condition of things in Behar, as being different from those in Bengal, and that possibly, unless those circumstances and conditions are borne in mind, there might be a difficulty as regards the particular definition of “tenure” in this Bill. The Hon. Member also referred to certain special tenures in Behar, but from the difficulty I experienced in hearing what he said, I am not in a position to discuss the question. As, however, the name of the Hon. Member is proposed to be placed on the Select Committee to which the Bill will be referred, no doubt the objections which he suggests will be fully considered in Committee.

The motion was then put and agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon. Mr. MacDonnell, the Hon. Mr. Garrett, the Hon. Moulvie Abdul Jubbar, the Hon. Joy Prokash Lall, and the Mover.

INSPECTION OF PRIME-MOVERS.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend Bengal Act III of 1879. He said: This Act of 1879 is an Act for the Inspection of Steam-boilers and Prime-movers, and extends to the town and suburbs of Calcutta and the town of Howrah. It does not apply to locomotive steam-engines or to steam-vessels. The Act provides that no boiler or prime-mover shall be used without a certificate granted under the Act, and in force at the time being; and it further provides for the appointment of Inspectors who, under section 5, are required carefully to examine boilers and prime-movers in every part thereof, and it requires the owner to afford all reasonable facilities for such examination, and all such information as may reasonably be required. But in point of fact, I understand that this provision of the law is not literally carried out; the inspection is practically limited to boilers and does not extend to prime-movers. The Boiler Commissioners some time ago brought the matter to the notice of the Government, and pointed out that the Act is not complied with, and that to carry out its provisions will cause very serious difficulty and inconvenience. They explain that, when a boiler has to be inspected, it can very easily be cooled down, and the examination and inspection can be made without interfering with the course of business in general, and the working of the mill or other factory. But this is not the case if the prime-mover has to be examined. The examination of the prime-mover, if it is to be anything more than a mere examination only in name, if it is to be such an examination as is referred to in section 5, will involve the stoppage of work, and will also possibly involve the taking of the engine to pieces, or at any rate the dismantling of it to a certain extent; and that will be a serious inconvenience, not only to mill-owners and persons of that kind, but to the community in general. They point out that this provision of the law will apply also to the engines and pumps used in the water-supply of Calcutta, and that if the examination of the prime-movers attached to them is to be made, the Public may some day find themselves without water; and they add that there is really no great necessity for a minute examination of prime-movers, and that if an accident happened to prime-movers it would not have anything like the same disastrous effect as the explosion of a boiler. They further state that the prime-movers are in charge of qualified Engineers who thoroughly understand every part of the machinery, and have every inducement in their own interests and reputation to see that their engines are really in good order. The Boiler Commissioners recommend that rules should be laid down for putting engines and boilers in charge of qualified persons, and that certificates of competency should be given to such persons by some authority recognized by Government. These opinions of the Boiler Commissioners were referred for the special opinion of various bodies of mill-owners and of the Chamber of Commerce, and the opinion of those bodies was unanimous—first, that there was no real necessity for the examination of prime-movers; and secondly, that such examination would cause very serious inconvenience and expense to the persons concerned. I had occasion, in connection with this subject, to look at the provisions of the corresponding Acts of the other Presidencies, and I found that the wording of the Bombay Act is very much the same as the wording of our own Act, and I understand that this difficulty has not been felt in Bombay; but whether the examination in such detail as is required by our law is there carried out or not, I am not in a position to say. The Act of 1882, which was passed for British Burma, is of a very different character. It requires prime movers to be examined just in the same way as the Bengal Act does, but it also provides for the granting of certificates of competency to the Engineer in charge, and declares that the certificate of the Engineer as to the condition of the engine shall be accepted when granted on such authority. The actual recommendation of the Boiler Commissioners is that the Act shall be modified by omitting the words “prime-mover” in those sections of the Act where it occurs. I think it may perhaps be a further question whether it will not be well to adopt the same system as in British Burma, and to retain power for the inspection of prime-movers, and at the same time give a certificate of competency to the Engineer in charge. That, however, is a matter which may be considered hereafter. The motion being now merely for leave to bring in a Bill, it involves only the recognition by the Council of the necessity for some legislation on this subject.

The motion was put and agreed to.

KIDDERPORE DOCKS.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to enable the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta to provide docks in the Port. He said:—I believe it is unnecessary to detain the Council with any lengthy history of the circumstances which have led to the proposal for the introduction of this Bill. Some of those present may remember the state of Calcutta before 1870, when the present Port Trust was established. At that time it is hardly too much to say that there were no jetties, no wharves, and no appliances for the landing and shipping of goods; but since the constitution of the present Port Trust in 1870 very great progress has been made. There are now eight jetties supplied with export and import warehouses, and having a large number of hydraulic cranes and steam cranes, and there is also a floating steam crane capable of lifting 30 tons. There is also a continuous line of wharves along the foreshore, and a tramway that connects the jetties with the Eastern Bengal Railway; and while giving all these advantages, the Port Commissioners have been able entirely to abolish port dues in Calcutta, and to effect a substantial reduction in the cost of pilotage, and at the same time to maintain the survey, buoyage, and lighting of the river in a more efficient state than has ever been done before. But with all their efforts, the Port Commissioners are unable to keep up with the growing requirements of the traffic. The eight jetties which have been provided afford accommodation to about 200 vessels in the year, but we require space for about five or six times that number. The gross tonnage of the Port has increased during the last five years in round numbers from about 1½ millions to 2 millions of tons; the exports have increased from 1¼ millions to 1½ million tons; and the annual downward traffic of the East Indian Railway, which was under half a million tons during the five years ending with 1875, during the next period of five years reached nearly a million.

tons, and at present, perhaps, if it has not actually reached it, must be near upon 1½ million tons. The further extensions of the railway system, some of which have already been constructed, some of which are in progress, and some of which still remain to be undertaken, will all tend to the same result—the result of pouring into Calcutta a daily increasing mass of goods, for the handling and transport of which new and extended appliances will be necessary. These considerations led the Government in 1882 to appoint a Committee to report on the advisability of constructing docks at Diamond Harbour to relieve the trade of the Port. The majority of that Committee reported in favour of the construction of docks at Diamond Harbour, but the mercantile members of the Committee opposed the scheme on the ground of the inconvenience that would arise to the ordinary course of business, owing to the distance of the docks some 35 or 40 miles from Calcutta. It appeared that those objections were felt, not only by the mercantile members of the Committee, but were also endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and the mercantile community in general. The Government therefore resolved not to act on the recommendations of the majority of the Diamond Harbour Docks Committee, and in 1883 a fresh Committee—a joint Committee of the Port Commissioners and of the Chamber of Commerce—was appointed to consider the general question of extending and strengthening the accommodation for the shipping in Calcutta. That Committee submitted a very admirable and exhaustive report, in which they reviewed all the circumstances of the case. The first point which they considered was, whether it is desirable to extend accommodation by adding to the number of jetties, or by constructing docks, and for reasons set forth in their report, one of which is the greater protection afforded by docks against cyclones, they considered docks in every way preferable to adding to the number of jetties. Then there was the question where the docks should be constructed, and various sites were considered, and the conclusion of the Committee was that Kidderpore is the most favourable site for the proposed docks. The report of the Committee was submitted to several experts, both in England and this country; it was approved by the Government of Bengal, recommended by the Government of India, and has been sanctioned in all essential particulars by the Secretary of State. It having been determined then that docks should be constructed at Kidderpore, the question arose, what official or body of officers should be entrusted with the construction and management of the docks? and the Government had the choice of several alternatives; they might have kept the docks under the Marine Department of the Government itself, or they might have created a new body of Dock Trustees, or they might have entrusted the construction and management of the docks to the existing Port Commissioners. The decision the Government came to was, that the Port Commissioners should be entrusted with the duty, and perhaps I may be permitted to say, although a Port Commissioner myself, that this was determined upon owing to the confidence which the management of the present Trust by the Port Commissioners has excited both in the Government and the mercantile community in general, but it was also almost a necessary conclusion in consequence of the intimate connection between the existing works of the Port Commissioners and their proposed extension by the construction of new docks. The new docks and the present jetties are intended to be connected by a tramway, and the whole will be worked as one concern by the Port Trust. Then a further difficulty arose, viz. that the Government were advised that the Port Commissioners, under the existing law, had no power to construct docks. The hon. and learned Advocate-General (Mr. Paul) came to the conclusion that the construction of docks was clearly outside the provisions of Act V of 1870, and as the Port Commissioners are unable to construct docks, it is clearly out of their power to raise a loan for the purpose. It was therefore considered necessary to introduce a Bill to enable the Port Commissioners to construct docks and raise a loan for that purpose. The proposed Bill has been circulated, and is in the hands of Hon. Members, and I will just point out that it is nothing more than an enabling measure; it enables the Commissioners to construct and maintain docks, to raise a loan for the purpose, and to levy tolls and charges which have been approved by the Local Government and published in the Calcutta Gazette. And with regard to the form which the measure has assumed, I may explain that it was intended at first to introduce a consolidating Act bringing together all the various provisions of law relating to the Port Commissioners into one enactment; and that, no doubt, is a work which must be undertaken before long. Act V of 1870 has already four amending Acts, and it is very desirable to consolidate them; but such a consolidation of the law would involve a great deal of delay. It is therefore now proposed only to pass a short enabling measure to provide for the present difficulty.

As a summary of the whole question, I believe I cannot do better than read to the Council, if it will permit me to do so, the concluding words of the despatch in which the Government of India recommend the adoption of this scheme to the Secretary of State. They said:—

“In conclusion, we would observe that the pressing need of improved facilities for the increasing trade of Calcutta cannot be too strongly insisted upon. The trade is rapidly expanding, and there is probably no public work on this side of India at the time which can be said to be as important as the Calcutta Port Improvements. The construction of docks will undoubtedly give great facilities, now wanting, to Calcutta merchants in the prosecution of their business, the process of loading and unloading cargoes will be considerably expedited, goods will be better and more conveniently warehoused, and the sorting and cleaning of the wheat before shipment will be promoted; while the general concentration of business will be a welcome relief to those concerned with trade and shipping. The measure now proposed is formally supported by an absolute consensus of official and non-official opinion, and has the entire approval of the local commercial Public. We trust, therefore, that we may be favoured with sanction to its being undertaken at the earliest practicable date.”

These are the grounds on which the Government of India recommended the adoption of this scheme, and it is on these grounds that I now ask the Council to grant leave for the introduction of the proposed Bill.

The motion was put and agreed to.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said:—I think it necessary to explain that it is desirable that the form in which the Bill has been drawn up should be considered both by the Local Government and also by the Government of India; therefore, before we proceed to the next motion on the paper to introduce the Bill, we should submit the papers on the subject, and the Bill which has been drafted, for the consideration of the Government of India. I hope their approval of the form in which the Bill has been prepared will be received in time to enable us to proceed with the Bill at the next meeting of the Council. Therefore the two remaining motions in the name of the HON. MR. REYNOLDS will be postponed to the next meeting.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 3rd January 1885.

LIBERALITY OF THE MAHARANI SURNOMOYEE OF COSSIMBAZAR, MOORSHEDABAD.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 30th December 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, No. 15Ct.—ME, dated the 21st November 1884, forwarding a copy of a letter from the Maharani Surnomoyee, of Cossimbazar in Moorshedabad, placing at the disposal of Government Rs. 1,50,000 for the purpose of promoting female medical education in Bengal.

Read again—

Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 418T—G, dated 29th June 1883, declaring females fully admissible to the classes of the Calcutta Medical College.

Resolution, dated 6th May 1884, establishing four “Female Medical Scholarships” tenable for five years in the Calcutta Medical College.

THE problem of creating a class of qualified female medical practitioners to attend upon native women in their sickness is one which presents many special difficulties in a country where the habits and traditions of the women of the upper classes prevent them from availing themselves of the services of men as their medical advisers. Attempts have been made from time to time to supply what has always been felt to be a pressing want, but the efforts of Government in this direction have until lately been impeded, partly by the difficulty of introducing a serious innovation into the conservative domain of medical practice, and partly by the inadequacy of the funds which could be appropriated to the furtherance of so large an object. In the letter of 29th June 1883, cited in the preamble to this Resolution, Mr. Rivers Thompson reviewed at length the various objections raised on professional grounds to the admission of women to the classes of the Calcutta Medical College, and gave expression to his final decision, that on grounds of both principle and expediency the exclusion of women could no longer be maintained. In the Resolution of the 6th May 1884 he endeavoured to give fuller effect to this policy by offering special encouragement in the form of scholarships to ladies who, after passing the First Arts Examination at the University, should elect to enter the Calcutta Medical College as students. This was as large a measure of encouragement as the Provincial finances would admit of, and up to the present time the Lieutenant-Governor has had little hope of being able to offer further support to a movement which commands his hearty sympathy. The Maharani Surnomoyee, Lady of the Order of the Crown of India, whose good name in the cause of public charities and private benevolence is already known throughout India, has now come forward to supplement the resources of the State with the munificent donation of Rs. 1,50,000 which she has placed at the disposal of the Bengal Government for the promotion of female medical education. In the letter communicating her gracious intentions, the Maharani imposes no restriction upon the mode in which her gift should be administered; but it is understood that she would be gratified if the money could be expended on the construction of a hostel for native ladies studying medicine in Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Maharani in thinking that an institution of this kind will materially forward the cause of female medical education in Bengal. The difficulties experienced by young men in pursuing their education in large towns have already led to the establishment of hostels for their accommodation. These difficulties are of course greatly increased in the case of ladies, some of whom may come from distant homes; and the proposed institution may help to open a useful career to many women who otherwise would have no opportunity at all of instruction in medical science. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure therefore in accepting the very liberal offer of the Maharani, who has thus increased the large claim to public gratitude which she has already so signally established, and added one more to the many past recognitions by this Government of her acts of beneficence to the people of Bengal.

Measures will at once be taken to acquire the land selected for the site of the hostel, which will be called after the name of the noble donor. The Government Architect will be directed to prepare a design and estimate of the cost of the building.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MacDONNELL,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 150t.—M E., dated Camp Burwa (Moorshedabad), the 21st November 1884.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information and orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a letter No. 385, dated 12th instant, from the Maharanee Surnomoye of Cassimbazar in Moorshedabad. She places at the disposal of the Government the sum of one and a half lakhs of rupees for the purpose of assisting towards the provision of properly educated female medical practitioners for the treatment of persons of her own sex. The Maharanee's munificent offer should, I think, be accepted and suitably acknowledged, and I am sure that the Government will gladly give such further aid as may be needed to carry out her proposals.

No. 385, dated Cassimbazar Rajbari, the 12th November 1884.

From—MAHARANEE SURNOMOYEE, Member of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India, Cassimbazar,

To—The Magistrate and Collector of Moorshedabad.

THE want of properly educated female medical practitioners for the treatment of persons of my sex has been felt by me for a long time, and gradually with the advance of my age, a deep impression has been made in my mind. I had always hoped and expected that some kind-hearted and noble-minded person would do something for the removal of the sad want, but I regret to observe that this hope has not yet been realized. Consequently, I have now made up my mind to do what little I can to lay the foundation, as it were, of a work which might be completed in the hands of far abler and more competent persons.

2. I had thought of establishing an institution in this district of Moorshedabad for imparting medical education to the females through the medium of the Bengalee and the English languages. But, as at present advised, I have been convinced that an institution of the kind is not likely to be a success here, while, as one, if located in Calcutta and incorporated with the Medical College there, is sure to succeed and realize my long-cherished hopes. An institution of that sort, however, is likely to require a fund which, having regard to my finances and present state of affairs, I regret to say I do not feel myself justified in endowing in full.

3. Under the circumstances, I have thought it proper to place, at the disposal of our noble and benevolent Government, the sum of rupees one lakh and fifty thousand, in order that it may be pleased to accept the amount and supplement the same by such aid as may be necessary, and adopt such measures as may be considered desirable and proper, so that my intentions may be carried out and fulfilled. Already lying under grave obligations to the Government, which has not unfrequently shown me kindness and favour which I shall ever remember, I need scarcely add that my gratitude will know no bounds, if the Government will be kind enough to approve of and accept my humble proposal. I shall be ready and very happy to pay the amount whenever I may be called upon to do so.

4. I have therefore the honour to request the favour of your bringing the proposal to the notice of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal through the proper channel.

OUTBREAK OF CHOLERA IN THE SERAMPORE SUB-DIVISION.

No. 1441, dated Calcutta, the 23rd December 1884.

From—COLMAN MACAULAY, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 5T, dated the 12th instant, with which you submit a copy of a report from the Sub-Divisional Officer of Serampore on an outbreak of cholera in the Mahesh and Rishra wards of the Serampore Municipality. The disease made its appearance on the 17th November last, and lasted for 16 days, during which period 112 deaths took place. You bring to the notice of Government the good work done by Mr. Collier, the Sub-Divisional Officer, Dr. Barker, the Civil Medical Officer of Serampore, and Mr. Finlay, the Manager of the Hastings Mills, who took prompt and vigorous action in order to suppress the outbreak. The last-named gentleman appears to have rendered valuable help to the Sub-Divisional Officer and the Civil Medical Officer, and to have supplied, free of cost, medicines, disinfectants, and good drinking water from the factory.

2. In reply, I am directed to say that credit is due to Mr. Collier and Dr. Barker for their exertions in putting down the outbreak. I am to request that you will be good enough to convey to Mr. Finlay an expression of the acknowledgments of Government for the assistance which he rendered to the local officers.

3. The correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 5T, dated Camp Howrah, the 12th December 1884.

Memo. by J. BEAMES, Esq., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

Copy forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department, for information. The Sub-Divisional Officer and the other gentlemen mentioned are deserving of credit for the prompt and vigorous action taken by them.

No. 2130, dated Serampore, the 4th December 1884.

From—F. R. S. COLLIER, Esq., Sub-Divisional Officer of Serampore,
To—The Magistrate of Hooghly.

I HAVE the honour to submit a report, giving some particulars with regard to the recent outbreak of cholera at Rishra and Mahesh.

2. The first case occurred on the 17th November, and the disease spread very rapidly. I was absent in camp at the time the disease broke out, but returned on the 21st, and then heard of it for the first time. I immediately wrote to the Civil Surgeon, requesting him to visit the locality and report what measures he considered necessary. In reply, the Civil Surgeon stated that he had already visited the place on the 20th instant, and had made arrangements for the treatment of the sufferers. He complained that he had received no official intimation from the police before the 22nd.

3. On the 22nd I obtained some disinfectants from Dr. Barker, and sent the municipal overseer to the spot with instructions to use them. He displayed a great want of alacrity in carrying out my orders both then and subsequently, and I was obliged to warn him that I should dismiss him if he failed to do his best to check the progress of the epidemic. The number of deaths which had occurred up to the 22nd was ten.

4. On the morning of the 23rd I visited the village, accompanied by the Civil Surgeon. I found that no sulphur had yet been burnt by the Vice-Chairman, although he had been requested to get this done. I at once gave orders for the thorough fumigation of the basti by sulphur fires, and saw a number of them started. On the 24th I again visited the place and met the Civil Surgeon. We sent for 100 maunds of wood and all the sulphur we could get in the town and had it burned. We also sent into Calcutta for a maund of sulphur and a dozen bottles of rum to make tonic mixture for the coolies. There had been 26 cases and 14 deaths on the previous day. Mr. Finlay, of the Hastings Mills, to whose assistance I am much indebted, supplied gratis a large amount of wood and sulphur. It being represented to me by Mr. Finlay that the old burying ground behind the village was quite full, I ordered it to be closed, and selected a new one some three hundred yards further from the village. Having ascertained by personal inspection that the old graveyard was offensive, I had it covered a foot deep with jute waste which was then set on fire; after the jute waste had been burned, it was covered a foot deep with ashes from the mill.

5. On the 25th I again visited the busti and went all over it. Complaints have been made that Hindus were superficially burnt on the river bank, I prohibited this practice in future, and ordered that they should be thoroughly burnt at the expense of the municipality. I found that no less than 13 new cases and 14 deaths had occurred since the previous day, and that the deaths now amounted to over fifty. As the outbreak was getting very serious, I placed the overseer under Dr. Barker's order, with a suitable warning directing him to leave all other work undone, deputed four constables to the busti to prevent infraction of sanitary rules, burnt another hundred maunds of wood and a large amount of sulphur, and had all the drains covered with quicklime; constables were stationed to prevent the resort to tanks supposed to be dangerous, and a pure supply of water from the mills was laid on across the Grand Trunk Road. Two additional compounders to assist the Civil Surgeon were also given by the Mill Manager.

6. Without troubling you with unnecessary repetition, I may state that similar measures have been taken day by day until within the last two days. I visited the place daily, and the Civil Surgeon was there twice a day as a rule, treating a large number of patients himself.

7. On the 25th the deaths fell to nine and on the 26th to seven. On the 27th and 28th there were eight and nine respectively; but it was noted that the new cases were not of so virulent a type, and we began to hope that the worst was over. On the 29th and 30th there were five deaths each day. On the 1st there were six deaths, but on the 2nd only two. Since then there have been no new cases, and I think that we may conclude that the outbreak is over. One case has, however, occurred in Serampore itself since, and two or three in Chattrā, but the disease has not assumed an epidemic form.

8. The total number of deaths reported by the police as having occurred at Mahesh and Rishra up to date is 112.

Great credit is, I consider, due to Dr. Barker for the care which he took of the patients, and for the large share of personal labour which he took upon himself in visiting and treating them. The assistance which Mr. Finlay rendered in supplying medicines, disinfectants, and good water, and personally in assisting in the measures taken for checking the spread of the epidemic, was most valuable.

No. 2116, dated Hooghly, the 8th December 1884.

Memo. by G. TOYNBEE, Esq., Magistrate of Hooghly.

Copy submitted to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division for information. The good services of Mr. Collier, Dr. Barker, and Mr. Finlay, will, I hope, be acknowledged by the Commissioner. Due warning of the outbreak was sent to the Military authorities, who arranged for crossing troops at Ghyretty Ghât and marching them via Barrackpore instead of via Kotrung.

RESOLUTION ON THE CANAL REVENUE REPORTS FOR 1883-84.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—IRRIGATION.

No. 1901 I.A., Calcutta, the 29th December 1884

RESOLUTION.

THE CANAL REVENUE REPORT FOR 1883-84.

READ—

The Canal Revenue Reports for 1883-84, and the Chief Engineer's note on the same.

THE total capital outlay (direct charges) invested, up to the end of the year 1883-84, on irrigation works in Bengal, of which capital and revenue accounts are kept, has amounted to Rs. 6,37,51,362, divided as follows:—

				Rs.
Productive Public Works	5,47,20,704
Famine relief protective works	3,00,000
Imperial ordinary works	8,26,524
Provincial works	79,04,134
Total				6,37,51,362

The expenditure coming under the head Imperial ordinary was on preliminary expenses for projects which have since been abandoned or are in abeyance. The large increase in the amount at the debit of Provincial works is due to the expenditure to date on the Calcutta Canals (Rs. 51,92,444) being now for the first time shown under this head. A capital and revenue account for these canals was opened on the 1st of April 1883.

The receipts from the canals classed as productive public works for the last three years are shown in the table following:—

			Receipts, 1881-82.	Receipts, 1882-83.	Receipts, 1883-84.
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa Canal.

		Total	...	7,36,292	6,84,677	6,03,807
		GRAND TOTAL	...	12,56,811	13,17,729	11,69,841

The balances of water rates outstanding on the 1st April 1884 and at the close of the two preceding years are shown in the table below:—

				1st April 1882.	1st April 1883.	1st April 1884.
				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa Canals	1,14,112	1,21,617	52,303
Midnapore Canal	1,31,701	1,12,176	1,14,691
Sone Canals	4,36,849	3,11,665	4,23,793
		Total	...	6,82,662	5,45,458	6,20,687

The receipts from all sources during the year amounted to Rs. 11,69,841 and the working expenses (direct charges) to Rs. 10,69,394,* so that the net revenue realized was Rs. 1,00,447 against Rs. 1,67,701 in 1882-83. Including interest, Rs. 21,60,758 payable to the Imperial treasury, and indirect charges debitable to revenue, the deficit of the year amounts to

Rs. 21,10,285. The financial results of the year's operations have been disappointing, the receipts being nearly $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of rupees less than those of the previous year, and the arrear balance in which there was a considerable decline in 1882-83 showing a considerable increase. Under the head "Navigation" there was a slight increase in the revenue of the year, so that the falling off was entirely in water-rates and miscellaneous receipts. The decrease in the latter was due to less work having been carried out at the Dehree workshops, and to there having been no receipts in England from the leasehold property which belonged to the late East India Irrigation and Canal Company.

The main decrease has occurred in the item water-rates, the receipts from which were Rs. 1,23,785 less than in 1882-83, whilst the assessments were Rs. 1,27,227 in excess. The demand statements for a large proportion of this amount were, however, only made out in the last two months of the year. In Midnapore there was an increase of Rs. 26,940 in the water-rate collections as compared with the preceding year, so that the falling off occurred wholly in the receipts from the Sone and Orissa Projects, which showed a decline of Rs. 82,256 and Rs. 68,469 respectively. The decrease would have been even greater but for the reduction of Rs. 69,444 in the amount of arrear balances of water-rates in Orissa. The collections in Behar have improved during the current year, and the indifferent results of 1883-84 are due to the short irrigation of former years.

* Exclusive of Rs. 427, expenditure in England on account of the houses acquired from the East India Irrigation and Canal Company—vide Accountant-General, Public Works Department, No. 69L, dated 16th September 1884.

* Exclusive of 26,631 acres irrigated in an unauthorized manner.

There was, it will be noticed, a large increase in the area under irrigation from the Sone Canals, whilst in Orissa the leases for two-thirds of the area formerly irrigated were not renewed. A Commission has lately been appointed to enquire into the causes of the disinclination of the Orissa ryots to irrigate, and the Lieutenant-Governor awaits their report before passing any orders on the various proposals which have been submitted for consideration. As regards the Midnapore and Sone Canals, the area irrigated was measured by the powers of the canals to carry water, the demand far exceeding the supply available. The rains in September in both places were deficient and in October almost entirely absent, the result being that the crops beyond the limits of the canal water supply were in many places a total failure and in others seriously deficient. It unfortunately happens in seasons like the one described that the anxiety of the cultivators to obtain water leads them to set at defiance the water distribution arrangements of the Engineers. In Midnapore, with crops dying wherever not irrigated, the Superintending Engineer describes the cultivators as cross-damming the distributaries, regardless of authority and even after they had obtained sufficient water for their fields, keeping the outlets open for fishing purposes. This feature of the year's irrigation deserves serious consideration, as the chief value of the Bengal Canals is in seasons of drought, and it is imperative that the most should be made of the water-supply available.

The receipts credited under the head navigation amounted to Rs. 3,78,242, which is Rs. 7,948 in excess of the previous year's collections. This small increase, however, by no means measures the actual progress made, as the returns of the boats which passed through the canals showed a total of 821,934 tons in 1883-84 against 715,000 tons in 1882-83. Very considerable reductions in the tolls charged on the Orissa Canals were made with effect from the 1st of December 1883, and a surcharge of one-fourth of a pie per head per mile formerly levied on passengers was abolished both for the Orissa and Midnapore Canals from the same date. These reductions will, it is feared, check for the time, the steady growth in the navigation revenue of the canals which has from the first distinguished the canals in the Province. The surcharge was, however, found to be an irritating impost which offered opportunities for speculation, and the tolls during certain months of the year in Orissa were higher than those imposed elsewhere.

The Midnapore transport service continues to be managed by the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and the traffic arrangements are reported to be satisfactory to the public. The transport service on the Patna Canal has been made over to a contractor, and it is intended to withdraw the Government service from all canals so soon as private firms or companies are in a position to afford the requisite facilities for transport.

		Orissa.	Midnapore.	Hidgellee.	Sone.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1876-77	...	22,881	67,651	44,572	4,852	1,39,956
1877-78	...	33,844	1,06,917	60,971	26,774	2,28,506
1878-79	...	57,042	77,340	59,723	29,332	2,23,437
1879-80	...	62,389	91,861	44,918	27,664	2,26,772
1880-81	..	41,297	77,143	53,338	39,819	2,11,597
1881-82	...	53,219	98,060	45,848	54,143	2,51,270
1882-83	...	66,736	1,06,157	43,694	39,304	2,55,891
1883-84	...	61,602	1,08,931	62,317	48,032	2,80,882

The Lieutenant-Governor cannot regard the results of the year in a financial point of view as satisfactory. The cost of the canals, 21 lakhs of rupees yearly, is borne by the whole province, whilst the advantages are reaped by a few favoured districts. The Commission lately appointed to enquire into the administration of the Orissa Canals has been instructed to report on the actual profits derived from the works, independent of the share received by Government, and their enquiries will afford grounds for coming to a conclusion as to the propriety of endeavouring to secure for the State a larger share of the benefits reaped.

Mr. H. C. Levinge, Chief Engineer and Secretary to Government in the Public Works Department, retired on the 1st of January 1884. A public notification acknowledging his services appeared in the Calcutta Gazette for the 9th January 1884. But His Honor takes the present opportunity of again recording his appreciation of Mr. Levinge's administration of the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department for the five years during which he was in charge.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the note and its accompaniments, be submitted to the Government of India in the Public Works Department, for information; also that copies be forwarded to the Appointment, Revenue and Financial Departments of this Government; the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Patna, and Orissa Divisions; the Collectors of 24-Pergunnahs, Hooghly, Midnapore, Burdwan, Patna, Shahabad, Gya, Cuttack, and Balasore; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, and Sone Circles, and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. M. McNEILE, Lieut.-Col., R.E.,

Joint-Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,

P. W. Dept.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—IRRIGATION BRANCH.

REVENUE REPORT.

Note by LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. M. McNEILE, R.E., Chief Engineer, on the Canal Revenue Reports for the year 1883-84.

THE capital outlay (direct charges) on irrigation works in Bengal, during the year 1883-84, amounted to Rs. 22,04,808, made up as follows:—

			Rs.
Productive public works	14,03,439
Famine relief protective works	3,00,000
Imperial ordinary works	(—)1,200
Provincial works	5,02,569
Total	22,04,808

2. The total capital (direct charges) invested up to the end of the year 1883-84 was Rs. 6,37,51,362, as follows:—

			Rs.
Productive public works	5,47,20,704
Famine relief protective works	3,00,000
Imperial ordinary works	8,26,524
Provincial works	79,04,134
Total	6,37,51,362

3. The particulars of the above outlay are given below:—

GRAND TOTAL	22,04,808	6,37,51,362

4. The amount of Rs. 3,00,000 charged against the head "Famine Relief Protective Works" is the contribution sanctioned by the Government of India for the Orissa coast canal during the year under review, and is included in the outlay on that canal.

5. The Circular and Eastern canals have been classed as a project for which capital and revenue accounts are kept with effect from 1st April 1883, and the capital outlay incurred previous to that date, Rs. 50,40,147, is for the first time included in the column "To end of the year," thereby altering its total from what it should be according to the corresponding statement given in the report of the previous year.

6. The indirect charges other than interest, viz. (1) capitalized abatement of land revenue, (2) loss by exchange on payments in England, and (3) charges for leave and pension allowance debitable to capital, for and up to the year 1883-84, are shewn below :—

9. The accumulated charges of interest on the capital outlay in irrigation and navigation works not classed as productive, having, in accordance with the Government of India, Public Works Department, Circular No. IV P. W., dated 1st May 1884, been eliminated from the Administrative Accounts of the Irrigation Branch for the year 1883-84, prepared by the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, are not shown in this note.

The amount of interest for Productive Public Works for the year under review is Rs. 21,60,758. This is payable by the Local Government to the Imperial Treasury.

10. The following statement shows the particulars of the total accumulated debt on account of interest and unpaid working expenses amounting, up to the end of the year 1883-84, to Rs. 1,48,10,401, inclusive of indirect charges debitable to revenue:—

The lengths of main canal are the same as those in operation at the close of the year preceding, but 13·75 miles of distributary were opened during the year. In addition to the areas regularly assessed 26,661 acres are reported to have been irrigated in an unauthorized manner. The very marked decrease in the irrigated area will be adverted further on; here it may be noted, that the percentage of area leased to that commanded by distributaries has fallen from 63¼ per cent in 1882-83 to 22 per cent. in 1883-84.

18. The areas irrigated and the rainfall yearly for the last ten years are shown in the table following :—

19. The whole of the five-years' leases expired in November 1882; and, as was anticipated, there was an inclination on the part of the ryots to see if better terms could not be obtained by delaying to renew them. This course was favoured by the rainfall in June and July ($29\frac{1}{2}$ inches) being sufficient for the needs of cultivation, and it was not until late in September and October that water was much required. Up to the 1st of October only 14,758 acres had been leased; so soon however as real need of water was generally felt, there was a rush to lease, and by the end of the season engagements for 47,595 acres had been entered into. There was also a large amount of unauthorised irrigation reported by the Superintending Engineer at 21,801 (a) acres, and shown in statement VIII of the Deputy Superintendent's report as 26,661 acres. It is in years when there is an early cessation of the rains that water is of most value, and the incentive to misappropriate it strongest, especially as, should rain subsequently fall, evidence to substantiate the fact of irrigation is most difficult to procure.

A native association, the head-quarters of which is at Balasore, deputed an agent to visit the irrigated area, and to ascertain what grievances the cultivators suffered; an account of this gentleman's investigations has since been received and will be considered by the Commission which the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed to enquire into the administration of these canals. Meanwhile the area under lease has, up to the 1st of November 1884, reached 56,121 acres, and the circumstances of the year under review and that now current have been such that only lands which really needed canal water to save their crops have been irrigated.

20. As regards the policy of keeping the drainage lines of the country open, which is specially alluded to in the Commissioner's report, expenditure on such improvements adds nothing directly to the canal revenue, and they were undertaken mainly in consequence of representations made by every civil officer who has been concerned with canal management previous to Mr. Larminie. It is possible that in some seasons a small percentage of lands immediately adjacent to the natural drainage lines of the country would be more productive, if no special provision for drainage was made; in years of heavy rainfall this, however, is not the case, and the greater part of the country always benefits.

The matter will be thoroughly discussed with the Superintending Engineer and civil officers in December, so that any real remediable causes of complaint may be removed. If it was a question of the policy of keeping drainage channels open when it is for the benefit of the cultivators, generally, to have them closed, there could be no doubt in the matter; but the real point is that the interests of the large majority of the cultivators would always suffer by the closing of these channels, and that the injury, where there is any, can only affect an exceedingly small minority.

The impolicy of allowing the natural drainage channels of the country to be blocked up has been very forcibly brought to notice in almost every district of Bengal by this Department being called on to undertake remedial measures so soon as the consequence of the stoppage become fully apparent.

21. The total demand for the year on account of revenue recoverable by the Deputy Superintendent, including arrears of previous years, was Rs. 1,94,071; of this amount, Rs. 1,24,161 was realised, Rs. 8,763 remitted or written off as irrecoverable, and Rs. 61,147 remained due at the end of the year, of which Rs. 52,203 is the balance due on account of water-rates, and the remainder under the head "Miscellaneous."

The Deputy Superintendent remarks that the visit of the agent of the Orissa Association produced a general impression that the current year's water-rates would be reduced, and that the reduction would have retrospective effect. This impression had the effect of inducing the cultivators to postpone payment as long as possible, and rendered the process of recovery slow and tedious. The number of certificates filed under Act VII of 1880 during the year was only about one-fourth of those issued in 1882-83, but a large number of objections were disposed of under the Certificate Act, which are apparently referred to in paragraph 6 of the Commissioner's report, the full meaning of which is not quite clear.

Objections to the correctness of the assessment should be decided under the Irrigation Act, under section 91 of which the Commissioner is vested with revisional jurisdiction. The proper procedure is laid down in Revenue Department letter No. 2779—1054L. R., of date the 9th December 1882, from which the following extract descriptive of the procedure prevailing in the districts watered by the Sone canals is taken:—

“On application to the canal authorities a ryot obtains a license to irrigate. The irrigated land is afterwards measured, and a khatyan, or statement of demand, is made out in the canal officer's sharista. One copy of this khatyan is sent to the Collector; another is served on the ryot by the canal authorities. Any objection on the part of the ryot is heard by the canal officer, from whose decision an appeal lies to the Collector under section 91 of Act III of 1876, the Collector's order being final. So far the canal officer, whose chief duties are those of assessment, assists the collecting staff. If the ryot makes no objection under Act III, or if, having objected, his objection is overruled, the canal officer's functions cease, and the process of realization begins. A notice of demand is issued by the Collector, and the usual procedure under the Public Demands Recovery Act is followed, shortened, however, by the fact that the ryots objections having already been determined under Act III, 1876, cannot be revived under the Certificate Act. This method of deciding objections under Act III, if introduced into Orissa, would obviate all necessity for enquiries under the Public Demands Recovery Act, and would render it unnecessary to vest the Canal Superintendent with the power of a Deputy Collector.”

The recovery of demands for water-rates under the Certificate Act, regarding which there have been some complaints, is one of the points which has been referred to the Commission, alluded to in paragraph 19.

22. Owing to the small area of land leased, the duty of the water utilized is considerably less than in previous years. The usual table is given below, but the results are vitiated by the large amount of unauthorized irrigation which is not taken credit for:—

NAME OF CANAL.	Effective average discharge in cubic feet.	Total for each main canal.	Area of khureef leased.	Total area for each main canal, including branches.	Average duty of each cubic foot of water.	Average duty of water for each main canal, including branches.
	C. ft.	C. ft.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Kondrapara ...	151	17,060	112.98
Pattamoondoe ...	33	5,436	164.73

Taldundah ...	29	1,054	36.34
Machgong ...	74	103	8,636	9,690	116.70	94.07
Total ...	493	493	44,493	44,493	90.25	90.25

Water escaping is not included in the above discharges, and a better calculation would probably be to take the total discharges of the Kendrapara High Level and Taldundah canals (the other canals are branches) and to include in the area under irrigation the 26,661 acres irrigated without authority; calculated in this way the duty becomes $\frac{71,154}{724} = 98.28$ acres per cubic foot.

23. The usual crop experiments were carried out during the year and details giving the results will be found in paragraphs 34 to 36 of the Superintending Engineer's report; the difference in favour of irrigation is more considerable than in 1882-83, and the produce of irrigated lands is valued at an average of Rs. 1.16 per acre in the Mahanuddy Division and Rs. 4.75 per acre in the Brahmini-Byturnee Division, above that from lands not irrigated.

24. The revenue credited during the year under the head “Navigation” amounted to Rs. 1,10,152. Of this sum, Rs. 61,602 was received from tolls on boats, and Rs. 48,550 was earned by the transport service.

The receipts since 1874-75 under this head are given below:—

	Tolls.	Transport service.	Total.

1882-83 ...	66,736	41,737	1,08,473

25. The length of navigable canals open (164½ miles) has remained the same as in the previous year, whilst there has been a decrease of Rs. 5,134 in the amount of tolls. This diminution is not, however, due to any falling off in the traffic, which it will be presently shown has slightly increased, but to a material reduction in the rate of tolls levied, which took effect from the 1st of December 1883. Up to that date a surcharge of quarter of a pie per head per mile was made on all passengers carried, and the rate of tolls during the eight dry months from November to June was double of that levied during the rest of the year. From the date mentioned the surcharge was abolished, and the lower rate only charged throughout the year.

The earnings of the year under this head were Rs. 1,07,147, compared with Rs. 1,10,129 in 1882-83.

26. Particulars regarding the tollage assessed compared with the previous year's results will be found in the table below:—

NAME OF CANAL.	Miles open.	Tollage.		Number of boats.		Tonnage.		Value of cargo.		Tollage per mile of canal.

27. From the statement following it will be seen that as regards private traffic there has been an increase under all heads except that of tollage, in which there has been a decrease consequent on the reduction in rate previously mentioned:—

SUB-HEAD.				Government traffic.	Private traffic.	Total traffic.
Tollage	Rs.	—785	—10,243	—11,028
Number of boats	No.	—340	+2,422	+2,082
Tonnage	Tons	—6,262	+9,854	+3,592
Value of cargo	Rs.	—45,301	+4,06,198	+3,60,897
Tollage per mile of canal	Rs.	—4'78	—62'27	—67'05

The total decrease of tollage has amounted to 15·85 per cent. during the year, of which 14·72 per cent. is due to the private traffic upon the canals.

28. Classified according to the description of goods carried, the private traffic is shown in table following:—

				TONNAGE.
				1882-83.	1883-84.	Increase.	Decrease.
				Tons.	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
Articles of food	39,091	48,703	9,609	...

Total	86,493	95,643	15,141	5,991
Increase	9,150

The increased traffic has been mainly in goods coming under the heads of "articles of food" and "staples of manufacture," and has been general throughout the canal system, omitting the Taldundah and Machgong canals. The reduction of tolls amounts to 43 per cent. on that previously charged and it is feared that it will be some years before the increased traffic will be sufficient to allow of the former earnings being again reached.

The present rate of toll is equivalent to a charge of 7·11 pie per 100 mds. per mile, calculated on the displacement caused by the boat.

29. The cost of the establishment employed to work the locks was Rs. 8,603 against Rs. 8,329 expended under that head in 1882-83. In the accounts a sum of Rs. 6,078, properly debitable to the transport service, is shown under the head "Navigation," which includes both the lock establishment and the permanent staff of the transport service.

30. The total receipts, as credited in the accounts, from the Government transport service amounted to Rs. 48,550, or Rs. 6,813 more than in the preceding year; whilst the working expenses, inclusive of the cost of the permanent establishment, aggregated Rs. 29,883, leaving a profit of Rs. 18,667 against Rs. 3,267 realized in 1882-83. The profit was almost entirely due to the Cuttack-Chandbally line, as the steamer Pioneer employed between Cuttack and Bhuddruck did little more than cover her working expenses, though no tolls were charged. Details regarding the traffic are given in the table below:—

31. Government has for some time past been desirous of leaving the transport service to private enterprise; and it has only been kept up so long, as a state undertaking, in the absence of competition providing for the public wants by private companies.

Since the close of the year the steamer Aurora has been withdrawn from the Cuttack-Chandbally line, a private firm having taken up the work. It is understood that a large company interested in the coasting trade are building steamers with the view of extending their operations to Cuttack.

32. The miscellaneous revenue realized during 1883-84 amounted to Rs. 15,860 against Rs. 31,212, the receipts of the previous year. Of this sum Rs. 14,483 was, however, the proceeds of leasehold property in England belonging to the late East India Irrigation and Canal Company, so that in reality there was a falling off in this branch of revenue of Rs. 869 only.

The various sub-heads on account of which money was received are shown in the table following, which also gives the corresponding figures for 1882-83 :—

In addition, Rs. 12,840 has been debited to the project on account of indirect charges, so that for the year there has been a loss of Rs. 67,662 against Rs. 35,271 in 1882-83.

35. In 1882-83 there was, compared with 1881-82, a reduction in the maintenance charge of Rs. 7,449, and there has been a further decrease of Rs. 22,972 in the expenditure under this head during the year under review. The table below gives the details by main heads of works:—

36. The head works suffered less damage than usual, the total expenditure on the seven weirs and works connected therewith having been Rs. 49,949 against Rs. 73,094, the cost of maintenance in 1882-83. Their total length being 18,474 feet, the rate per foot run has fallen from Rs. 3.95 to Rs. 2.70. On the main canals there has been a slight increase in the cost of maintenance. The table below shews the cost for each canal separately:—

37. The expenditure on maintaining the 639½ miles of distributaries in operation amounted to Rs. 25,799, being at the rate of Rs. 42 per mile against Rs. 40, the rate for the previous year. A further sum of Rs. 3,965 was expended on drainage channels and on 79½ miles of embankment, the repairs of which are debitable to the revenue account of the canals.

42. The season was peculiar, there were copious falls of rain during the months of July and August and in the early part of September, and it was not until about the 20th of that month that there was any pressing demand for canal water. From that time to the end of the season it became a question of the ability of the canal to supply water, which was eagerly clamoured for every where. New leases had to be refused, and the efforts of the establishment were directed to making the most of the water supply available; eventually the cultivators got quite out of hand and police constables were placed at the disposal of the Executive Engineer to assist in maintaining some kind of order. The area watered may, perhaps, be looked on as the most the canal is capable of irrigating in seasons, when late in the year there is a sudden rush for water for lands, the irrigation of which has been postponed until the last moment. The Deputy Revenue Superintendent has been vested with the powers of a Magistrate, so as to admit of his dealing more promptly with the cases of the misappropriation of canal water. It is possible that some good may result from the measure, but when the crops are in danger of dying, the ordinary ryot will incur almost any risk to save them. Unfortunately water taken in defiance of authority is wasted as well as utilized, with the result that crops, which might be preserved if the water was carefully and economically used, perish.

It has several times been proposed, as the areas regularly leased have the first right to the water-supply available, not to grant permits after a fixed date, say the 1st of July, but this plan has the demerit of forcing the cultivators who have not made applications to use water without authority, if at all, and consequently to remove all restraints on the way it is applied. A considerable concession in the matter of water-rates is made to persons who lease for five years, and under present circumstances this appears to be the only method in which pressure can be brought on the ryots to irrigate their lands before the crops are in actual danger. The Superintending Engineer observes that—

“The lesson to be learnt from the experience of the season under report appears to be that the cultivators must be advised to complete their watering early and arrange to have their fields well filled before the end of September, and they must be made to understand that in October the supply is liable to fail, and water can only be given after long intervals in such cases. Unless timely precautions are taken to secure the fields before October, we cannot be responsible for subsequent failure of supply, and the remedy is entirely in their hands.”

43. The duty of the water used, calculated on the average daily discharge for the whole irrigation season, was 208 acres per cubic foot per second for the area commanded by the Midnapore weir, and 81 acres for the area commanded by the Panchcoorah weir. In 1882-83 the respective duties similarly calculated were 144 and 85 acres per cubic foot.

44. The Superintending Engineer, at page 11 of his report, has given an interesting account of the irrigation from No. 4 or the Authra distributary, which commands 28,528 acres, and was designed to discharge 211 cubic feet per second.

The following summary is taken from the Superintending Engineer's report:—

“The total area irrigated was only 22,195 acres. The total area leased was 23,980 acres.

The total of the daily discharges for the season was 10,086 cubic feet per second, and the total of the areas irrigated amounted to 55,359 acres.

Each acre, therefore, received on the average $\frac{55,359}{22,195} = 2\frac{1}{2}$ waterings of 43 inches in depth for this season.

The average daily discharge for the season was $\frac{10,086}{101} = 62$ cubic feet per second, which gives a duty of 358 acres per cubic foot of discharge.

The progress of the irrigation month by month may be thus stated:—

TO END OF MONTH.	Areas leased.	AREAS IRRIGATED IN ACRES					Total discharge of month.	Average daily discharge.	Duty per cubic foot.
		First watering.	Second watering.	Third watering.	Fourth watering.	Total.

45. The results show how dependent this system of canals is on assistance from rainfall. As pointed out by Colonel Gulliver, when the Sone Canal distributaries were being designed, it was never intended that the water-supply of a distributary should suffice to irrigate the area commanded independent of rainfall, in all years some assistance is certain, and the duty of the water is to secure a full crop by supplementing the natural irrigation so obtained with water from the river. The duty obtained must consequently vary, and will be the greatest in those years in which there is a moderate rainfall only, combined with a demand for water in excess of the fall.

46. The arrears at the commencement of the year under the head water-rates amounted to Rs. 1,42,476, the current demand was Rs. 1,47,992, making a total of Rs. 2,90,468. Of this sum, Rs. 1,31,000 was collected, Rs. 14,777 remitted, and Rs. 1,44,691 remained as the balance unrealized on the 1st of April 1884. In addition, Rs. 12,228 were credited as miscellaneous revenue. The demand and recoveries for five years are shown in the table below, which includes miscellaneous revenue collected by civil officers:—

YEAR.	Amounts earned as water-rates during the year.	Total demand under all heads.	Cash received under all heads.	Remission.	Total.	Balance.	Cost of collection.	Percentage of cost on total demand.	Percentage of cost on recoveries.

47. It is satisfactory to note that out of the Rs. 1,43,228 realized during the year by the Deputy Superintendent, Rs. 1,12,182 was paid in voluntarily, and Rs. 31,046 only, recovered after legal proceedings had been commenced. A commencement has been made in enlisting the co-operation of the leading ryots in the matter by appointing them as headmen and remunerating them by a small commission. The Collector has been given the widest discretion in the matter, subject to a maximum charge of half-an-anna in the rupee on the total amounts realized during the year, and it is hoped that this system will gradually spread.

The amount collected as water-rates is in excess of any year to date, but it is not satisfactory to find that the arrear balance is constantly increasing. The matter is now having the attention of the Collector, and it is hoped that when once the irrecoverable balances of former years have been ascertained and remitted, the improvements which have been lately effected in the organization of the revenue establishment will bear fruits, and future years show a marked decline in these balances. The Commissioner states that—

“The tehsildars’ offices are reported to be in order, and when the kabulyat registers are completed, and they are reported to be all but complete, there is hardly any information which will not be available at a moment’s notice. Much, however, will depend on the amount of intelligent supervision exercised by the Deputy Superintendent over the proceedings of the tehsildars, and I hope Mr. Ghose will continue to show the zeal which characterized his administration during the year under report.”

This testimony is valuable as showing that a vigorous effort to correct previous deficiencies is being made, and as pointing out how much the work depends on the energy and industry of the responsible officers.

48. The new rules under Act III (B.C.) of 1876, which were adverted to in paragraph 41 of last year’s report, were under discussion throughout the year, but have been passed since its close; they are reprinted as an appendix to this report. They were very fully considered, and it is thought that they will help towards reducing the number of disputes and facilitate the work in various ways.

49. The usual crop experiments were carried out in 1,075 places, the results being very favourable to the irrigated crops, the produce of which was on an average 15.54 maunds more paddy and 20.42 maunds more straw per acre than these grown on unirrigated lands. The Commissioner remarks on this large difference, which he states is not explained either by the Executive Engineer or the Deputy Revenue Superintendent. There was, however, little or no rain during the month of October, and it is notorious that the crops which did not receive water suffered severely; this is probably a sufficient reason for the exceptionally great differences between the yield of paddy from irrigated and unirrigated lands. The experiments were conducted in the manner usual since 1873, and have frequently, notably in 1876 and 1881, showed little or no difference in favour of irrigation.

50. The total income credited during the year under the head “navigation” amounted to Rs. 1,20,586, of which Rs. 1,08,931 was received from tolls on boats, Rs. 11,649 being the amount paid by the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company, “Limited,” as hire of steamers and compounded tolls.

52. The first reach of the Midnapore canal and the Narainghur navigable distributary were closed for silt clearance from the 14th of February to the 6th of March. The Baramullah and Goalsamah locks were closed from the 25th February to the 7th of March, and from the 15th to the 25th of the month to allow of the valves being repaired, thus interrupting the through traffic. A set of diving apparatus have been procured, and it is hoped that small repair will in future be carried out without closing the canal. A project for supplying the Ooloberiah reach with water from the Eden canal is under consideration, and if carried out, may perhaps admit of all silt clearance being effected by dredgers. At present this cannot be done.

53. The steamer service between Calcutta and Midnapore, formerly worked by Government, was in the hands of a private company, and the Superintendent Engineer states that it has given general satisfaction, any suggestions toward securing the safety of the passengers being willingly adopted. There were two lines of steamers belonging to different owners plying on the canal, and it is noted that nine steamers and flats are being built for the service.

54. The table below shows the number of passengers and weight of goods carried monthly by the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company, "Limited," to whom the steamers belonging to Government have been hired :—

55. Generally there has been a slight increase in the traffic on the Midnapore canal during the year, resulting in the tolls received being Rs. 2,990 in excess of the previous year's receipts, notwithstanding a slight reduction in the tolls levied the surcharge of quarter pie per head per mile formerly levied on passengers having been abolished from the 1st December 1883.

56. The realizations under the head "miscellaneous" amounted to Rs. 12,996, of which Rs. 768 was received by the Executive Engineer, and the balance collected by the Deputy Revenue Superintendent.

57. The following tables show the receipts on revenue account and working expenses for the last ten years:—

The above table does not include indirect charges, which for the year amounted to Rs. 7,940, the net revenue derived from the canal being Rs. 40,990 against Rs. 21,508, received in the year preceding. It will be noticed that the decrease in the gross receipts is due to the transport service being no longer maintained by Government, and there is a corresponding reduction in the working expenses.

58. The cost of maintaining the canal and distributaries for the last five years is given in the table below:—

YEAR.	MAIN CANAL.			DISTRIBUTARIES.
	Length of canal.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile.	Length of distributary channels.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile.
		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
1879-80 ...	48	56,948	1,186	254	16,150	63
1880-81 ...	48	80,063	1,687	267	20,140	76
1881-82 ...	48	1,08,910	2,264	277	11,854	42
1882-83 ...	48	1,01,821	2,121	277	20,437	73
1883-84 ...	48	1,06,425	2,216	277	21,195	76

The tendency to increase shown in these charges is unsatisfactory; so far as the main canal is concerned the reason given, the greater quantity of silt dredged, is fairly adequate; but it should be possible to maintain the distributaries at nearly the same rate as is found to be sufficient in Orissa. This was pointed out last year, and the absolute necessity of exercising greater economy in the matter will again be impressed on the local officers.

59. The question of dredging on this canal is yearly increasing in importance. There is a daily service of steamers between Midnapore and Calcutta and vice versa, by which the mails are conveyed, and daily or bi-weekly steamers to other places; any closure of the canal causes accordingly much public inconvenience and numerous complaints. Great attention has accordingly been directed towards improving the outturn from the dredgers and to keeping them constantly employed. The results have been satisfactory. The work done during the year has increased from 26 to 44 lacs, and the cost per thousand cubic feet has been reduced from Rs. 13·7 per 1,000 cubic feet to Rs. 10·57 per 1,000 cubic feet. The number of days working has been 1,593 against 1,405 in 1882-83.

60. The following table extracted from the Superintending Engineer's report gives particulars regarding the working of each dredger during the year:—

N.B.—Dredger Hector was under repairs from 26th January to 31st March 1884.

61. A new dredger has been procured from England since the close of the year, and more barges are being constructed.

63. This canal is wholly intended for navigation, and its revenues are entirely dependent on the tolls levied on boats, the receipts from which during the year amounted to Rs. 62,317, or Rs. 18,623 more than in 1882-83. The canal was re-opened on the 15th of April 1883, after a closure extending over three months for silt clearance.

64. Particulars regarding the traffic for the last ten years are given in the tables following:—

65. There has, it will be noted, been an improvement in most of the items enumerated in the above table. The greater part of the traffic is at present towards Calcutta, the Superintending Engineer stating that out of a gross tonnage of 196,767 of all kinds of goods carried, 130,286 tons were consigned towards that place and the remainder 66,481, about one-third, took the opposite direction.

66. No material increase in the receipts from this canal is likely to occur until considerable improvements are carried out. An estimate providing for a new lock at Kalinuggur, dredging plant, and for deepening the canal so far as to provide a minimum depth of $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet of water at low tides has been received, but returned to the Superintending Engineer for revision. The matter is of considerable importance at present, as it is probable that this canal, which has for many years yielded a small surplus over working expenses, would pay interest on capital if the long and frequent closures for silt clearance could be avoided. When the Orissa coast canal, of which the Hidgelee tidal canal forms the first part, is opened, the need for its remodelling so as to bring it up to the standard of the remainder will become urgent. As last year remarked, the present Kalinugger lock is 100 feet long, whilst all the remaining locks on this as well as those on the Orissa coast canal are 150 feet in length.

67. The tables below shew the receipts and working expenses of this canal for the last ten years:—

71. The lengths of canal and distributaries open and areas commanded and which can be irrigated are shown in the table below :—

NAME OF CANAL.	Navigable canal.	Branch canal.	Distributaries.	Area under command.	AREA WHICH CAN BE IRRIGATED.		Total area which can be irrigated.

Total ...	219	148½	1,082	1,728,509	381,280	540,000	921,280

72. The area shown as commanded is the full extent over which water could be led from the canals, no deductions being made for village sites or waste land. Assuming that only 500 acres per square mile is cultivated, the area given will be reduced to 1,361,151 acres. The figures in the column "area which can be irrigated" are obtained by multiplying the full supply of the canals by 80, for the area which can be irrigated during the khureef season, and 3,000 cubic feet which is taken as the supply available in average years during the rubbee season by 180 for the area then irrigable. Colonel Heywood considers that the duty on the khurreef season should be reduced to 70 acres per cubic foot, and he also says that on the 16th February 1884 the supply in the Sone river was 1,868 cubic feet per second only, which at the high duty of 180 acres per foot would suffice for the irrigation of 336,240 acres only. In dry years the area which could be irrigated reduced as suggested would be 792,240 acres.

The increase in length of distributaries during the year was 6½ miles, the fractional differences in the lengths of canals compared with last year are due to errors in former returns, 53 miles of new distributaries were in progress, but had not been completed at the close of the year.

73. The state of the circle as regards village channels is shown in the table following :—

	Total length of village channels completed.	Area commanded.	Total number of outlets.	Number of permanent outlets.
	Miles.	Acres.	No.	No.
Arrah Division	173	1,23,046	1,860	12

Of these channels 134 miles were constructed by Government officers on applications made under Act III (B.C.) of 1876, and at the close of the year 34 miles were in progress.

74. The areas assessed with water-rates during the year and that preceding are given in the table below :—

CROP.	1882-83.	1883-84.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.

75. The area irrigated was more than double that watered in 1882-83, and in excess of any year to date. Dividing the area under five years' lease as suggested by the Superintending Engineer, the figures below show the acreage compared with the maximum areas irrigated in previous years—

	1883-84.	Acre.	Acre.
Khureef	...	215,790	134,208 in 1877-78.

77. The extension of irrigation was due to a serious deficiency in the rainfall of August and October. The following table of rainfall and extract from the Superintending Engineer's report comparing the year 1883 with the years 1873, 1875, and 1877, shows the extreme value of canal irrigation in such seasons:—

In 1873, the whole rice crop died off in Shahabad;

„ 1875, the appearance of the crops was nearly as bad as in 1873;

„ 1883, the rice crop died extensively where irrigation either from canals or ahurs was not available.

It is quite clear, taking the following averages of the four years:—

12'36 inches at	Patna
11'66 „	Arrah
13'33 „	Buxar

that the rainfall in 1883 was not sufficient by itself, as was found to be the case, to allow of the maturing of the late rice.”

78. The statements below give the rainfall for each division separately for both the khuriff and rubbee seasons, the figures are the average of observations at the head-quarters of each canal sub-division:—

79. The area irrigated during the khureef season was measured by the powers of the canal to supply water, and unfortunately this difficulty was intensified by the occurrence of a breach in the main western canal on the 23rd August, which caused a complete stoppage of supply for nine days. The consequence was that the crops towards the tails of the distributaries suffered severely for want of water. The cause of the breach has never been satisfactorily ascertained, but a regulator has since been built at the bifurcation of the Arrah and main western canals, and the whole system can never again be paralyzed by a breach in one canal.

The effect of the breach on the revenues of the year was disastrous, wholesale applications for remission being made, which will be further adverted on under that head.

80. The usual statement showing the crops irrigated follows:—

The area leased was 260,187 acres, the excess being areas either irrigated in excess of, or without permit.

From the table below it will be seen that the leases are only a rough guide as to the areas actually watered, except in the case of five years' leases:—

The most satisfactory feature of the large increase in irrigation is the extension of the area under agreement for five years.

The proportion of flow to lift irrigation was 90 to 10, as against 95 to 5 in 1882-83.

81. The Superintending Engineer gives the duty of the water utilized as follows:—

	Khureef.	Rubbee.
Eastern Sone division	60	53
Arrah division	94	78
Buxar ,,	97	91

The whole area under irrigation during the year was 350,614 acres. Of this 8,524 acres were hot-weather crops, and must be eliminated, taking $\frac{1}{5}$ th of the five-year leases as khureef and the remainder $\frac{4}{5}$ th as rubbee and the 6,782 acres sugarcane in both crops, the area under irrigation in the khureef season was 222,522 acres and in the rubbee season 126,300 acres. The average discharge entering the two main canals for the four months July to October, was 3,031 cubic feet per second, and in the five months, November to March, 1,924 cubic feet per second, the duty taking the figures on the water entering the canals was therefore $73\frac{1}{2}$ acres per cubic foot in the khureef and $65\frac{1}{2}$ acres per cubic foot in rubbee season. In one selected distributary, the Bhojepore, the duty is given as 88 acres per cubic foot in the khurreef and 103 acres per cubic foot in the rubbee season.

82. At the commencement of the year there was a balance of Rs. 3,11,665 due on account of water-rates, and the assessments of the year amounted to Rs. 7,42,311, making a total of Rs. 10,53,976. Of this sum Rs. 4,84,209 was collected, and Rs. 1,45,974 remitted, a balance of Rs. 4,23,793 remaining due at the end of the year. The heavy remissions were mainly owing to irrecoverable balances of former years being written off, but the breach on the canal, mentioned in paragraph 80, also necessitated heavy remissions, and the increase on the arrear balance is chiefly owing to attempts to avoid payment on the ground of the non-supply of water during the nine days on which the canal was wholly closed. The accident was most unfortunate: there was a heavy demand for water at the time, and there is no doubt that the crops on lands supplied from the tails of the distributaries suffered severely, as they had not received any share in the watering in progress, and before the water again became available the crops had been damaged. The area so affected was, however, limited compared with that injured by the want of rain in October.

83. Of the remissions Rs. 83,946 were on account of the assessments of the year 1883-84, and the balance Rs. 62,028 from the demand of former years. The amount remitted is further divisible into Rs. 52,392 written off as irrecoverable by orders of the civil officers, and Rs. 93,582 remitted for causes affecting the assessment.

The amounts written off as irrecoverable are mostly balances of years anterior to 1882-83, which it was found for various reasons to be impossible to collect. The remissions made by the Engineers were very largely due to the breach in the main western canal, and do not include the whole loss caused by that accident, Rs. 16,226 having, in the Arrah division alone, been struck out of the demand statements before their despatch to the Collector.

84. The Superintending Engineer at page 3 of his report gives a full account of the proceedings of the local officers in consequence of the temporary failure of supply; but, as before observed, this was scarcely the main cause of the short crops, which was the late leasing of large areas already injured by drought, which could not be supplied with water in time to more than partially save the crops. As an illustration of this it may be noted that out of 78,116 acres of annual leases in the khureef season, no less than 47,853 acres were leased in the months of September and October after the occurrence of the breach.

The matter was personally investigated by Mr. Levinge, Chief Engineer, the result being that it was determined not to press for water-rates where the supply of water had not succeeded in saving the crops, and eventually the following orders were passed by the Lieutenant-Governor:—

“I.—No hot-weather water-rates will be charged.

“II.—The rate to be charged in villages where there are generally indifferent crops of rice will be for khureef Rs. 1-4 instead of Rs. 1-14 per bigha.

“The fact of there being indifferent crops to be determined on a consideration of—

1stly.—The water-supply available during the time when there was the greatest demand.

2ndly.—On the actual produce as stored in the threshing floors.

3rdly.—On the khusrahs showing that in the village there are many fields in which the rice died.

“III.—No water-rates are to be charged on fields shown in the khusrahs as dead or (where the information has been noted) as unlikely to yield a crop exceeding 3 maunds per bigha.

“IV.—Where it can be shown that the rice crops in a village have been very bad, say not exceeding 3 maunds per bigha, generally no water-rates are to be charged.”

85. As already mentioned, effective measures to prevent an accident, such as occurred in 1883-84, have been taken, but the gradual substitution of khureef for rubbee crops has rendered the canals unable to irrigate more than a proportion of the area for which water is required in seasons of drought.

86. A statement giving particulars of the demands and collections in the last five years follows:—

87. The increase in the arrear balances is to be viewed with regret; but, as remarked by the Collector of Shahabad, "the circumstances attending the work of collection were of an unusually unfavourable nature, for which allowances have to be made." The Superintending Engineer agrees that the difficulties experienced were exceptional, as will be seen from the following extract from his report:—

"Notwithstanding these extensive remissions, a very large number of complaints of failure of crop were and are still being filed.

I am informed by the Special Deputy Collector that at the time of the promulgation of the Government order as to remission and when the ryots began to understand what those orders were, they very generally in this division at once stopped voluntary payments, and the collections which were going on satisfactorily received a sudden check.

The ryots received the impression that they would all get off any payment for khureef. They proceeded to file petitions, are still withholding payments, and in many instances are lodging appeals to the Collector against the decisions of the canal officers.

This withholding of payments and general filing of complaints is the most prominent in the Agaoon sub-division, where there appears to be a combination of villagers against Government. While remaining silent at the time of measurement, many villages have now come forward in a body, and declare that not only did their annual lease crops die, but even those under five years' lease for which it is always the first care of the irrigation officers to secure a supply when demanded.

So far as investigation on these complaints has gone at present, the allegations of the ryots as to a general destruction of their irrigated crops are not borne out by the facts elicited.

But there are numerous appeals, the ryots employing clever mooktyars in Arrah who take every advantage afforded them by the law."

88. The balances in the various districts on the 1st of April 1883 and 1st April 1884 are shown below:—

	1st April 1883.	1st April 1884.
	Rs.	Rs.
Shahabad	2,55,552	3,16,806
Patna	28,872	66,524
Gya	27,741	40,463
Total	3,11,665	4,23,793

A special enquiry into the administration of the Sone canals partly with reference to these arrears is now in progress under orders contained in the Government of India's letter No. 183I, of date the 11th July 1884, forwarding a despatch on the subject.

89. The collections of the present year are up to the 1st of October Rs. 2,53,161 against Rs 1,46,400 in 1882-83, so that the effect of the increase in irrigation on the receipts is now being felt.

90. The cost of the revenue establishment employed during the year and that preceding is shown in the table below:—

	1882-83.		1883-84.
	Amount.	Percentage on collections.	Amount.	Percentage on collections.
	Rs.		Rs.
Permanent and temporary establishments, such as zilladars, amoens, &c. ...	35,034	6.19	42,106	8.69
Establishment employed under Collectors ...	41,971	7.40	41,724	8.62

Total ...	1,05,883	18.69	1,14,005	23.54

The figures for 1882-83 differ from those given in the revenue account for that year, as the headmen's fees paid by civil officers are now included in the item "establishment employed under Collectors." The higher cost of establishment is due to the increased area assessed, the water-rates on which are now in course of collection: on the area irrigated the cost of establishment was $\frac{107,883}{178,824} = \text{annas } 9.75$ per acre in 1882-83 and $\frac{114,005}{350,014} = \text{annas } 5.20$ per acre in 1883-84.

91. The usual tables giving the cost of measuring the crop and preparing the demand statement are appended, and it will be found on reference to last year's report that there has been a considerable reduction in the cost per acre:—

92. The attendance of the patwaris at the measurements is still unsatisfactory, but since the close of the year canal officers have been vested with the powers of a Collector under section 35 of Regulation VII of 1822, and it is hoped that this will prove of considerable assistance in securing their attendance. The Collector of Shahabad, nevertheless, still considers that a change in the law will be necessary, observing that "the difficulty of making them do the work assigned to them by the Irrigation Act remains the same as before." It is clear, however, that much can be done by good personal management, as the percentage of attendance on the villages measured was 97.7 per cent. in the Ramnugger sub-division and 86.0 per cent. in the Nasrigunge sub-division, against a general average of 71 per cent.

93. The number of complaints is a subject that is now engaging attention. No less than 9,364 applications for remission were disposed of during the year. The point which gives most trouble is the tendency to delay in making objections, until all trace of irrigation has passed away, and then to allege that no intimation that water-rates were due had been received. Revised instructions for canal officers have lately been issued, which give increased facilities for disposing of such claims at the time of measurement, and an effort will be made to insist more strictly on the observance of the rule requiring that complaint shall be made within a month of the demand being made. But it has been held that the demand alluded to in the rule is that made by the Collector, probably months after the irrigation is over, and the date of which is quite unknown to the canal officer who disposes of the objection. On the other hand, the demand statements for various causes, disputes about irrigation, difficulties in ascertaining the names of cultivators, &c., are themselves frequently late, and the Collector cannot make the demand as promptly as he otherwise would. The khureef demand statements are due in the Collector's office on the 15th of December, whilst in October not only is new irrigation in progress, but in seasons of scarcity the canal officer's unceasing attention is devoted to the regulation of the water-supply, so that the most may be made of what is available, and that it may not be run to waste or be used in filling aharas. The increase from 74,552 acres to 101,322 acres in the five-years' leases will do something towards improving matters, as the difficulties mentioned above, with the exception of changes of names, disappear in respect to lands so leased.

94. The orders regarding crop experiments have not been completely carried out during the year, none being returned from two of the sub-divisions of the Arrah division: the average of the rice experiments gives $3\frac{3}{4}$ maunds of rice and $6\frac{3}{4}$ maunds of straw as the excess produce of lands irrigated by the canal.

95. The revenue under the head "Navigation," since the opening of the canals, is shown below:—

97. The small decrease in the tolls received on account of boats using the Eastern main and Patna canals is due to the long closure, which extended from the 11th of April to the 30th of June, whilst the increase on the Western main series is owing to there having been only a short closure, from the 6th to the 16th of April.

98. Further particulars comparing the traffic for the last five years and the description of goods carried, are given in the tables below:—

99. No information regarding the upward or downward traffic is given by the Superintending Engineer, but the following table, extracted from his report, is useful as showing the position of the trade centres :—

100. The cost of the establishment for working the locks and collecting tolls was Rs. 13,051 for the year, against Rs. 13,133 expended in that preceding, and Rs. 13,174 in 1881-82.

101. The receipts from the transport service during the year 1883-84 were Rs. 37,161, being an increase of Rs. 5,260 over the amount received in the year previous; the expenses were, however, Rs. 32,475, or Rs. 6,485 in excess, so that the net profits were Rs. 4,686 only compared with Rs. 5,911 for 1882-83.

102. An endeavour was made to dispose of the steamers to a private company, but no acceptable offer was received; the service on the Patna Canal was, however, transferred to a contractor, from the 21st of January 1884, on his paying the usual tolls and Rs. 150 per month as hire of the steamer Umpire. No complaints have been received as to the manner in which this steamer was managed by him and a fresh arrangement has been entered into since the 20th October 1884, under which he has taken charge of the entire service.

103. The miscellaneous receipts during 1883-84 amounted to Rs. 34,405, being a falling off, compared with the previous year, of Rs. 12,602. The decrease is wholly in the item "Miscellaneous," which includes the profits on the manufacturing operations of the Dehree workshops, from which Rs. 3,550 was received against Rs. 19,359 in 1882-83.

104. The statement below gives the receipts and working expenses of the Sone canals for the last three years :—

	1881-82.	1882-83.	1883-84.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

	4,57,322	5,29,841	5,14,477
Net profit	2,78,970	1,54,836	89,330

Notwithstanding a decrease in the working expenses, there has been a falling off of Rs. 65,506 in the net revenue derived from these canals.

105. The causes of this unsatisfactory result have already been commented on, but it may be well to again state that so far as water-rates are concerned, in which the receipts have fallen off by Rs. 82,256 as compared with 1882-83, the cause is not a falling off in the area under irrigation, on which there has, in fact, been a large increase, the assessments on which are now being collected.

106. The cost per mile of maintaining the canals and distributaries comprised in the system is given in the statement below :—

107. The increased expenditure on the Main Eastern Canal is owing to the closure of that canal from the 11th of April to the 30th of June for the purpose of clearing the silt which had accumulated in its bed. This was effected by hand, 44½ lakhs of cubic feet of silt having been removed; at the same time 56½ lakhs were taken out of the Patna Canal. The Main Western Canal was not closed during the year, and the decreased costs of maintenance is due to no expenditure being incurred on silt clearance by hand.

108. The Superintending Engineer gives the amounts entered in the table below as the average cost of maintaining the canals and distributaries in the circle :—

	Rs.
The Eastern Main Canal costs to maintain ...	3,128 per mile.
„ Western Main Canal (Arrah division) ...	5,828 ditto.
„ Ditto (Buxar do.) ...	234 ditto.
„ Other main canals—
Arrah and Patna divisions ...	407 to 413 ditto.
Buxar division ...	243 ditto.
„ Branch canals ...	86 to 183 ditto.
„ Distributary channels ...	44 to 74 ditto.

109. The total quantity of silt removed from the canals by dredgers was 61,35,619 cubic feet. Details shewing the quantity excavated and cost for each canal are appended:—

	Cubic feet.	Cost.	Rate.
		Rs.	Rs.	A.	P.
Eastern Main Canal ...	11,77,214	4,052	3	7	0
Patna Canal ...	56,24,979	14,575	2	9	5

Head lock, Dehree ...	72,073	213	2	15	6
Arrah Canal ...	5,58,643	3,603	8	11	5

The rate in the case of the Main Western Canal is high, as it includes the cost of removing the silt from the barges, carrying it over a high spoil bank, and depositing it on the berm beyond.

110. The cost of weed clearance during the year was Rs. 8,965 only against Rs. 14,377 in 1882-83, and Rs. 21,163 in 1881-82.

Note.—The account shewing the accumulated charges for interest is not included in accordance with the Government of India, Public Works Department, Circular No. IV, P. W., dated 1st May 1884.

112. The receipts from these canals for the year were Rs. 5,014 in excess of that previous, and the working expenses Rs. 10,882 less, the result being a deficit in the year's operation of Rs. 1,025, against Rs. 16,921 in 1882-83. The income earned by these canals is entirely derived from a guarantee amounting to Rs. 23,000 given by the landholders interested, who manage the irrigation within the limits of their own dehats, receiving water-rates not exceeding one rupee per acre from the cultivators.

113. The area irrigated during the year is returned by the Collector of Sarun as 21,121 acres, and Rs. 5,030 is noted in the guarantors' returns as the amount recovered by them.

114. The rainfall table below, extracted from the Superintending Engineer's report, shows that in September and October the rainfall was deficient, and canal water accordingly valuable:—

115. The operations of the year are described by the Executive Engineer, Mr. Faulkner, as follows:—

"Grave fears were entertained that the rice and rubber crops would fail, as there was not the usual rainfall in September and the early part of October. Early in October applications came in fast from the ryots for water from the canals. As usual, the ryots held off till the last moment, expecting the rain would come daily. To irrigate the country thoroughly, is necessary to throw the water from the Rupan Chap Sota into the canals by stopping off the discharge in the Sota. Great efforts were made in October to effect this object, but the discharge in the Sota was greater than could be carried off by the canals, and it was not until the 27th of the month, after four previous unsuccessful attempts, that a bund was thrown across. By this time it was too late for the rice crops on the lower canals, i.e., the Gandaki, Dhanai, and the Gangni. It was possible, however, to irrigate from the Daha through the Sota in October, and later from the head cut, and a large tract was irrigated in a rough-and-ready way by constructing dams with escape channels at every two miles or so, which threw the water over the country. A small area of rubber was damaged by this means, but the rice crops received water and were saved."

116. These canals are not provided with distributaries, and when water is required temporary dams are thrown across the Sota, an old river channel. There is a disposition on the part of the guarantors to arrange for the construction of permanent weirs and distributaries, but the branch of the river Gunduck, on which the head sluice is situated, shows signs of closing up, and it is not considered advisable to incur further expenditure until the course which the main stream will take is more fully apparent.

CALCUTTA AND EASTERN CANALS.

117. THESE canals are managed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, who submit a separate yearly report on their administration, that for 1883-84 was reviewed in this Department resolution of date the 28th November 1884.

Capital and revenue accounts were opened on the 1st of April 1883, and the following is an abstract of these accounts up to the 1st April 1884:—

	Rs.
Capital cost—
Direct charges	51,92,444
Indirect charges	59,090
Grand total ..	52,51,534
Receipts to the 1st April 1884	1,75,62,487
Working expenses—
Direct charges	63,70,953
Indirect charges ..	1,34,007
	65,04,960
Charges for interest . .	(a) 65,61,871
	1,30,66,831
Balance net revenue . .	44,95,656

(a) Interest is calculated pro forma. It is not exhibited in the Administrative account under Government of India public Works Department Circular No. 4P—W, dated 1st May 1884.

These accounts have not yet been finally approved, there has been considerable difficulty in determining the distribution of the capital and revenue charges, and it is only since 1861-62 that the accounts have been kept in this Department.

118. The canals have so far been a very profitable undertaking, and it is proposed to extend their usefulness by carrying out several urgently required improvements, partly in connection with the new Kidderpore Docks. About 65 lakhs of rupees will be required, and some arrangement by which the cost of these works can be met from funds obtained by loan will be necessary, as during the last six years the canals have, after crediting receipts, cost the province Rs. 7,75,777, whilst really earning Rs. 2,38,701, besides working expenses and interest charges.

119. The gross revenue of the year shews a slight decrease of Rs. 93 compared with that preceding; this is attributable to the partial failure of the jute and rice crops of 1883 in the districts served by the canal; in the remaining items of traffic there has been an increase due to the great improvements, which have recently been made in the canals: the tollage in the two articles mentioned above was Rs. 76,457 less than that received in 1882-83.

The revenue accounts for the two years are contrasted below:—

	Receipts.	Working expenses, direct and indirect.	Interest charges.	Net revenue.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1882-83	5,64,194	3,26,897	3,26,897	2,37,297
1883-84	5,64,101	2,32,031	2,32,031	3,32,070

The diminution in working expenses is due to the maintenance charges being confined mostly to repairs; in 1882-83 several improvements, notably widening the canal between Dhappa and the railway bridge, and replacing the suspension by girder bridges, were carried out and charged to the revenue account of the canals.

120. The table following gives detailed information regarding the traffic passed through the canals during 1882-83, and the year now under review.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different parts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 27th December 1884

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIV.	1 Burdwan, Dec. 27 '84	Nil	Weather—cool and cloudy. Amun paddy continues to be harvested; outturn varies from 2 to 12 annas. Sugarcane and rubbee crops continue to be promising. Common rice is generally selling at from 15 to 18 seers per rupee. General health is on the whole good. A few cases of fever are reported from three thanas of the Sudder sub-division.
	Cutwa ...	0.16
	Ranigunge ...	0.07
	2 Bankoora, " 27 "	Nil
	3 Beerbhoom, " 27 "	A few drops of rain fell one day.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	4 Midnapore, " 27 "	0.01	Weather—cloudy, cold, and fine. Amun paddy is being reaped. There was a slight fall of rain in some places in the interior, but enough as to do any good to the crops, which are, however, getting on fairly well. Sugarcane cultivation getting on well; in the Nulhati police station it is being cut. In the Rampore Haut sub-division harvesting of amun paddy is nearly completed. The other winter crops are doing well. Price of new rice is still high. Public health good, except a few cases of fever and cholera in some parts of the district.
	5 Hooghly, " 27 "	Nil
	Howrah, " 29 "	Nil
	Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIV.	6 24-Perghs. Dec. 29 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable, but cloudy towards the latter part of the week. Prospects of standing crops continue satisfactory. Amun paddy is being harvested with an outturn decidedly over an average crop. Public health is generally good, though isolated cases of cholera and fever are reported from the Diamond Harbour and Bassirhat sub-divisions.
	7 Nuddea, " 27 "	Nil
	8 Khoolna, " 27 "	Nil
	9 Jessore, " 27 "	Nil
	10 Moorshedabad, " 27 "	0.13
RAJSHAHY DIV.	11 Dinagepore, Dec. 26 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of amun paddy still continues, fair outturn is expected, except in Patnitala thana, in which the outturn of paddy is very poor indeed. The prospects of other crops good. Rice selling at from 11 to 16 seers per rupee.
	12 Rajshahye, " 27 "	Nil
	13 Rungpore, " 27 "	Nil
	14 Bogra, " 27 "	Nil

BENGAL. — conold Eastern Districts.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	22 Chittagong, Dec. 29 '84	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops good. Harvesting of amun paddy nearly finished with about a twelve-anna outturn. Prices of food-grains stationary. Sporadic cases of cholera throughout the district.
	23 Noakholly, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; clear with occasional foggy mornings. Amun paddy is still being reaped. Prospects of rubbee crops fair. Cholera reported from the interior.
	24 Tipperah, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of crops continue to be favourable; outturn of amun paddy is estimated at 12 annas. Rubbee crops are flourishing. Prices of food-grains slightly falling. Cholera abating, and public health in other respects good.
	25 Chittagong Hill „ 23 „ Tracts.	Nil	Weather—seasonable, foggy in the mornings. Transplanting of tobacco is over. Sugarcane and other cold-weather crops are doing well. Paddy is being harvested.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—cold. Reaping of amun paddy nearly over with good outturn. Sowing of mustard, chillies and tobacco also nearly over. A few sporadic cases of cholera here and there, otherwise public health good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, Dec. 27 '84	Nil	Weather—cloudy during the latter part of the week. Harvesting of paddy a jowar still continues. Rahur and mustard look well. Prospects of rubbee crops good. Rain wanted in some places. Poppy crop is growing well. Public health good.
	27 Gaya, „ 27 „	Slight rain.	Weather—cloudy. Harvesting of paddy proceeding. The prospects of rubbee crops excellent; poppy crop also in a satisfactory state. Health good.
	28 Shahabad, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cold and cloudy. Prospects of rubbee crops favourable. Sugarcane pressing is still going on. Poppy crop is reported to be excellent and is well advanced for the season.
	29 Durbhunga, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of paddy continues. Rubbee crops coming on well. Rahur and mustard are flowering. Rain is wanted in some places. Tobacco and poppy crops look very promising. Prices of rice stationary. Prospects of other grains slightly falling. Public health good.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Harvesting of paddy still going on and a moderate outturn is expected. Prospects of both rubbee and opium crops continue favourable. Public health good.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	31 Sarun, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—bright and seasonable. Paddy is being harvested. Prospects of rubbee crops continue good. Condition of the poppy crop is excellent, young plants are looking very healthy. Prices falling. Public health good.
	32 Chumparun „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of standing crops continue good. Aghani paddy is being reaped. Prospects of poppy crop good. Public health fair. A few cases of fever are reported from the interior.
	33 Monghyr, Dec. 27 '84	Nil	Aghani paddy is being reaped; the outturn is estimated at 8 to 10 annas. Rubbee crops promising. Poppy crop is doing well. Public health good.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warmer than usual. Paddy is being cut. Rubbee crops are generally very good, but a little rain would do much good. Prices stationary. Public health good.
	35 Purneah, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable; rain wanted. Aghani paddy nearly a full crop in the Kishengunge sub-division, a little over half in the Arrareah sub-division, and very little in the Sudder sub-division. Winter crops very good in the Sudder and the Arrareah sub-divisions, but they are little grown in the Kishengunge sub-division.
	36 Maldah, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cold and fair. Harvesting of winter paddy continues; average outturn is not expected to be more than an eight-anna crop. Price of common rice ranges from 12 to 16 seers per rupee. Prospects of rubbee crops still not bright. Cholera has made its appearance at places in the interior; otherwise general health good.
	37 Sonthal Pergahs. „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy for one or two days of the week. Cutting of aghani paddy now well advanced. Prospects of rubbee crops good, but they would be improved by a fall of rain.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN.	38 Cuttack, Dec. 26 '84	0.38	Weather—cool and cloudy at times. Reaping of saral on low land has gone on everywhere with an average outturn. The rain on the 23rd injured rubbee crops to some extent. Common rice selling at from 16 to 20 seers per rupee in the town and 25 seers, on an average, in the interior. Public health generally good, except that a few cases of intermittent fever are reported from the interior.
	39 Pooree, „ 25 „	0.38	Weather—getting cooler. Harvesting of saral continues; dalia crops thriving. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Common rice selling on an average at 24 seers 3 chittak per rupee in the Sudder sub-division and 26 seers 1 chittak in the Khorda sub-division. Cholera still prevails.
	40 Balasore „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy. Reaping of paddy nearly finished, threshing has commenced. Sporadic cases of cholera and fever still continue in the interior.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.	41 Hazaribagh, Dec. 26 '84	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. Cutting of paddy nearly over. Rubbee crops doing well. Prospects of poppy in irrigated tracts good. Common rice selling at from 13 to 17 seers per rupee. General health good.
	42 Loharagga, „ 27 „	0.10	Weather—cloudy for the last day or two. Rain wanted for rubbee crops. Palamow. Outturn of winter paddy in the Sudder sub-division is estimated at 14 annas. Prices stationary on the whole. Health good.
	43 Singbhoom, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—bright and warm. Harvesting of paddy finished; outturn excellent. Cold-weather crops are doing well. General health good.
	44 Manbhoom, „ 27 „	0.08	Weather—cool and seasonable. Rain fell on the 23rd instant. Paddy nearly all reaped; outturn seems best in the west and south of the district; worst in pergunnah Bagda and in the neighbourhood (south-east); on the average, a 12-anna crop may be secured. Sugarcane and other spring crops promising. Coarse rice sold on the 27th instant in the Purulia market at 22½ seers per rupee. Cattle disease reported from Purulia and Ichagar.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Bockley's anemograph.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 26TH DECEMBER 1884.

At the close of the previous week, a small cyclonic storm, which had generated in the south of the Bay, had passed across the Southern Madras coast, and, with the inrush of moist winds following in its path, had given very heavy rainfall over the south of the Peninsula. The strong monsoon thus blowing on the Madras coast had rather intensified the north-east monsoon conditions in Bengal, and at the commencement of the present week, all the conditions were favourable for the continuance of the previous well defined characters of the present cold weather, which has hitherto been marked by abnormally low temperatures, especially at night, and extremely high barometric pressure.

On the first day in the week (the 20th) pressure increased very rapidly in Bengal, and it was then extremely high, but at the same time rainfall and wind velocities commenced to decrease on the Madras coast, showing that the strength of the monsoon was decreasing, and on the 21st a rapid fall of the barometer commenced in Bengal, which was attended by a corresponding increase of temperature. The falling barometer and increasing temperature continued on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th, and from well understood causes during this period of falling barometer, skies clouded over, particularly in Orissa, and also in South-West Bengal and in Chutia Nagpur, and light rain was reported on the 23rd and 24th from most of the stations in Orissa, and at a few stations in South-West Bengal, North Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. The rapid fall of the barometer was, however, succeeded on the 25th by a partial recovery, which was followed again on the 26th by a further decrease of pressure. The changes of temperature during these two days were small and variable, but with the increase of pressure noted on the 25th, skies again cleared and rain ceased to fall.

Pressure—Was, as noticed above, very high, and indeed far above the normal at the commencement of the week under review, but it then experienced a steady fall for four days, succeeded by a slight rise, and then another fall. The mean for the week has therefore not been far removed from the normal pressure, and for the whole Province there has been only the slight excess of 0.01". The excess was, however, greatest, as has previously been the case, in Behar, and least in South-West Bengal and Orissa. The extreme variations from the mean pressure were an excess of 0.035" at Durbhanga, and a defect of 0.013" at False Point. This comparatively large excess pressure in Behar has been a prominent feature in the meteorology of Bengal for the past few weeks.

Temperature—Was in the previous week almost equal to the normal, but as pointed out before, for four days in the week, at almost all stations temperature steadily increased, so that the mean for the week has, in most cases, been decidedly in excess of the normal. Thus Calcutta and a great part of South-West Bengal show an excess of between 2° and 3°, while the average excess for the whole province was about 1°. The increase in temperature has again been most marked in the night temperatures, and the following table, which gives the actual and normal mean maximum and minimum temperatures at eight stations, shows clearly that, while the day temperatures in Bengal have on the average been almost exactly normal for the past week, the night temperatures have averaged 2.8° in excess of the normal:—

For the week ending 26th December 1884.

Rainfall—Was practically confined to the two days, the 23rd and 24th, and was general at the Orissa stations, while it also occurred at a few stations in South-West and North Bengal and in Chutia Nagpur. The atmosphere over Northern India was generally disturbed on these two days, and light rain fell in the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, and Central Provinces, though not perhaps in such large amounts as usual. The rainfall in Orissa, in no instance, amounted to more than a few tenths of an inch, the largest falls occurring in the Pooree and Cuttack districts. The average rainfall over the whole of Orissa only amounted to 0.27 inch, while the maximum amount received appears to have been at Jagatsingpore, which reported 0.82 inch in the two days. MEMORANDA.

BIRTHS and deaths were registered in the first-class Municipalities in Bengal during the week ending 13th December 1884, at the rates respectively, of 26.9 and 39.1 per 1,000 of population, against 26.5 and 37.6 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 6th December, indicating an improvement in the regulation of deaths.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths:—

Births.			Deaths.
		Ratio per mille.			Ratio per mille.
Monghyr	...	91.3	Serampore	...	160.9
Comillah	...	50.1	Purneah	...	65.7
Durbhanga	...	37.7	Poori	...	59.8
Ranaghat	...	36.0	Suburbs of Calcutta	...	50.9

			Beaulah	...	34.1
			Monghyr	...	33.4
			Howrah	...	31.6
			Burdwan	...	20.5
			Durbhanga	...	29.9

3. The principal diseases specified in the table appended to this memoranda proved fatal at the rates exhibited below:—

			Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
			13th December 1884.	6th December 1884.
Cholera	5.3	3.9
Small-pox3	.3
Fever	18.4	18.1
Bowel-complaints	6.1	5.5
Injury1	.4
Other causes	8.9	9.4

The only noticeable fact disclosed by the above figs is that the mortality from cholera had increased sensibly.

4. Of the above-named diseases, cholera, or, bowel-complaints, and the diseases classed under the head of "Other causes" were notably fatal to life in the following Municipalities:—

Cholera.		Fever.		Bowel-complaints.		Other Causes.
	Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.		Ratio per mille.
